SALE OF STATE LANDS.

By an act of the last General Assembly, approved March 11, 1875, the Governor, Secretary and Auditor of State, were authorized to sell and convey certain lands belonging to the State. The Board so constituted by this act, met and organized on the 13th of May last, and proceeded to have the lands appraised as provided for by said act. The appraisement has not yet been completed. Of the lands appraised, the Board has succeeded in selling, at their appraised value, the south-east quarter of the south-east quarter section six, township thirty, range three west, in Pulaski county: also, one acre in out lot number twenty-eight, Clarksville, Clark county. This lot was purchased by the State for a grave yard for the State Prison South, and has been partially used for that purpose. Before conveyance to the purchaser, the Board required that a written agreement be entered into, providing that the part of the lot used as a grave yard, should not be occupied until after the Legislature had an opportunity to provide for the removal of the bodies buried there.

DISTRIBUTION OF LAWS AND PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

During the year there has been distributed by this office, five volumes of the Supreme Court Reports, ten thousand copies of the Acts of the General Assembly, Regular and Special Sessions, 1875, sixteen hundred copies each, of the Senate and House Journals, sixteen hundred copies of the Documentary Journal, 1873-4, two thousand copies proceedings State Board of Equalization, 1875, and three hundred copies Acts Congress, Sessions 1873-4.

There was some delay in procuring the Acts of the last General Assembly from the printer for distribution. The cause of this delay will be fully explained by the following correspondence:

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 13.

JOHN FISHBACK,

President Sentinel Company:

The following note having been addressed to me by his Excellency, the Governor, I very respectfully request that you will furnish me with the information desired.

Most respectfully yours,

JOHN E. NEFF.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 13, 1875.

THE HON. JOHN E. NEEF,

Secretary of State:

I desire to be informed when the laws passed at the late Regular and Special Sessions will be printed and bound, ready for distribution, and why they could not have been ready for delivery at an earlier day.

Very Respectfully,

THOS. A. HENDRICKS.

THE REASON WHY.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 13, 1875.

TO THE HON. JOHN E. NEFF,

Secretary of State:

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your request of the 13th inst., we beg to submit the following: Since the adjournment of the Legislature in the middle of March, the Indianapolis Sentinel Company has completed and delivered the following State printing:

State Agricultural Reports.....	336 pp.	5,000 vols.
Horticultural Report.....	152 pp.	2,000 vols.
New School Law.....	160 pp.	6,000 vols.
Two Volumes Documentary Journal.....	2,072 pp.	3,000 vols.
Indiana State University Report.....	96 pp.	7,000 vols.
House Journals (2 vols.) each	800 pp.	3,200 vols.
State Normal School Report.....	46 pp.	4,500 vols.

Total Volumes.....30,700

In addition to the above we will begin next week to deliver 10,000 volumes of 384 pages each, of the Laws of Indiana, all of which, except the index, is now in type, and in process of binding. We also have 5,000 copies of Geological Reports, except the index, all in type. One thousand copies Purdue University Report, 32 pages, is now in type and delayed on account of proof reading. The Senate Journal, 1,600 copies, (250 pages is in type) will contain, when complete, 1,600 pages, is being delayed because the Assistant Secretary of the Senate did not read and return the proof promptly. Believing that the chief complaint arises from the non-publication of the Laws, we desire to submit the following to show that the present delay is neither unreasonable nor unusual. In considering the memoranda below, please remember the Special Session of the Legislature of this year which caused a delay of eight days that was not experienced in the former years. In 1869, the Laws containing only 221 pages, were delivered to counties August 16. In 1871, they contained only 149 pages and were delivered July 10. In 1873, they contained 328 pages and were delivered July 7. This year the volume contains 384 pages, and in consideration of the delay occasioned by the extra session of the Legislature, difficulties encountered in proof reading, and the additional matter published, we respectfully submit that as the work is now very near completion, it has been accomplished with more than ordinary promptness. Taking into consideration the quantity of other work done for the State, we believe that no other establishment in the State could have done it so promptly.

Respectfully yours,

INDIANAPOLIS SENTINEL COMPANY.

I am of the opinion that much of the unnecessary delay in the publication of the Senate and House Journals could be prevented if the Legislature would provide that the preparing of the same for the printer, together with the indexing and proof reading, be done by this office, and not by the clerks of the two Houses. If such provision was made, not only would the work be better and more speedily done, but at one half the expense.

ENROLLMENT OF BILLS.

I desire to call the attention of your Excellency to the careless manner in which the Enrolled Acts of the last General Assembly were prepared. They were full of mistakes, and in some instances, hardly intelligible, whole sections of the original acts, as passed, were left out and had to be supplied after the bills reached this office. It is from these Enrolled Bills that the printed laws are copied, and are the laws on file in this office, and it is therefore of the utmost importance that they be free from error, and perfectly intelligible.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS.

Sixty-three of the sixty-nine Internal Improvement Bonds, held by the general government, which fell due on the first of last July, were presented to the State Treasurer at that date, for payment.

The Board, as constituted by the act of December 12, 1872, for the purpose of taking up and redeeming these bonds, was called together by the Governor, and, upon examination, the bonds, together with the coupons, were allowed, and their payment ordered. This leaves outstanding of the old Internal Improvement Bonds, thirty-one, six of which are held by the general government, and are not yet due; the other twenty-five are held by parties in London, and in all probability will be presented for payment at an early day.

THE CLAIM OF MESSRS. BRADEN & BURFORD FOR STATIONERY.

The 10th section of the Specific Appropriation Bill, passed by the last General Assembly, provides that the long disputed claim of Messrs. Braden & Burford, for stationery furnished Mr. James DeSanno, State Librarian in 1872, be referred to the Governor, Secretary and Auditor of State, for settlement. After a full examination of the matter, they were allowed the sum of twelve hundred and eighty-three dollars. Upon the allowance of their claim, I had the stationery transferred to this office, and it is now in my custody.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

The General Assembly of 1873, abolished the office of Public Printer, and adjourned without providing any specified mode for doing the work further than by resolution authorizing the Secretary of State, with the advice and consent of the chairmen of the Printing Committees of the two Houses, to contract with some suitable person to do such printing as may be authorized by law, until such time as other provision shall be made. This was done, and all printing for the use of the General Assembly, including the Laws and the Journals of the House and Senate for 1873, were printed under the contract so made.

There having been no provision made for printing the annual reports of the State officers and public institutions, for the year 1873, the Governor, under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of Indiana, approved February 5, 1853, (1st vol. G. & H., p. 538,) with the consent of the Secretary of State, received bids for doing the printing and binding of these reports, awarding the contract to the lowest and best responsible bidder. This contract was entered into on the third day of November, 1873. The contract price for doing the work having proved so favorable, in comparison with prices formerly paid, it was deemed advisable, and to the interest of the State, that a new contract for printing the reports of 1874, be entered into with the same parties, and at the same prices. The parties having the contract, have, so far as I have been able to discover, faithfully performed their work, and in accordance with their contract.

The General Assembly of 1875 (Acts R. S., p. 184,) also, by resolution, authorized the Secretary of State, with the advice and consent of the Chairman of the Printing Committees of the two Houses, to contract with some suitable person to do such printing as may be authorized by law, until such time as other provision shall be made for doing the same; and in accordance with said resolution, I contracted, with the advice and consent of the Chairmen of the Committees of both Houses, for doing the needed printing for use of the General Assembly, including the Laws and the Journals for the House and Senate for 1875. This contract was made after examining the propositions of several publishers, and was awarded the lowest and best responsible bidder.

At the Special Session, 1875, an act to provide for the Public Printing and Binding, approved March 13th, was passed, organizing a Bureau of Public Printing and Stationery, making the Governor, Secretary of State, and Auditor of State, ex-officio, Commissioners of the Public Printing and Binding, and defining their duties in regard to the same.

In accordance with the provisions of the law, the Board of Commissioners, on the 5th day of May, 1875, appointed Mr. C. P. Hutchinson as their clerk, who has charge of the Bureau of Public Printing and Stationery, under the direction of the Commissioners, and whose duties require that he shall measure, count, weigh and compute all matters and things pertaining to the public printing, binding and stationery, as such Commissioners shall order and require.

The Commissioners also, had printed classifications prepared, as complete as it was possible to make them, of all the work required for two years, for the use of the State, from the 1st day of July, 1875, and advertised for proposals for doing the same, in five public newspapers published in this State, for three successive weeks preceding the first day of July. Propositions from seven of the leading publishing houses of the State were received by the Board, and after a careful and thorough examination of the same, it was the unanimous opinion of the Commissioners that the proposition of the Indianapolis Sentinel Company was the best and most favorable bid for the interests of the State, and awarded that Company the Contract for doing the public printing and binding, and furnishing the stationery for the two years commencing the 1st day of July, 1875, and on the 14th day of July the following contract was entered into with said Company :

Contract with Indianapolis Sentinel Company.

This agreement, made and entered into this fourteenth day of July, 1875, by and between the State of Indiana, by Thomas A. Hendricks, Governor, Ebenezer Henderson, Auditor, and John E. Neff, Secretary of State, Board of Commissioners of Printing and Binding of the first part, and the Indianapolis Sentinel Company of the second part, witnesseth :

That the said party of the first part, after a full examination and comparison of bids made by the party of the second part, and other like responsible parties, to do the printing, binding and furnishing the stationery for the State officers, the managers of the public institutions of the State, and for Legislative purposes, for two (2) years from the first day of July, 1875, according to specifications hereto attached, and made part of this contract, has this day found the proposition of the said party of the second part, to do and furnish the same, to be, in the aggregate, lower than that of either of said other parties, and does now accept the same.

 General Circular, No. 2.

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

Office of the Secretary of State,

Indianapolis, October 1, 1875.

“An Act to further prescribe the duties of the Secretary of State, and to provide for the necessary arrangements, clerks and expenses of his office," approved March 10, 1873, (Acts of 1873, p. 191), requires that the Secretary of State organize the business of his office into four bureaus, of which one is to be called The Bureau of Public Printing and Stationery. The Act also makes the Secretary of State ex-officio Secretary of all the boards and commissions composed of State officers of which he is a member. "An Act to provide for the public printing and binding," approved March 13, 1875, (Acts of 1875, p. 66,) creates a board of commissioners composed of the Governor, Secretary of State, and Auditor of State, and requires that they "shall cause the public printing and binding to be executed in the manner provided by law." It also authorizes the appointment of a person expert in the business of printing and binding as a clerk in charge of The Bureau of Public Printing and Stationery, to whom shall be entrusted, under the direction of the Board, the details of the business pertaining to the bureau. The Board is now organized with Mr. C. P. Hutchinson as its clerk. A contract for furnishing the paper and executing the printing and binding of the State for two years from July 1, 1875, has been let; and henceforth the law governing these matters is as follows: "Sec. 6. That all the printing and binding authorized by law, at the expense of the State, and chargeable to the appropriations for public printing, shall be executed through the commissioners and clerk in this act before named, and all laws authorizing printing or binding by any officer or institution, to be chargeable to said appropriation, shall be construed to mean that the printing and binding of such officer or institution shall be done through such commissioners." The system of business adopted by the Board requires the officer or institution having need for either printing or binding to fill up and sign a requisition therefor, and file it, with the copy, or matter for binding, with the clerk of the Board. It will then be considered and acted upon by the Board. When ordered and completed, through the agency of the Bureau and the contractor, the printed, or bound, matter will be received at this office by the officer asking the same, and properly receipted for by him upon the back of the requisition.

Section 34 of the Act now in force, fixing fees and salaries, (Acts 1875, p. 46) constitutes the Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State, a board of commissioners for the procurement and furnishing of stationery for certain of the public offices. The form of business adopted is substantially the same as that for printing and binding.

Blank requisitions can be procured by officers needing them from the clerk of the bureau.

By order the Board.

JOHN E. NEFF,
Secretary.

ATTEST :

C. P. HUTCHINSON,
Clerk of Bureau Public Printing and Stationery.

By adopting this system of doing business, it seems to me to be impossible for any errors to occur in the auditing or payment of accounts, chargeable to the public printing or stationery of the State. From an examination of the prices heretofore paid for material and work done for the State, and from the caution that is now required to be used in ordering and receiving the work, it being almost impossible that mistakes should be made in aggregating the actual prices to be paid, and the low rates at which the contract is made, at least 20 per cent. lower than it has been done for, I am satisfied there will be a great saving to the Treasury of the State in this important and necessarily large branch of the public business.

The Auditor's books show that there was paid, on account of Public Printing, from November 1, 1871, to October 31, 1873, (two years), $87,887.00, and from commencement of the contract made by the Governor, November 1, 1873, to October 31, 1875, (two years), there was paid $65,908.71, a saving to the State, for two years printing, of $21,978.29, thus showing that under the contract system, adopted for the past two years, while it was not so well guarded as through the present law, there has been a great saving in the expense of public printing, over the system of doing the work direct through a public printer, and I am satisfied, that under the present contract and system of doing the Public Printing, that the cost of the same for the next two years, will not exceed fifty thousand dollars.

In conclusion, upon this subject, it is but due to say, that the thorough systematizing this important branch of the public service has received, is the result of the labors of Mr. Samuel R. Downey, the Private Secretary of the Governor, and Mr. Charles P. Hutchinson, the Clerk of the Board of Public Printing and Stationery.

CONCLUSION.

Before concluding this report, I desire to acknowledge the valuable services received from Mr. Thos. J. Trusler, former deputy in this office. I desire, also, to bear testimony to the faithful services of my assistants, Col. G. W. H. Riley, and Mr. Wm. A. Peelle, Jr. For several months after the commencement of my term, I was prevented by continued ill health from doing any labor whatever and the entire duties of the office devolved upon them, and I have reason to believe that they performed their duties promptly and efficiently.

Most respectfully submitted,

JNO. E. NEFF,

Secretary of State.

PROCLAMATION OF THANKSGIVING,

BY THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Governor of Indiana.

Given November 4, A. D. 1874:

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

The President of the United States has appointed Thursday, November twenty-sixth, 1874, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God. As Governor of the State of Indiana, I recommend to the people thereof a general and proper observance of that day.

Together with the people of the other States, we have occasion to be thankful for many blessings, but in a special degree, the people of this State should be grateful for the abundant harvests that have rewarded their labors. In their prayers to God, and by acts of beneficence, I ask them to remember the people of the stricken portions of our country, in which drouth and devastating insects have brought want and suffering.

[SEAL.]

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State to be affixed hereto, at the city of Indianapolis, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and of the State the fifty-eighth.

I, Thomas A. Hendricks, Governor of the State of Indiana, do hereby issue this, my proclamation, and call upon the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, to convene, in Special Session, on Tuesday, March 9, A. D., 1875, at nine o'clock in the forenoon.

[SEAL.]

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused to be affixed, the Seal of the State, at the city of Indianapolis.

REGULATIONS AND FORMS
EXECUTIVE PRACTICE.

To secure accuracy in the transaction of the public business and uniformity in the records of the Executive Department, regulations and forms have, from time to time, been adopted and are published in this permanent form for convenient reference.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

The statute authorizing the appointment of notaries public, requires that persons shall be appointed to the office upon a certificate of qualification and moral character from the Judge of the Circuit Court of their counties, respectively, (1 G. & H., p. 445). When a notary public removes from the county in which he resided at the time he was appointed, he thereby vacates his office. (Opinions of Attorney General, 1873, p. 14.) A new certificate is necessary as the basis of an appointment in another county.

[FORM 1.]

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

_____ County.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,

The Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—I respectfully request that I be appointed and commissioned a Notary Public, resident and qualified in this county with the jurisdiction and powers conferred by the Acts of June 9, 1852, and February 12, 1855. In support of my application, I submit herewith a certificate of my qualifications and moral character from the Judge of the Circuit Court of the county, as required by the statute.

Dated at _____,
_____, 187 .

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,

The Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—I hereby certify that _____, of _____ county, is a person of good moral character and qualified to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of a notary public.

Judge of the _____ Circuit Court.

Dated at _____,
_____, 187 .

Commissions in renewal of an appointment are issued at the expiration of a term without a new certificate where a sufficient certificate remains on file as a part of the record of the former appointment and the applicant continues a resident of the same county.

COMMISSIONERS OF DEEDS.

A person asking an appointment as a Commissioner of Deeds of this State, resident in any other State, or Territory, or in any foreign country, must furnish to the Governor satisfactory proof of his character and qualifications. The recommendation of the Governor of the State, or Territory, in which he resides is desirable as being the best evidence. Commissions in renewal of an appointment are issued upon application and the presumed good character and qualifications of the appointee of a former administration.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

Vacancies in the office of Justice of the Peace are filled by appointment of the Board of Commissioners of the county in which they may occur. The appointment may be properly certified as follows:

[FORM 2.]

THE STATE OF INDIANA.

_____ County.

Be it Remembered, That at a _____ meeting of the Board of Commissioners of _____ County, held at _____, on the _____ day of _____, A. D., 187—, present Messrs. _____, _____ and _____, Commissioners, The following proceedings were had:

(Copy the order verbatim.)

I, _____, Auditor of _____ County, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and complete copy of the order of appointment of _____ as a Justice of the Peace to fill a vacancy under authority of the Act of March 10, 1875, as the same appears upon the record of proceedings in my custody.

WITNESS, The seal of the Board of Commissioners of the County and my signature, at _____, this _____ day of _____, 187—.

Auditor.

REQUISITIONS FOR FUGITIVES.

In order that due care may be exercised in granting requisitions on the Governors of other States, for the apprehension of fugitives from the justice of this State, the following regulations have been adopted:

The application should be in writing, addressed to the Governor, and should contain a statement, in plain and concise language, of the facts in the case, and of the reasons why, in the opinion of the applicant, a requisition should be issued. It should nominate a proper person to be appointed as the agent to receive the fugitive when apprehended, giving his residence and his official character, if any he have. It should be accompanied by a duly certified copy of the indictment, if one has been found against the offender. If no indictment has been found, there should be furnished a certified copy of a sufficient affidavit made and pending before a magistrate in the county where the alleged offence was committed. It should appear from a certificate of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, that the Magistrate is an acting Justice of the Peace, in and for the county. The application should be accompanied, also, by an affidavit that the person charged is a fugitive from justice; that is, that he has fled from the State to avoid arrest; and should show, particularly as may be, the time and circumstances of his flight, and in what State or Territory he is ; that he fled from the State before an arrest could be made ; and that the ends of justice require that he be brought back to this State for trial. The opinion of the Prosecuting Attorney of the Circuit as to the propriety of granting the requisition, should also be furnished.

Requisitions will be granted only upon the express condition inserted therein, that the State will pay no part of the expenses incurred in the pursuit and arrest of the fugitive.

The purpose in granting requisitions is to aid in the administration of the criminal law. No requisition will be issued to aid in collecting a debt, or enforcing a civil remedy against a person who has left the State. In all cases of false pretences, embezzlement and similar crimes, affirmative evidence, in the form of affidavits, will be required that the real object is not the collection of a private debt.

As notaries public are not magistrates within the meaning of the Federal law, no requisition will be granted upon an affidavit made before a notary public. The law of Congress clearly contemplates an affidavit made in the county where the crime is alleged to have been committed, and before a magistrate having authority to hear the charge when the fugitive shall have been returned by such process to make answer thereto.

If the offense is not of recent occurrence, sufficient reasons must be given why the application has been delayed. In no case will a requisition for an offender be granted at the same time upon the Governor of more than one State. Duplicates of all papers necessary upon the application, must be furnished, that one set may be retained in this department, and the other attached to the requisition ; though but one set need be certified.

[FORM 3.]

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,

The Governor of Indiana.

I respectfully ask that you issue a requisition to the Governor of the State of ——— for the apprehension and rendition of ——— who stands charged by an ——— pending in the ——— Court with the crime of ——— committed in ——— county, but who has, since the commission of said offense and before an arrest could be made upon process issued by said court and with a view of avoiding the same, fled from the justice of the State of Indiana, and into the said State of ——— where I believe he now may be found.

The ends of justice, in my opinion, require that he be brought back to this State for trial. I herewith present a duly certified copy of the original ——— now on file in the office of ——— in said county. In my opinion, the facts stated in said ——— are true and I believe that the prosecution of the said ——— would result in his conviction of the crime charged. I nominate ———, of ———, as a proper person to be appointed and commissioned by you as the agent of the State of Indiana to receive the said fugitive when he shall be apprehended and bring him to this State and deliver him into the custody of the sheriff of said county. The requisition asked for said fugitive is not sought for the purpose of collecting a debt, or enforcing a civil remedy, or to answer any other private end whatever.

Dated at ———, ——— 187—

THE STATE OF INDIANA, ——— COUNTY.

I, ———, being duly sworn, on my oath say that the facts stated in the foregoing application are true.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this — day of —, 187 —.

To the Governor:

In my opinion it would be proper for Your Excellency to issue the requisition asked.

Prosecuting Attorney.

PARDONS.

In order that due care may be observed in the exercise of the pardoning power, the following rules have been adopted, viz:

1st. Petitions for pardon should set forth all the facts of the case, and state the grounds upon which the pardon is asked; and should be accompanied by recommendations of officers and citizens of the county in which the conviction took place; and if the offense was committed in a county different from that in which the trial occurred, there should also be recommendations from officers and citizens of the county in which the offense was committed.

2d. A statement of the substance of the evidence certified by the Judge who presided at the trial, or the Prosecuting Attorney who conducted the prosecution, must also be furnished.

3d. If a statement of the substance of the evidence can not be obtained from the Judge or Prosecutor, the reason why it can not be obtained should be stated, and then a statement of any other officer or credible person, (verified by affidavit,) who heard the evidence may be substituted.

4th. If the applicant is confined in a county jail, the opinion of the Board of Commissioners of the county as to the propriety or impropriety of granting the pardon, should be furnished.

5th. If judgment was pronounced on a plea of guilty, and no evidence heard on the trial of the case, a copy of the indictment or information must be furnished, so that the precise nature of the offense may be understood.

REMISSIONS.

In order that applications for the remission of fines and forfeitures may be brought within the constitutional jurisdiction of the Governor, the following information is furnished: "An act to regulate the remission of fines and forfeitures," approved June 14, 1852, (1 G. & H., 347,) provides "That all applicants to the Governor for the remission of fines and forfeitures, shall forward to him with their application, the opinion of the propriety of so doing, of a majority of the following officers in the county where the fine was assessed, or the forfeiture occurred, viz: the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Auditor, Sheriff, County Treasurer, and such officers as shall from time to time have the care and custody of the Common School Fund within the county."

The following form of opinion is recommended to be substantially followed:

TO THE GOVERNOR OF INDIANA:

We, the Clerk of the — Circuit Court, the Auditor, Sheriff and Treasurer of — County, (and the other officers who may join in the opinion,) are of the opinion that it would be proper (or improper,) for you to remit a certain fine assessed (or forfeiture taken,) against —, in the — Circuit (or Common Pleas,) Court, on the — day of — 18—, in a case wherein (set out the substance of the judgment, and the nature and circumstances of the crime,) for the following reasons: (setting them out.)

Where the application is made by sureties, satisfactory proof must be made by affidavits, or other evidence, that they have no indemnity or means of future indemnification.

It having been decided by the Supreme Court, (9 Indiana, page 20,) that the power of the Governor to remit fines and forfeitures is not absolute, and can only be exercised according to legislative direction, a strict compliance with the statute above recited will be required.

The following statement is a condensed exhibit of the balance in the treasury of each of the funds, November 1, 1874, the amount received and disbursed during the fiscal year from the several funds, and the balances in the treasury belonging to the various funds at the close of the fiscal year, October 31, 1875.

The amount of cash in the Treasury, November 1,
1874, was..... $244,203 78

The balance in the Treasury of each of the Funds
November 1, 1874, was as follows :

Balance in Sinking Fund, excess of sales.....	2,405 19
Balance in General Fund.....	233,642 36
	$244,203 78

NOTE.—There was due the General Fund on account of amount overdrawn by the Common School Fund, $10,291.94; also, on amount overdrawn by the Swamp Land Fund, $829.80, making a total of $11,121.74. This amount added to $233,642.36 makes the General Fund proper, $244,764.10.

The receipts from all sources from November 1, 1874, to October 31, 1875, inclusive, were as follows:

To General Fund.....	$2,176,410 19
To Common School Fund.....	1,992,315 26

The following is an exhibit of the balance in each of the several Funds, November 1, 1875:

Balance in General Fund.....	$423,929 43

“ “ Surplus Revenue Fund.....	2,007 52

	<hr/>	$18,387 98
Balance of all Funds in Treasury, Nov. 1, 1875..	$421,394 85

It is proper to state that the sum of $445,234.55, is included in the $4,019,903.82 disbursements which properly should be deducted from said last named amount, being for transfer of funds on the warrant of the Auditor, to other funds, as follows :

Interest, non-negotiable bonds.....	$234,286 99
Revenue of 1874.....	202,639 20
Delinquent Revenue of 1873.....	5,944 11
School Tax of 1874	2,364 25
	$445,234 55

For the same reason the actual receipts into the Treasury, is the same amount ($445,234.55), less than shown by the foregoing figures, ($4,197,084.89). The transfer of money from one fund to another makes it appear in the accounts of the Auditor and Treasurer that the amount thus transferred was drawn from the Treasury on account of one fund, and a corresponding amount paid into the Treasury on account of another fund, thus fictitiously increasing the amount of receipts and disbursements.

This process being necessary to keep the accounts of the two offices correctly, makes it appear in the ordinary statements that the sum above stated, $445,234.55, has been received and disbursed by the State, when in fact such is not the case.

Therefore, instead of the receipts for the last fiscal year being, $4,197,084.89, the actual amount was $3,751,850.34, and the disbursements for the same time instead of being $4,019,903.82, should be $3,574,669.27.

It is also proper to state in this connection, that the sum of $3,625.50 should be deducted from the receipts, as this amount was paid into the Treasury by County Treasurers in settlement with the State, and afterwards refunded by County Commissioners as overpayment of the amount due from such counties. The amount so refunded of each fund was as follows :

Revenue of 1874.....	$1,745 56
Delinquent Revenue of 1873.....	67 74
School Tax of 1874.....	1,193 70

THE TREASURY SYSTEM.

"An Act to provide a Treasury System for the State of Indiana, for the manner of receiving, holding and disbursing the public moneys of the State, and for the safe keeping of public moneys," which took effect August 6, 1859, seems to contemplate that the money received into the State Treasury, and disbursed therefrom, shall be received into and paid out of the funds thereof, and not otherwise. This is evident from the language of sections six and seven. Heretofore the transactions of the trust and other funds of a special character have been reported in this manner, but the general fund has not been so treated and much confusion has arisen from its condition. Receipts have been carried into accounts, but the accounts have not in turn been carried into a statement of the fund. Although at the close of each year a statement has been made showing the condition of the various trust funds, and the deficit or excess of cash in the Treasury necessary to make good their balances, no such statement has been made of the general fund.

The fact seems to have been overlooked that the cash in the Treasury at any date is, in theory, separated into the balances belonging to the several funds recognized by law; that moneys received are to be carried into the fund to which they belong, and that so long as there is money in that fund, and no longer, may payments be made from it by virtue of appropriations and upon accounts pertaining thereto. As the exhibits of this report are designed to conform strictly to the requirements of existing laws, I consider it my duty to make explanation of the change of system introduced, although feeling that the forms adopted are of easy comprehension by even the general reader, and will commend themselves by their simplicity. In conjunction with the Treasurer of State, I have endeavored to make the accounts of the Treasury subordinate to their respective funds, and to place each fund upon its proper basis. The funds of the Treasury embracing that belonging to the State and those held in trust, are now as follows, of which I shall treat briefly in the following order :

1. General Fund.
2. Common School Fund.
3. College Fund.
4. Swamp Land Fund.
5. Surplus Revenue Fund.
6. Three Per Cent. Fund.
7. Fund of Unclaimed Estates.
8. Sinking Fund (excess of sales).

THE GENERAL FUND.

This principal fund of the Treasury is the medium for the transaction of the fiscal business of the State Government. Its incomes belong to the State, and its disbursements are for the necessary public expenditures of her government.

"An Act Concerning the General Fund and the Expenditures Chargeable Thereon," approved May 13, 1852 (1 G. & H., p. 353), declares what moneys shall compose its revenues, and what expenditures may be made therefrom. The act is quite similar to the one on the same subject in the revision of 1843 (R. S., 1843, p. 238). The fund, as such, has been neglected for many years. No account of it has been kept in the books of this office, although I find upon them, and in the last published report, a general fund account.

A glance at that account will convince the reader that it is but a fragment of what it should be, and that it was not intended to be an account of the fund, but a statement of miscellaneous receipts and expenditures under that name which were not easy of classification in separate accounts by appropriate names.

As shown in the report for 1874, it was as follows :

GENERAL FUND.

Balance November 1, 1873	$753,807 07
Received	52,120 79
Disbursed.....		$14,231 96
Balance October 31, 1874.....		791,695 90
	$805,927 86	$805,927 86

Yet the balance of cash in the treasury was only $244,203.78, and a part of that was trust money.

The receipts and disbursements given in the above statement were evidently but a very small part of what must have been the transactions of the fund proper, if fully stated.

Take first the balance shown to have been in the fund at the commencement of the fiscal year, namely, November 1, 1873, $753,807.07. That this could not be is clear, for the excess of cash in the treasury at that date, over the amounts belonging to the trust funds, was but $173,410.21. The receipts during the year are stated as being $52,120.79, yet there were received of general revenue $893,091.97; re-payments by counties on account of public institutions, $140,897.36; amount of temporary loan for State expenses, $200,749.46, and smaller amounts repaid by Docket Fees, State House, State Board of Education, Judiciary, Public Printing, and Legislative, all of which properly belonged to this fund, and would have swelled its receipts to more than one million dollars.

On the other hand, the disbursements are stated as being, $14,232.96, while the general statement shows that expenditures authorized by the act of May 13, 1852, were made in excess of twelve hundred thousand dollars. The report for the year ending October 31, 1873, together with the ledger in this office for that year, shows the origin of the balance, as carried forward November 1, 1873. "An act in relation to the funded debt of the State of Indiana, therein mentioned," approved December 13, 1872, contained this provision: "Section 3. That the State Debt Sinking Fund as a separate fund of the State Treasury, be discontinued from and after the said first day of February, A. D. 1873, and be merged in and constitute a part of the General Fund of said treasury, and all sums of money or claims now lawfully payable out of the said State Debt Sinking Fund, shall, after the date last aforesaid, be payable out of the General Fund of the State Treasury." Another section required the Agent of State to pay into the treasury the moneys of the fund in his hands. A warrant authorized the payment of the balance of State Debt Sinking Fund, ($603,221.08) into the General Fund, and a receipt issued for the same amount. This transfer closed the account of the State Debt Sinking Fund.

An account of the General Fund became necessary to show the receipt of that amount, and was opened. Other considerable amounts, derived from the extinguishment of some trust funds and the reduction of balances of others, were transferred in like manner to this "general fund." These receipts were credited and made up the revenues of the "fund" for the year in the sum of $776,902.40.

The payments made out of it were small, consisting of miscellaneous expenditures incident to the public offices and business. The receipts credited and the items of expenditure charged for the year ending October 31, 1874, were also of a miscellaneous and unclassified nature.

The account does not have credit for the payment of "all sums of money or claims now lawfully payable out of the said State Debt Sinking Fund," as required by section 3, quoted above. They appear as cash payments, irrespective of the General Fund account. It is but reasonable to conclude that the constant practice of charging to an account large amounts, and crediting it only with the payment of small amounts inconvenient to classify under another name, will in time bring it into a hopeless indebtedness.

I conclude from this examination that the General Fund account exhibited in previous reports, is but a fragmentary showing of the fund, and ranks with the accounts of salaried officers, of office expenses, and of public institutions, as a subordinate part of the General Fund proper. I am the more convinced of this fact from an examination of the records of former administrations. This difficulty has arisen from a failure in opening, keeping and closing of the books of this office. There is a marked discrimination to be kept up between "accounts" which are simply the heading of appropriations by the Legislature and statutes that carry appropriations for specific purposes, and "funds" that have sources of revenue from which "accounts" are paid and closed into. Warrants should be drawn on the account of the expenditure, from a fund, and these accounts carried monthly into the proper fund from which they are paid.

The monthly published statements of the Auditor and Treasurer of State should exhibit not only the sources of receipts and expenditures under their proper titles, but also the condition of the funds belonging to the State and those held in trust. The last exhibit of the general fund, in the form contemplated by law, appears on the ledger for the year ending October 31, 1860. The receipts into the fund consist of the revenues assessed and collected for State purposes, and all miscellaneous accretions to the moneys in the Treasury, not by law payable into one of the trust funds for a fixed purpose.

They embrace collections made from counties as part of expenses of benevolent and reformatory institutions; moneys derived by temporary loans for State purposes; docket fees collected "for the purpose of reimbursing the State and the several counties against the expense of the judiciary," collections made by the State Board of Education, and all sums repaid to the Treasury which have been erroneously paid out of the fund.

A large part of the disbursements are made by virtue of the permanent appropriations created by the act cited, and by laws supplemental thereto, fixing salaries of officers and yearly expenditures. Such are the salaries of members of the General Assembly, and the officers and employes thereof; salaries of Judges and Prosecuting Attorneys; salaries of executive and administrative officers; expense of the public printing, distribution of public laws and documents, purchase of Indiana Reports, contingent expenses of the Governor, Sheriff's mileage for conveying convicts to prison, and in some instances other expenditures the amount of which can not be definitely ascertained and fixed until audited. Most of the public institutions are maintained by special appropriations made by the Legislature at its biennial sessions.

Allowances of specific claims against the State are audited and paid in like manner out of the General Fund. I submit herewith a statement of the resources of this fund during the past year, and the disbursements made from it on account of the several branches of the public service.

An examination of it will show that a payment into the fund is credited by designating the source from which it has been derived, and the aggregate of these several payments and the balance in the fund at the commencement of the year constitute the total amount applicable during the year to the payment of public expenses.

Having been once designated, the moneys lose their special character and become a common fund for use as directed by the Legislature. The disbursements made and classified into accounts, show the expenses incident to the several branches of the State government and the residue of the moneys shown to have been in the fund during the year, after deducting the aggregate of disbursements therefrom, indicates the balance yet available for general expenses.

SPECIAL APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS.

The report of my predecessor for the last year of his term of office contains an "Exhibit of Separate Accounts," which is the first of the kind prepared and published for many years. I appreciate the value of such an exhibit, and am disposed to follow the precedent with such modifications and corrections as appear necessary. The last previous statement of the kind is contained in the report of the Auditor of State for the year ending October 31, 1862. The accounts as there exhibited were kept upon the basis of appropriations. Disbursements were made in a sum not exceeding the unexpended balances. The balances were shown as still available for use for the purposes designated in the act making the appropriations. The accounts were not overdrawn, but expenditures were limited by appropriations, and ceased with the exhaustion of the credit balances. These balances were not cash balances, for they did not represent cash, but they were existing authority for the payment of money out of the general fund for a specified public service. As exhibited in 1874, they are cash accounts. With a few exceptions they do not show the balance, if any, standing to the credit of the account at the commencement of the year, nor the new appropriations added thereto, nor the balance unexpended. Take, as a sample, the following from the report of 1862 :

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE FUND.

Appropriation.....	$500 00
Former appropriations unexpended.....	1,483 90
Total.....	$1,983 90
Expended during the year.....	1,983 17
Balance unexpended.....	73

The same account appears in the report of 1874 as follows :

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

Disbursed.....	$3,152 35
To balance.....	$3,152 35
	$3,152 35 $3,152 35

The disbursements of cash having been made from a "general treasury" on the account, an equal amount, without designated source, is placed as a charge against it "to balance" it. An explanation of the difference is contained in the following statement, appended to the exhibit of 1874 :

"Note.—In the foregoing exhibit of separate accounts, there are some which show no receipts, from the fact that some appropriations are governed by the fiscal year, others by the calendar year, and others, still, by the year beginning with the date of the law making the appropriation, the proportion of receipts by appropriation can not be given. The exhibit shows the amounts received independently of appropriations, and in all cases the amounts disbursed."

It is not easy to understand this reason for a departure from the long established rules governing appropriation accounts. As before stated, an appropriation does not represent cash, but authority of law to pay cash from a fund when received into that fund. It is a "setting apart" of amounts when in the fund to be applied upon specified accounts. When received into the Treasury and credited to their proper sources, moneys lose their distinctive character and become common moneys of the fund to which they belong, for use under authority of appropriations.

It is unusual to designate an appropriation as a receipt of money, for the money must have been received before it is affected by a law authorizing its payment. The channel by which money is received into the treasury, and that by which it is paid out are not the same. Revenues received upon one account are quite likely to be disbursed as common means upon another.

The receipt of money upon an account is not of necessity, authority for its payment on the same account without an appropriation, either permanent or special, first enacted. It is true, the proportion of receipts by appropriation can not be given. An appropriation is an entirety, and is not capable of apportionment, except as a check upon imprudent payments, when first available. Being a direction of the Legislature to ministerial officers, and a limitation upon their power to disburse moneys in their custody, it is their duty to know when that authority begins and when it terminates. An appropriation for a fixed period is available at the commencement of that period, whether it be a fiscal or a calendar year, or a year beginning with the date of the taking effect of the law making it. The time within which it may be exhausted must depend upon the discretion of the treasury officers, or the necessities of the service, unless it is specified in the law, which but seldom occurs. A balance unexpended is available for use unless it revert to the common moneys of the fund by a direction in the law.

As I have before said, many branches of the public service are maintained by permanent appropriations, as, for instance, pay of officers and members of the General Assembly; salaries of judges and prosecuting attorneys; salaries of executive and administrative officers; expense of printing laws and public documents; distribution of laws; purchase of Indiana Reports; sheriff's mileage; expense of the transportation and repair of public arms and divers other expenses provided for by general laws. Having already given a sufficient statement of these ordinary disbursements from the fund by virtue of permanent appropriations, it remains to exhibit in detailed form, the several accounts which are dependent solely upon special appropriations.

This is done with but little aid from any books to be found in this office. I have found no record of appropriations and disbursements of recent date. The appropriation ledger formerly kept was abandoned many years ago. I have had much difficulty to arrive at the condition of any of this class of accounts. The accounts which are stated in the following table, with a few exceptions, begin with the appropriations made in 1873.

THE COMMON SCHOOL FUND.

By beneficent donations from the United States Government and benevolent legislative enactments, this fund now aggregates $8,799,-192.60. This amount consists of $2,458,407.81 in cash, and is known as the Common School Fund; $2,330,823.37 consists of cash also, and is known as the Congressional School Fund; these two are held in trust by the several counties of the State, and loaned upon real estate security at 7 and 8 per cent. per annum, payable annually. $3,904,783.21 is in non-negotiable bonds, which are held in trust by the State, for the benefit of the fund. These bonds draw six per cent., payable semi-annually by the State from the General Fund. $105,177.25 is in unsold congressional lands, which are non-productive. This large fund Indiana has wisely accumulated for a permanent basis upon which might rest securely her educational interests, and her citizens may well feel proud of it. But as the law gives this fund the benefit of various revenues, in addition to its own legitimate resources from interest, for the support of a free school system, it is of these, and their management, that I wish to speak. The law makes it the duty of the Auditor of State to see that the fund receives the credits on the records in this office, to which it is legally entitled, from its various revenues.

But upon investigation of the records, I discover the fact that the requirements of the law have not been fully complied with in this respect in the past, which has caused some severe losses to the tuition fund, which the law contemplates should be kept as inviolate as the permanent fund itself.

The most prominent losses have been caused by incorrect entries on the books, and an erroneous system of keeping a record of the various funds held in trust by the State. As it is my purpose at the proper time to present these matters in detail to the Legislature, I shall at the present mention only the most prominent losses the fund has sustained, and endeavor to explain how they occurred.

At the close of the fiscal year, October 31, 1860, there was an unexpended balance to the credit of the Common School Fund amounting to $303,921.68. This balance was the result of the receipts from the various revenues of the fund exceeding the expenditures for tuition purposes during the year 1860, and former years. At the close of the fiscal year 1861, in the balance account of the Common School Fund, it receives credit for the balance in the fund at the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1859, which balance was $255,073.51, instead of $303,921.68, the balance at the close of the year 1860, which was the proper balance to have been brought forward.

It is clearly to be seen that this erroneous entry caused a loss to the fund of $48,848.17, as the amount brought forward was, as stated above, the balance in the fund at the close of the fiscal year 1859, which is $48,848.17 less than the balance in the fund at the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1860. The figures used in this explanation, I find in the Auditor's published report for the year 1861, as there appears to have been no balance account of the Common School Fund entered upon the records of this office during the years 1861 and 1862.

The next serious loss that the fund sustained was during the years extending from 1868 to 1870. This loss was the result, as before stated, of an erroneous system of keeping the account of the fund, when the Auditor and Treasurer of State attempted to pay off the State's indebtedness to the School Fund, in accordance with the provisions of an act of the Legislature of 1861. This law directed the "Superintendent of Public Instruction, at each apportionment of school revenue, to add to the total of said revenue in readiness for distribution, the sum of $25,000.00 of the State's indebtedness to the schools, which additions were to continue to be made at each apportionment until the whole amount of said indebtedness, together with six per cent. interest thereon from the time it accrued, was paid, the amount of which debt and interest to be settled and adjusted by and between the Auditor of State and the Superintendent of Public Instruction." The law does not state the amount of this debt, but leaves that question to be settled by the Auditor and Superintendent, but I have not been able to discover any record to show what amount they agreed upon. It is a fair conclusion that the amount of $303,921.68, as shown by the Auditor's report for 1860, was the correct amount, and that the entire amount of principal agreed upon was paid, as the reports of the Superintendent show that in accordance with the provisions of the law, he commenced adding the $25,000.00 when he apportioned the revenue for distribution in the spring of 1861. He omitted it at the next fall distribution, but again added it in the spring of 1862, and continued to do so, at each semi-annual apportionment thereafter, until the October apportionment of 1867. At that time, after enumerating the various amounts ready for distribution, he makes this character of an entry: "Add from State's indebtedness, (balance of principal due) $15,573.56."

This entry indicates that this amount completed the payment of the principal of the State's debt to the fund. In the year 1868, the Superintendent again commences to add $25,000.00 at his semi-annual distribution, and so continued until $150,000.00 had been added and distributed, which must have been the interest on the principal, but the records do not so state. This amount was apparently paid out of the General Fund, when, in fact, it came directly out of the legal revenues of the School Fund from the fact the Auditor of State failed to issue a warrant on the General Fund, payable to the Common School Fund, for amount of interest due it from the State. This omission having occurred the School Fund never received any credit on the records of this office for the amount of said interest. The natural result was the School Fund liquidated the entire amount of the State's debt for interest, $150,000.00 out of its own revenues. It is evident that it was not necessary to issue a warrant for the amount of principal, from the fact that it was already credited with this amount, by carrying forward each year to its credit, the amount of balance due it at the close of the preceding year.

The non-negotiable bonds, which are held in trust by the State for the benefit of this fund, as before stated, draw six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, in April and October. The law directs specifically, the time and manner of paying this interest that it may be applied for the benefit of this fund. It directs the Auditor of State to draw a warrant in the months of April and October of each year, on the General Fund, in favor of the Common School Fund for the amount of interest due on said bonds. I have ascertained by examining the records that in the month of October, 1873, no such warrant was drawn, which resulted in the fund not receiving its proper credit that year for the amount of interest due it at that time, viz: $117,143.50.

It is true the Superintendent of Public Instruction had this amount distributed regardless of the warrant, but the fund being deprived of this credit, caused the Superintendent to curtail the amount of each county's apportionment at the following distribution sufficient to make his former overdraft good. So it is clearly to be seen that this procedure deprives the schools of $117,143.50. Other clerical errors have occurred, some of which were in favor of the fund, but I feel safe in saying that from the limited examination I have been able to make that the State at the present time justly owes the schools of Indiana $288,299.91, together with a fair rate of interest on these pretended payments, estimated to be $56,250, to October 31, 1875, making a total due the school fund from the general fund of $344,594.91.

By referring to the balance account of the fund in this report it will be seen that it is exhibited with a deficit of $17,572.43, when in fact it should be shown as having a large balance to its credit. I am indebted to Col. B. C. Shaw for the discovery of many of the errors referred to, who has recently entered into a thorough investigation of the records of this fund in his office, and will doubtless publish in his annual report an elaborate and concise statement of the various errors which have occurred since the year 1859.

The following statement will show the condition of the fund on the 31st day of October, 1875:

THE COLLEGE FUND.

Section 26 of the 13th chapter of the revised statutes of this State, for 1843, provides that "the University Fund shall consist, as heretofore, of the lands in Monroe and Gibson counties, granted for the use of the State University, and the proceeds of the sales of the same, together with all other grants, gifts and donations, made in money or otherwise, for the use of the University aforesaid."

The chapter governing this fund, and containing the above section, was re-enacted in the revision of 1852, (1 G. & H. p. 660,) and amended by an act approved March 2, 1859, (1 G. & H., p. 666). The proceeds arising from the sale of lands in Gibson county, which had been claimed for the benefit of the Vincennes University, were secured to the State University by an act approved February 13, 1855, (1 G. & H., p. 681.)

The law provides that the principal shall be loaned by the Auditor of State, upon real estate security, in sums not to exceed five hundred dollars, for the term of five years, at seven per cent. per annum, payable annually in advance. The principal loaned consists not only of the money arising from the sales of the lands referred to, but also of excesses of interest not required for the University, damages, costs, etc., on hand at the close of the fiscal year, which, by a long prevailing custom, has been transferred to and becomes a part of the principal. The usual way of determining the amount of the loan account outstanding at the close of any fiscal year, is to deduct the amount of the loans collected during the year from the amount outstanding at its beginning, and add to the remainder the amount of the principal loaned during the same period.

The Auditor's report for 1872, shows that there was—

Outstanding of the loans of this fund November 1, 1872.....	$106,002 07

By referring to the footing of the list of current loans to be found elsewhere in this report, the total amount of current loans outstanding appears to be $110,493.53, or a sum $1,187.21 greater than the above.

Many tracts of land have been forfeited to the State and the loans secured by them left out of the list. These forfeited lands are a part of the assets of the fund not represented in any way by the outstanding loans. This increase has arisen from lands having been forfeited to the State. The law provides for their sale upon a credit of five years. Lands forfeited to the State, when sold, are required to realize the amount of the principal, accrued interest, damages and costs.

It is further provided that when the purchaser shall have executed and delivered a mortgage and note for the proper amount, he shall be entitled to a deed for the same, and the transaction shall be entered and appear upon the Auditor's and Treasurer's books as a payment of the sum bid, and a re-loan of the same to the purchaser, and the proper warrants and receipts shall be issued therefor.

It is the failure to observe the instructions of the latter part of the clause that furnishes the explanation for this difference. The instances are numerous where a forfeited tract of land has been sold for an amount in excess of that claimed for principal, accrued interest, damages and costs, and the whole amount has been substituted for the old loan without a warrant or receipt having been issued, or entries being made upon the Auditor's or Treasurer's books to explain the transaction. It would be a difficult and almost hopeless task to arrive at the exact amount of the increase from this source.

At the sales of last December, five pieces of land were offered for sale which secured loans of principal aggregating $2,590.88, but there being no bids was bought in by the Auditor for the State. One piece has since been sold and is represented by a current loan. The balance, $2,090.88, is in the shape of suspended debt. But this amount has been drawn from the principal of current loans without any entries being made upon the transfer books of this office, and to properly represent the actual increase of the principal of the loans of this fund, it should be added to the total footings of the current loans, making them aggregate $112,584.41, and the increase $3,278.09.

The receipts credited to the principal of this fund during the year just closed were as follows :

I repeat from the last annual report of my predecessor the following paragraph, that "The records of forfeitures and sales of lands mortgaged to the fund, show that during the past fifteen years much land that properly belongs to the fund has been allowed to become neglected," as a sufficient reason for not presenting a schedule of the forfeitures, and the amount of the suspended debt as required by law. The tabular statement, giving a list of the names of the borrowers from this fund, which appears elsewhere in this report, is a careful revision of the books of this office, and of those in the office of the Treasurer of State. It is alphabetically arranged, and gives the date and number of each loan. Although the loans are all made for five years only, it does not appear that one was ever collected when due, unless it was the desire of the borrower to cancel it. The following is an exhibit of the receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year, ending October 31, and the balance on hand November 1, 1875.

SWAMP LANDS.

The Legislature, in 1865, passed a Joint Resolution authorizing and requesting the Governor to appoint a suitable person to revise and correct the tract and sale books of the Swamp Lands, in the office of the Auditor of State. The preamble to the resolution reads as follows :

“Whereas, The tract books of Swamp Lands belonging to the State, in the office of the Auditor of State, and of the several County officers, have for various reasons become unreliable, so that it is impossible in many instances to determine whether lands are vacant or not, or if sold who are the owners.”

In pursuance of the provisions of the above resolution, Governor Hendricks on the 15th day of March, 1873, appointed Owen M. Eddy to discharge the duties required by the law. No better selection could have been made, as Mr. Eddy's long experience with the books connected with the land department of the State, has enabled him to acquire a very thorough knowledge of the land grants, surveys, sales, entries and boundary lines of the lands in this State. The work although difficult and complicated, is being well and thoroughly done, and if Mr. Eddy is permitted to complete the correction of the records, they will be of great value to the State.

There still exists, however, many irregularities and discrepancies between the books in this office and those in the county offices. On one set of records tracts of lands will be shown as vacant and subject to entry, while the other record will show the same land to have been entered years ago. These discrepancies can only be corrected as interested parties develop them by attempting to make entry and purchase of the land. This unfortunate condition of the records is constantly giving rise to perplexing questions as to the proper and legal course for the Auditor of State to pursue in issuing certificates for patents. Parties present certificates of purchase to this office, and being in possession of this requisite for a patent from the State, feel aggrieved that it is not issued to them at once regardless of the records, which show that the land has long since been entered and patent issued therefor.

Many of these troubles have occurred through the efforts of speculators to secure large tracts of these lands. In many instances the records of this office show one tract of land to have been entered by two or more different persons. Another much regretted trouble is constantly arising from these errors, which is, that titles are being called into question involving and jeopardizing the interests of innocent persons who are in possession of valuable improved farms which they bought and paid for in good faith, believing that their titles were legal and correct. And "when it is taken into consideration, that the title to nearly one-fifth of all the lands in Indiana, is derived from the State by virtue of grants made by the general government, and that in the majority of cases the only evidence of sale that appears of record are in the offices of the Auditor and Secretary of State, that the copies of the original surveys and field notes, in many of the counties, are erroneous and incomplete, and that the first holders are passing away and property becomes more valuable as it is improved, greater care is exercised in proving title, as well as perpetuating boundary lines. It will be seen, that this branch of the land business of the State is daily increasing, a labor tedious and requiring special attention." The following patents have been issued during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875:

THE SURPLUS REVENUE FUND.

“Under the administration of President Jackson, the National debt contracted by revolutionary war, and the purchase of Louisiana, was entirely discharged, and a large surplus remained in the United States Treasury. In June, 1836, Congress authorized the distribution of this money among the States, in the ratio of their representation in Congress.” The Legislature, by an act approved December 21, 1836, authorized the Treasurer of State to receive from the Treasurer of the United States, and receipt therefor by certificate of deposit, the amount of surplus revenue of the United States to which the State of Indiana was entitled by an act of Congress approved June 23, 1836. By the same act it is further provided, “That the State of Indiana hereby irrevokably pledges her faith to the United States that she will safely keep and repay the said moneys, and every part thereof, from time to time, whenever the same shall be required by the Secretary of the Treasury, for the purpose mentioned in said act of Congress, and upon the conditions therein named.

By a subsequent act, approved February 6, 1837, it was provided, “That one-half of said revenue shall be funded in the respective organized counties, in amounts proportionate to the number of its taxable polls that paid tax for the year 1836.”

Section seventeen of this act directs the Treasurer of State, “upon receiving said surplus revenue, or any part thereof, to advertise the same in two newspapers, published at the seat of government and of general circulation throughout the State, for three weeks successively, stating in such advertisement what amount such county shall receive; and if any county, through its agent, fails or neglects to make legal application for its portion of said revenue allotted in this bill, within ninety days after such notice shall have been given, then the Treasurer shall loan it out, as at present he is authorized to loan the College Fund, and the interest accruing thereon shall be distributed, according to the provisions of this act, among the townships of said county for the purpose of common schools."

The Treasurer of State, in his report for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1837, says in reference to this fund: "There has been received from the United States, on deposit, the sum of $860,254.44. Of this amount I have disbursed to the loaning agents of the several counties the sum of $567,126.16, being the entire amount of the two first installments, except the sum of $6,376.80, not called for by the counties of Lake, DeKalb and Wells, and which has been loaned agreeably to law. The third installment, being $286,751.48, has been paid over to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund." This amount, $6,376.80, of the first and second installments, represents the principal of the Surplus Revenue Loans, carried on the Auditor's and Treasurer's books for the past forty years. The interest accruing, and the principal collected, from time to time, has been distributed to the counties named. The last of these loans was collected November 10, 1872, since which time there has been a balance of $2,007.52, to the credit of this fund, which amount belongs to these counties in equal portions, and remains subject to their order.

THE THREE PER CENT. FUND.

The origin of this fund will be found in the acts of Congress for the year 1816, which act "enabled the people of the Indiana Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, and for the admission of such State into the Union" on an equal footing with the original States. Embodied in said act are five propositions which Congress submitted to the Convention of the Territory of Indiana, when formed, for their free acceptance or rejection, which if accepted by the Convention would be obligatory upon the United States. Of the five propositions submitted, the third reads as follows :

"That five per cent. of the net proceeds of the lands lying within said Territory, and which shall be sold by Congress, from and after the first day of December next, after deducting all expenses incident thereto, shall be reserved for making public roads and canals, of which three-fifths shall be applied to those within said State, under the direction of the Legislature thereof, and two-fifths to the making of a road or roads leading to said State, under the direction of Congress."

At Corydon, on Monday, the tenth day of June, 1816, the representatives of the Territory of Indiana, in convention assembled, accepted the above proposition, with the other four, and ratified the act of Congress, which enabled them to form a State government. From that time the law became operative, and large amounts of money, as shown by the records, have been collected and distributed to the several counties in the State by direction of the Legislature. From the evidence I have gleaned from the records and other sources, I am satisfied that the fund has undergone heavy losses in years past from a failure on the part of the State to give it the credits to which it was justly entitled. But to trace the history of the transactions, and point out specifically the losses, with the cause of each, would require a chapter more at length than would be desirable in this connection. It is to be much regretted that this fund has had no better protection, as no system of improvements is in more need of public support than the roads throughout the State. The balance in the fund is $32.13, which has been carried-forward as a balance since the year 1854, at which time the last distribution of the fund to the several counties was made:

FUND FROM UNCLAIMED ESTATES.

The law governing this fund directs, that, "If after the expiration of two years from the final settlement of an estate no heirs appear to claim the surplus, or any part thereof, the court shall direct it to be paid over to the Treasurer of State, who shall credit it upon his books to the unknown heirs of the deceased. And, at any time after the receipt of the proceeds of such estate, by the Treasurer of State, should the heirs of the decedent appear before any court of competent jurisdiction, and prove their heirship, such Treasurer, on a certified copy of the records of such proceeding, signed by the clerk of such court, and attested by his official seal, present to him the same, he shall pay to such heirs the amount of such estate in the treasury to their credit."

As the character of records as contemplated by law, have never been kept in this or the Treasurer's office, we are often caused much labor and embarrassment in ascertaining the correctness of claims presented for payment out of this fund.

At the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1862, there was a balance to the credit of this fund of $4,899.61. In carrying forward the balance the following year, the book keeper erroneously added one thousand dollars to the fund, by making the balance $5,899.61 instead of the amount above stated. This clerical error caused some unprotected fund to lose the $1,000.00 mentioned. But as this amount, together with other balances, was absorbed by the non-negotiable bond which was issued in 1873 for the benefit of the Common School Fund, the transaction will not be seriously lamented by the citizens of the State.

At the close of the fiscal year, October 31, 1872, there was $17,066.55 in the treasury to the credit of this fund. Hon. John C. Shoemaker, who was at that time Auditor of State, wisely recommended to the Legislature that this amount, with large balances of other funds in the treasury, be distributed to the several counties to be held in trust and loaned out for the benefit of the Common Schools. The Legislature in 1873, acting in the spirit of this recommendation, merged all the balances of the various funds enumerated by him, into the non-negotiable bond referred to. Since that time, the fund has been gradually accumulating, and had at the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875, a balance to its credit of $5,638.34, which is shown by the following exhibit:

THE SINKING FUND.

(Excess of Sales.)

The 115th Section of the Old State Bank Charter, approved January 28, 1834, names the officers of the Sinking Fund, and prescribes their duties in the management of its loans, as follows:

“In the making and collecting of any of said loans, with interest thereon, the said Board shall be governed, in all respects, by the provisions of the several acts authorizing the loaning of the seminary funds, except, etc.” The act authorizing the loaning of the seminary funds, approved January 24, 1828, in section 4, provides, that “The funds may be loaned upon a pledge of real estate,” and in section 12 provides, that in all cases when the interest or amount loaned shall be in arrears or due, the mortgaged premises shall be advertised and sold. “Provided, that when the premises sell for a greater sum than the said debt, interest, damages, and costs, the said Superintendent shall pay the overplus to the mortgagor, his heirs, or assigns.” When the affairs of the fund were finally closed the Auditor of State paid into the State Treasury $2,733.26 on this account. Of this sum there still remains a balance of $2,284.62, which is held in trust for certain mortgagors whose lands were forfeited and sold by the State.

The taking effect of the act, approved March 11, 1873, transferred many of the Sinking Fund records to the custody of the Treasurer of State, and the remainder were stored in the basement of the State Building, so that it is not in the power of the present incumbent to give a list of the persons to whom this money is due. The following is an exhibit of the balance as brought forward October 31, 1875:

STATE SUITS.

In pursuance of the authority of the sixth and seventh subdivisions of section 2 of an act approved May 27, 1852, (1st G. & H. p. 118,) "prescribing the powers and duties of the Auditor of State," I have employed counsel, and caused to be instituted, on behalf of the State, two important suits, the result of which may add largely to her revenues.

By reference to the report of Hon. John C. Shoemaker, Auditor of State for the year 1872, page 52, it will be seen that that portion of the School Fund known as the Sinking Fund, had accumulated in the hands of that officer, to an amount reaching nearly three quarters of a million of dollars. By an act of the General Assembly, approved February 24, 1871, the Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State, were directed to distribute this fund among the counties, and the county officers were required to invest it in mortgage loans at eight per cent. interest. By the middle of March 1871, these State officers were ready to distribute the fund as required by the law, and the county officers were ready to invest it as directed. Certain citizens of Indianapolis at once instituted suits against the officers of State, and enjoined the distribution by decree of the Marion Circuit Court. This decree was appealed from the Circuit to the Supreme Court by the officers of State, where the decree was reversed and the injunction dissolved. The distribution of the fund was, by this injunction, delayed a year, and a years interest was lost to the schools of the State by this proceeding. In this way, the School Fund lost near fifty thousand dollars. Believing that the parties who caused this delay and loss to the fund should be held accountable, I have, with the concurrence of associated officers of State, caused suit to be brought on my relation upon the bond given in procuring the injunction, for the damages and loss of interest, by the Attorney General, and Hons.

S. Claypool and W. R. Harrison, who have represented the interests of the State zealously and ably in the injunction suit, in the Circuit and Supreme Courts. The action is now pending in the Superior Court of Marion County, where, I trust, there will be a speedy determination of it, and that such recovery will be had, as to reimburse the loss of interest.

The General Assembly of this State at the special session of 1873, (Acts 1873, p. 205,) enacted a law, by the sixth section of which, it is provided, that "Any corporation, whether foreign or domestic, firm or individual, engaged in the business of transporting or carrying freight or passengers on any railroad of this State, upon any contract or agreement with such railroad company, shall, in the months of January and July of each year, report to the Auditor of State, * * * the gross amount of all receipts received in the State of Indiana, on account of the transportation of passengers or freight, for the six months last preceding, ending on the last days of December and June, and shall, at the time of such report, pay into the treasury of the State the sum of three dollars on each one hundred dollars of such receipts for passage fare; and the sum of one dollar one very one hundred dollars of such receipts for transporting freight."

By the seventh section of the same act, it is provided that "Any corporation, firm or individual, engaged in such business, failing or refusing for more than thirty days to render an accurate account of the receipts as provided, and to pay the required tax thereon, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for each additional day such report and payment shall be delayed, to be recovered in the name of the State of Indiana, on the relation of the Auditor of State, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

The existence of this law seems to have been ignored, at least but one of the many transportation companies, affected by its provisions, has complied therewith. I caused the attention of a number of the corporations affected to be called to their delinquency, and liability to be sued for the recovery of the forfeiture prescribed, and was informed that it was the intention to contest the validity of the law, whereupon I engaged F. M. Trissal, Esq., and Judge Solomon Claypool, to institute such proceedings as might be necessary to test the legality of the act, and suit was accordingly instituted against the American Express Company, (one of the corporations affected), in the Superior Court of Marion county, which, upon the petition of the defendant, has been removed to the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of Indiana, where it is now pending, and, I am advised by counsel, will be heard in a few days. The suit is brought to recover the forfeiture of one hundred dollars a day, prescribed by the act. The result of this case will determine the rights of the State against all other corporations similarly affected, and should the law be held to be valid, will result in bringing a large amount of revenue into the State Treasury, from a source not heretofore reached by ordinary process of taxation.

THE OLD FREE BANKS.

My predecessor, Hon. Jas. A. Wildman, transferred to me two thousand eight hundred and fifteen dollars and forty-five cents, ($2,815.45), cash proceeds of the securities of the following old suspended banks:

Central Bank of Indianapolis.....	$1,377 00
Savings Bank of Indiana.....	18 28
Bank of Albany.....	576 96
Bank of Rockport.....	30 00
Bank of Perryville.....	10 00
Bank of T. Wadsworth.....	10 01
Farmers' Bank, Jasper.....	337 25
Kalamazoo Bank.....	234 35
Orange Bank.....	50 00
State Stock Bank, Marion.....	44 60
Agricultural Bank.....	15 00
Bank of Albion.....	112 00

This money had been held for many years by the Auditor of State, to redeem the notes of the banks above mentioned, and as none had been presented for several years, it was evident there were but few in existence.

The Legislature, in order to save to the people of the State fifteen hundred dollars of salary, drawn by the Auditor of State, and eight hundred by the Treasurer of State, amounting to ($2,300) per annum, for no services rendered, very properly passed an act, approved February 27, 1875, requiring the Auditor of State to transfer to the General Fund of the Treasury the sum of $2,815.45, above alluded to. In conformity with this act, I have, as appears by the receipt of the Treasurer of State, transferred to the General Fund the above amount.

It is fair to presume that nearly all of the outstanding notes of said bank have been destroyed and will never be presented for redemption.

Under Section 52, (1st G. & H., p. 136,) the proper parties may take up their deposits by giving the necessary notice to the holders of their outstanding notes, and filing a bond, to be approved by the Auditor of State, for double the amount deposited.

In accordance with the provisions of this act, by the advice of the Attorney General, and his opinion, the required bond having been filed in this office and approved by me, I drew a warrant on the Treasury in favor of the Central Bank of Indianapolis, payable to Morris Defrees, sole stockholder of said bank, for thirteen hundred and seventy-seven dollars, ($1,377.00), the amount deposited for the redemption of the outstanding notes of said bank.

Other banks having similar deposits, by complying with the provisions of said act may draw the same.

I herewith append statement showing the condition of the Free Banks, on the 31st day of October, 1875.

THE LAPORTE SAVINGS BANK.

In the month of September, I was informed that doubt existed in the minds of some of the depositors of this bank as to its solvency, and in conformity with an act approved May 12, 1869, I appointed F. M. Trissal, Esq., to examine the bank, and herewith present his report, which fully sets forth the result of the examination :

HON. E. HENDERSON,

AUDITOR OF STATE :

In pursuance of the authority given by you to me, to make an examination of the LaPorte Savings Bank, as contemplated by Section 47, of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "An act to provide for the organization of Savings Banks, and the safe and proper management of their affairs," approved May 12, 1869, I submit the following report of the condition, workings and affairs of said bank. A history of its organization and condition, up to the date of the last examination, appeared in the annual reports of your predecessors in office. At the close of banking hours on the 17th day of September, 1875, it had assets as follows :

Cash on hand.....	$1,912 52
Notes with freehold sureties.....	94,779 50
Notes secured by mortgages on real estate...	65,413 71
Office furniture.....	250 00
Total Assets.....	$162,355 73

Its liabilities at the same date were as follows :

Due to Depositors.....	$145,504 10
Due others.....	2,000 00
Total.....	$147,504 10
Leaving a surplus of.....	$14,851 63

In the month of July last, "a run" was made upon the bank by depositors, which for a time, threatened the necessity of a suspension, and in order to determine whether there had been any mismanagement of the affairs of the bank that was liable to result in insolvency, I thought it necessary to ascertain the cause of the distrust on the part of the depositors, and from the evidence that I could collect upon the subject, I found that a personal difference between the Cashier and some of the trustees, which did not or could not relate to the financial condition of the bank, was the source of the trouble, its character having been by reason of public rumor and speculation, misunderstood and misapprehended by the depositors.

In view of the fact that the amount of cash on hand is not large, it would seem at first glance, that any unusual withdrawal of deposits might occasion a suspension, but when it is considered that notice may be required before the withdrawal of deposits, as provided in section 17 of the act referred to, it is not difficult to see that the securities could be converted in time to prevent such an occurrence, and the amount of securities held by this institution having but a short time to run, convinces me that no trouble need be apprehended in this particular. The securities are all of a high order, and I am satisfied that there has been no mismanagement of the affairs of the bank, and that it is not insolvent, or in imminent danger of insolvency.

F. M. TRISSAL,
Examiner.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this report I would invite your Excellency's attention to the new method that has been introduced in the management of the trust funds and revenues of the State. This new system has been adopted in obedience to your suggestions and the requirements of the treasury system, and has required much additional labor, as in many instances the records had to be examined for a great many years back, which, with the increase in the ordinary business of the office, required more time and unavoidably delayed this report.

I deem it of sufficient importance in this connection to comment briefly on the disbursement of the revenues collected from the taxpayers and otherwise, during the year that I have had the honor to audit the public accounts of the State. In the discharge of official duties I have endeavored to adhere strictly to the spirit and letter of the law, and audit no claim unauthorized by appropriation, or the statute carrying an appropriation for the specific purpose for which the warrant was issued, and in every instance where doubt as to the construction of the law has arisen, I have submitted the question to the Attorney General for his written opinion, which he has given in each instance promptly and clearly.

In some instances, parties holding claims against the State, may have felt that the delay on my part was unwarranted, but errors committed in the disbursement of public monies, are inexcusable on the theory of oversight or haste.

The ordinary expenditures of the treasury for the support and maintenance of the Benevolent and Educational Institutions, State Prisons, etc., that are under the management of boards of directors and trustees, have, in my judgment, been as carefully and economically managed as in any past year, as these institutions, except the House of Refuge, all have a balance of unexpended appropriations to their credit, at the date of this report.

The Judiciary Account, which includes the salaries of Supreme and Circuit Judges, and special services, has, on account of the many recently elected judges who have gone on the bench from the practice, and were, in many instances, necessarily disqualified from holding their own courts, by reason of their former employment in many of the litigated cases on their dockets, caused the appropriation for special services (which was much too small to meet the ends of justice), to be exhausted before the close of the fiscal year. After the appropriation had become exhausted, I refused to issue warrants for special services, and upon the claim of a Circuit Judge that the act of March 1, 1855, (2 G. & H., p. 9,) carried an appropriation, independent of a general appropriation, for special services, I submitted the question to the Attorney General for his opinion, which he gave as follows:

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27, 1875.

HON. E. HENDERSON,

AUDITOR OF STATE,

SIR:—Your communication of the 25th inst. is received. You therein request my opinion in answer to the following question: Does the act of March 1, 1855, (1 G. & H., p. 9,) authorize the Auditor of State, independent of an appropriation for the purpose, to issue warrants on the Treasury of the State for special services of judges, when such services are rendered under the provisions of said act? Section 3 of article 10, of the Constitution of Indiana, provides as follows: "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in pursuance of appropriations made by law." After careful consideration, I am inclined to think that the act in question provides in itself, independent of any appropriation made by any other act, an appropriation from the State Treasury for the special service of judges, as therein specified, and that your question, therefore, should be answered in the affirmative.

Very Respectfully,

C. A. BUSKIRK,

Attorney General, Indiana.

The warrants issued in pursuance of this construction of the law on the subject, has caused the expenditures to exceed the appropriation. Sheriff's mileage also exceeded the appropriation, $708.46.

This is another of the expenses of the State fixed by law, and it varies from year to year, in proportion to the convicts sentenced to the State Prisons from the various counties. It is impracticable for the legislature to designate the limit of such expenditures by appropriation. There are other expenditures from the treasury which are governed by the economy or extravagance of the legislature itself. Its own per diem, and miscellaneous expenses for employes, committee rooms, stationery, etc.; specific allowances amounting to large sums, for specific purposes, many of which are legitimate liabilities of the State, while a considerable amount of every specific appropriation bill is the work of the importuning of professional lobbyist.

There is another source of heavy expense to the State that has been the subject of much comment and criticism in the past. I allude to Public Printing. The legislature of 1873 abolished the office of State Printer, and passed Joint Resolutions, numbers five and seven, pp. 235 and 236, Acts of 1873, to make temporary provision for the public printing of the State, and by an act approved March 13, 1875, p. 66, special session, the Governor, Secretary and Auditor of State were made Ex-officio Commissioners of Public Printing and Binding, with power to employ a clerk. This law properly complied with, will result economically to the State. These three items of expense, for each legislative year, amounts to more than a quarter of a million dollars, and in order that your Excellency may have the benefit of a detailed statement of these items for the last two legislative years, viz., 1873 and 1875, I have taken the following items from the ledger in this office:

The total legislative expenses for 1873 were.....	$199,563 32
Per diem of members, for 101 days.....	103,200 00
Leaves the miscellaneous expenses.....	$96,363 32
Average daily miscellaneous expense.....	$953 09
The total legislative expenses of 1875, were.....	$116,626 31
Per diem of members, 68 days.....	81,600 00

The Auditor of State is required by law, to make such suggestions for the improvement and management of the public revenues, funds and incomes, as he may deem of public interest. In compliance with this requirement, I have treated of the various funds of the treasury, and those held in trust, elsewhere, separately, and made such suggestions as were deemed important, and have so posted on the books the subordinate accounts of each, to its proper fund, as to show the correct condition of the treasury, and to what fund the balance of cash on hand in each belong. Memoranda of the necessary amendments to the assessment law, to more perfectly complete and bring about a uniform assessment of all property in the State at its true cash value, and for the collection of taxes and making settlement for the same, are being carefully prepared as questions are presented by county officers for my construction or opinion of the law, and as they are presented to my mind in the discharge of official duties, and will be embodied in recommendations to the Legislature in my report of 1876.

My duties as Auditor of State, gives me a general supervision of the assessment of property and collection and settlement of taxes in the various counties of the State, thereby bringing me into close official relation with the County Auditors and Treasurers, and I can truthfully pay a compliment to these gentlemen for their promptness in making correct reports and settlements in compliance with law, and in answering such business communications as I have addressed to them from time to time, without delay.

My official relations with the several departments of State have been pleasant, and I tender my thanks to Mr. Samuel R. Downey, Private Secretary to your Excellency, for valuable suggestions embodied in this report, and adopted in the general management of the funds. And to Colonel B. C. Shaw, Treasurer of State, and his efficient deputy, W. O. Foley, Esq., for their searching investigation of records, which has been of great aid to me in making the various detailed statements of the condition of the funds of the State. It is proper in this public manner to acknowledge the valuable services of Mr. John H. Piercy, deputy in the State Department, warrant clerk, book-keeper, and clerk of the land department, and Thos. B. Messick, Esq., clerk of the Insurance Department, of several years experience, favorably known by insurance officers, State and foreign, and clerk of the bank department, for their close application to the duties of their departments, and by their industry, ability and integrity, they are well fitted for the positions they occupy. With these gentlemen, and a personal application to the general management of the office, I am enabled to place before your Excellency this report.

Very Respectfully,

E. HENDERSON,

Auditor of State.

On motion of Mr. Henderson, Governor Hendricks was made President of the Board, and Mr. Neff was selected as Chairman in the absence of the President.

The Auditor of State made statement showing that of the ninety-two counties in the State, twenty-eight had sent in abstracts of assessment of property, and nine railroads had reported according to law.

The Auditor also stated that in order to give railroad companies, corporations, manufacturers and counties that may desire a hearing before the Board, he moved the Board adopt the following order of business: That the first two weeks be devoted to the equalization of assessment of real estate between the counties; the third week to the assessment of railroad property; the fourth week to the assessment of capital stock of corporations, manufacturers, etc.

Which was unanimously adopted.

Whereupon, by motion, the Board adjourned until Friday, the 25th inst., at 2 P. M.

FRIDAY, June 25, 1875.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Hendricks, Sexton, Henderson and Shaw.

The Auditor of State submitted a map showing the reports of sixty counties of assessment of real estate and improvements as compared with the appraisement two years ago. The report showed a reduction of $14\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

It being impossible to advance any farther with the business until all the counties had reported assessment of property, the Board, by motion, adjourned till Wednesday, June 30, 1875.

WEDNESDAY, June 30, 1875.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Hendricks, Sexton, Neff, Henderson and Shaw.

Matter under consideration, assessment of real estate by counties.

On motion of Mr. Henderson, the examination of the abstracts of assessment of real estate was commenced in their regular alphabetical order, and compared with the assessment of 1873.

On motion, Board adjourned till Friday, July 2, 1875.

FRIDAY, July 2, 1875

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Hendricks, Sexton, Henderson and Shaw.

The Auditor reported that all the counties but six had made returns of assessment of property.

The following communication from the Auditor of Marshall county was ordered spread upon the minutes :

AUDITOR'S OFFICE OF MARSHALL COUNTY,
PLYMOUTH, Ind., July 2, 1875.

Marshall county respectfully represents to the State Board of Equalization, of Indiana, for the year 1875: That the appraisement of said county, as made by the County Appraiser for 1873, was high enough, as compared with the counties adjoining her, and therefore that the raise of ten per centum on Marshall for that year was excessive, and asks, as a matter of justice, that the State Board for 1875 do not take the average per acre of said county, as raised by the State Board of 1873, as a basis to increase or decrease the appraisement of Marshall county for 1875; that in many instances real estate in said county has, within the last two years, been sold for much less than it was appraised at for taxation purposes; that the timbered lands of said county are not as valuable as they were two years ago, the most valuable saw timber having been cut off within that time, leaving the lands in an unclean and unproductive condition; that there is a very considerable portion of the county that is low-strung land, but that it is covered with heavy, worthless timber, and that it will cost more to clear such land than it is worth, after being put in a state of cultivation; that there is a quantity of marsh and thin, barren lands in the county, as well as willow and brush ponds that are almost entirely worthless, and the latter will never pay for clearing and draining; that, on the other hand, there is much good land and many good farms in the county, but the class of improvements are cheap and poor, as compared with surrounding counties, excepting Starke and Fulton; that Marshall is one of the best tax-paying counties in the State, according to real worth, and honestly believing that the citizens of the county have, for two years past, borne an undue proportion of the burdens of taxation for State purposes, not by any especial design of the Board of 1873, but on account of failure on the part of the county herself, to make the proper and just representations to that Board. It is therefore respectfully asked that the present Board take the foregoing facts into careful consideration and so adjust the appraisement of the county that for the coming five years Marshall may bear her just proportion of paying the State taxes for the purpose of supporting the State government. Nothing more than this asked.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

A. C. THOMPSON,

Auditor of Marshall County.

The subject of Rush county assessment was under consideration, in regard to the assessment of Ripley township, and it was decided that the Board had no authority by law to make any change in the assessment of Ripley township, that relief should be sought for by the citizens of said township by petitioning the Legislature to remove the burden.

On motion, Board adjourned to meet Wednesday next at 10 A. M.

Board met as ordered.

STATISTICS.

The importance of an Auditor of State being able to annually lay before the people a complete and perfect Statistical Report as required by law, seem to be greatly undervalued by the public. The tabular statement I herewith present, I feel satisfied is imperfect in many respects. While, no doubt, it approximates correctness, as closely as any in former years, yet to the man of enterprise, who studies and takes an interest in the great resources of Indiana, it will be very unsatisfactory. But as I am entirely dependent on the reports which come from the different counties, through the Auditor, for the figures which compose the statement, I can but lay before the public such material as is furnished me. The County Auditors are, of course, compelled to furnish this office with just such statements of figures as is furnished them by the Assessors, and they, (the Assessors), are forced to report just such figures and facts as the taxpayers may see fit in their pleasure to give them. I find there are many difficulties which lie across the pathway of a faithful execution of the law for gathering statistics by the Assessors. I will briefly state a few of them. The first and most prominent one is, that there exists in the minds of the farmer and many manufacturers, an ill-conceived idea that the gathering of statistical facts is for the purpose of increasing their taxation, or to be used in impeaching any statement they have, or will make, as to the amount of their taxable property. While this silent but impressive error exists in their minds it is folly to undertake to carry out the provisions of the law, and meet the beneficial purposes for which it was designed. Another serious difficulty will have to be remedied, and that is a want of a clear understanding of the specific directions, in the statistical law, on the part of the Assessors. Last spring this office was in receipt of numerous letters from them, requesting my construction of the law governing them in gathering up statistical facts. Their letters were answered promptly, and feeling such a deep interest in the matter, I submitted one of the letters to Alexander Herron, Secretary of the Indiana State Board of Agriculture, requesting his construction of section 132 of the tax law, approved December 22, 1872, which reads as follows :

"SECTION 132. It is hereby made the duty of each and every Assessor in the State at the time he makes assessments for taxation, to set down in the column headed 'for statistical purposes,' presented by section 49 of this act, the number of domestic and farm animals of all kinds, and the quantities in bushels and tons of farm products of every kind in each civil township ; also, manufactured products, bushels of coal mined, and such other items of product as may be directed by the Auditor of State, and at the time and in the manner he makes return of taxables to make return thereof to the Auditor of his county ; and County Auditors, after receiving such return from the Assessor, shall, within fifteen days thereafter report the same to the Auditor of State, and the Auditor of State shall, without delay, prepare a condensed statement thereof in tabular form, exhibiting the products of each county and the aggregate for the entire State ; such tabular statement shall be open to public inspection, and shall be embodied in the annual report of the Auditor of State."

This section embraces about all the instructions to Township Assessors, contained in the law. Mr. Herron complied with my request, and as his reply contains such clear and concise views of the law, I take pleasure in giving it space in this report. It will, no doubt, be of great benefit to Township Assessors in the future. So plain are its instructions I deem it unnecessary to make any comments upon the section myself. It is my purpose next year to note on the blanks furnished Township Assessors, the purpose for which statistical facts are desired, and I hope the Assessors will make every effort to secure statements, which will enable me next year to lay before the people of Indiana a correct exhibit of its great resources for the year 1876. Tables showing correctly the agricultural and mineral products, manufactured articles, and number of live stock on the first day of April each year, for comparative purposes, would certainly be of inestimable value. But before this desirable object can be obtained, the co-operation and sympathy of the farmers and manufacturers will have to be enlisted. To them the State is compelled to go for knowledge concerning her aggregate labors, achievements, her commercial and agricultural condition at the close of the year.

AGRICULTURAL ROOMS, STATE HOUSE,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 20, 1875.

HON. E. HENDERSON,

AUDITOR OF STATE:

SIR:—In answer to the question as to the construction of the law as applied to duties of Township Assessors in collecting statements for “statistical purposes,” I submit the following opinion:

It is the duty of each and every Assessor in the State, when making assessments for taxation, to also take the number of all the live stock, of all kinds, as named in the list furnished him; also all productions of every kind, as named on the list, made by direction of the State Auditor, including products of manufacturers, no matter when or by whom made.

The term “statistical purposes,” as used in section 132 of the assessment act, implies a full statement of the productions.

To limit the number of live stock produced within the year would be but partial statistics of the live stock. By giving the full number of stock of each kind, each year, the increase or decrease can be easily ascertained by comparison of former years.

Most kinds of live stock require more than one year to arrive at maturity; with grain productions the case is different, and only productions for the year is required to be reported, in order to form correct statistics for each year of the products of the season.

While on the subject of statistics I would respectfully call attention to the very imperfect arrangement for collecting statements as to products.

The Assessors seek the information six months after the crops are produced; the facts, in many cases, have been forgotten; many tenants, and others, have moved away, and no report from them. In some cases land owners report only their share of the crops. A large portion of the producers have the idea of paying tax on the amount stated by them, and under-estimate. For a remedy and further particulars see the Indiana Agricultural Report of 1874, page 15.

The difference in the amount of grain products of Indiana for 1873, as reported by the Auditor of State and the Agricultural Department at Washington, amounts to millions of bushels.

Respectfully submitted, .

ALEX. HERRON,

Secretary Indiana State Board Agriculture.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS.

As a matter of reference, I submit the following statement of payments made upon this old indebtedness:

Interest Coupons on 211 bonds held by the United States—from 1841 to 1849 on 141, and from 1841 to 1855 on 70.....	$108,208 59
--	--------------

These coupons were redeemed from the United States in 1868, by the use of money allowed the State on account of the three per centum of the net proceeds of public lands sold in Indiana, (see Auditor's Report of 1869; Governor's Message 1869, regular session; this report, page 32):

Also, interest coupons from 1849 to 1868, on 141 overdue bonds	$136,300 00
Principal of 141 bonds, due in 1859.....	141,000 00
Interest Coupons of one lost bond and 69 other bonds not due, from 1855.....	46,625 00

These bonds and coupons were redeemed from the United States in 1868 by the use of approved claims for war expenses; (see Auditor's Report 1869; Governor's Message 1869, Regular Session; "Three per cent. Fund," this report, page 32).

Paid during the year ending October 31, 1873—
Principal.....	$77,000 00
Interest, including detached coupons	361,184 24
Paid expense of adjustment and settlement during the year.....	1,078 83
Paid during the year ending October 31, 1874—
Principal.....	20,000 00
Interest.....	37,303 06
Paid during the year ending October 31, 1875—
Principal.....	64,000 00
Interest	6,416 85
Total	$999,116 57

The bonds and coupons so redeemed remain in the custody of this department, and have been so canceled that while they are evidence of indebtedness paid, they are rendered of no value if abstracted.

The payments made in 1868 were not carried upon the books of this office, nor did the customary warrant issue from the office of the Auditor of State, nor were the large amounts of money derived from the United States accounted for upon the books as a credit of the General Fund, and Three Per Cent. Fund, to which they belonged. The omission of these usual formalities has not only thrown the Three Per Cent. Fund into the confused condition which now exists, but it has occasioned a failure to show in any of the reports of disbursements from the treasury, the large item of $432,133 59, parted with by the State in 1868 for the redemption of bonds and coupons, "on account of Internal Improvement Bonds."

The payments in 1873, 1874 and 1875 were made out of the general fund by virtue of the act of December 12, 1872, and are shown in detail by the books of account, and the reports of the Auditor and Treasurer of State for those years. They amount to $566,982 98.

THE TREASURY SYSTEM.

In September last I had the honor to receive a communication from your Excellency, in the following language :

STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
INDIANAPOLIS, September 6, 1875.

SIR:—I respectfully call your attention to sections nine and ten of “An Act to provide a treasury system for the State of Indiana,” etc., etc., passed March 1, 1859. I desire that your official report soon to be made to me shall contain the exhibit contemplated in those sections, and, especially, that the statement may show “the balance remaining to the credit of each particular fund.”

Will you be pleased to inform me in writing, whether, or not, the books in your office are in such a condition as will enable you to prepare and furnish the information desired.

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor.

In reply thereto I made the following answer :

STATE OF INDIANA,
OFFICE OF THE TREASURER OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, September 9, 1875.

SIR:—In answer to your communication of the 6th, I beg to say I have examined into the matter referred to, and have no doubt I will be able to make a full exhibit in my official report, as contemplated by sections nine and ten of “An Act to provide a treasury system for the State of Indiana," and will endeavor to make the same as complete as your Excellency desires, and to that end, will thoroughly investigate the subject to the best of my ability.

Very respectfully yours,

B. C. SHAW,

Treasurer of State.

In accordance with your directions I have prepared the foregoing report and statements of the operation of the treasury for the past fiscal year, as I think, in accordance with the "treasury system of the State," as made by law.

For the present fiscal year new books will be opened by the Auditor of State, as well as in this office, which will clearly set forth the connection of the various accounts, with the particular fund to which they belong. By balancing monthly, the different fund accounts as the law directs, confusion of the funds will, I trust, be entirely avoided. You will pardon me for introducing your Excellency's letter of inquiry, of September 6, as well as my reply thereto, in which I promise you a thorough investigation of the whole subject, which investigation will, I have reason to hope, place the "Treasury Funds" in their proper condition, and cause them to be respected as such hereafter. To illustrate my statements, and to prove that the treatment of the receipts and disbursements of the treasury for many years past has been erroneous, so far as the different and distinct funds are concerned, I have prepared the following remarks showing the treatment the various funds have received at the hands of their administrators, as they appear from the books of this office, and other public records of the State, examined with a view of finding the cause of the confusion and contradictions apparent on the face of the official reports connected with the treasury department, as well as with a view of correcting the evils complained of, and point out the true condition of the "General and Trust Funds," as you request in your letter, referred to above. That the moneys of the State have been correctly accounted for as a whole treasury, there is no doubt at all, nor has that been a subject of investigation; but the confusion of the funds will be apparent by the examples I will exhibit in the treatment of the trust and general funds.

THE GENERAL FUND.

This principal fund of the treasury, the purpose of which is to maintain the machinery of the State and the public institutions fostered by her, seems to have fallen into confusion and disuse as a fund. A reference to the Auditor of State's report for 1874, page 10, reveals the following statement :

GENERAL FUND.

Balance, November 1, 1873.....	$753,807 86
Received.....	52,120 79
	<hr/>	$805,927 86
Disbursed.....		14,231 96
Balance, October 31, 1874.....		$791,695 90

A reference to another part of this same report, page 17, reveals the following :

There is due to the General Fund from

the College Fund.....	$1,953 33
From the Swamp Land Fund.....	829 80
From the Common School Fund	10,291 94
	<hr/>	$13,075 07

The sum of what is thus shown as a balance of the fund, $791,695 90, and what is shown to be due to it from the above trust funds, $13,075 07, would appear to show a balance in the general fund of $804,770 97, yet the balance of cash in the treasury after deducting therefrom the following amounts due—

To the Surplus Revenue Fund.....	$2,007 52
To the Estates without Heirs.....	4,512 85
To the Three Per Cent. Fund.....	32 13

In all $6,552 50, which is reported as being $237,651 28, or the sum of $567,118 69 less than the apparent balance standing to the credit of the "General Fund." This large discrepancy does not indicate a deficit of cash in the treasury, but an utter misapprehension of the character of the fund, and the nature of its receipts and disbursements. You will find a correct statement of the balance of the general, as well as the trust funds at the end of the last fiscal year, and the beginning of this year, under head of "Statement showing the condition of the various funds in the treasury, November 1, 1874." In this report, made from the books of this office, a comparison of this statement with the report referred to, of the Auditor of State, for 1874, will show how completely the system adopted exhibits the fund as it actually is.

Having with the co-operation of the Auditor of State, placed the fund and its accounts upon their proper basis, I trust you will pardon me if I recapitulate the simple rules applicable to their management which seem to have been overlooked. "An Act concerning the general fund and the expenditure thereon," approved May 13, 1852, (1 Vol. G. & H., page 353), appears to be a substantial re-enactment of the law of 1843, upon the same subject, (R. S. 1843, page 238).

The Act declares, "That the general fund shall consist of—

First, the money, debts and property belonging to the treasury proper, together with the increase and revenue thereof.

Second, money derived from the sale of lots in the city of Indianapolis.

Third, penalties and forfeitures not specially appropriated.

Fourth, moneys received for copies of laws sold.

Fifth, all moneys paid into the treasury and not specifically appropriated to some other fund.

As to expenditures, it declares, that out of said fund shall be paid—

The salaries of executive and administrative officers as fixed by law.

The salaries of judges and prosecuting attorneys as fixed by law.

The salaries of members and officers of the General Assembly and the contingent expenses of the two houses of that body.

Sheriffs' mileage as fixed by law for conveying convicts to the State Prison.

Expense of transporting, repairing and preserving the public arms.

Public printing done for the State.

Incidental expenses of State officers and the Supreme Court.

Contingent expenses of the Governor in the sum not exceeding $1,000 per annum.

All other appropriations of a general or special nature not chargeable to any other fund.

In practice, as I understand it, the account of the General Fund in this office should show the receipts into it from general revenues, special revenues, reversions, escheats and forfeitures, carefully designating the source from which each payment is derived.

After having been once so designated the money received loses the distinctive character which it derived from the source of its payment and becomes merged into and commingled with the other money belonging thereto, forming a common fund for appropriate uses. On the other hand each disbursement therefrom is credited as a payment of the fund "on account of," the purpose mentioned in the warrant authorizing the payment.

The several payments made "on account of," each purpose mentioned on the warrants are at the end of the month carried into the fund account, and the aggregate of disbursements made upon these several accounts, must of necessity be the total disbursements of the fund for the month. These disbursements taken from the balance in the fund at the beginning of the month, with the receipts of the month added, must show the cash balance in the fund at the close of that month's business. The same rules applied at the end of the year must of necessity show the exact condition of each and every treasury fund at the beginning of each fiscal year.

Much of the confusion has been occasioned by a failure to distinguish between the fund itself and its several accounts, as also by a failure to charge to the fund all its receipts, and credit it with all the payments made by it, for example: It is evident to even a casual reader of the "general statement of receipts and disbursements," contained in the Auditor's Report of 1874, that the book-keeper failed to charge to the fund large amounts which the law requires to be paid into it, as notably—receipts are named as follows:

From State Revenue.....	$803,091 97
From The Public Institutions.....	140,897 36
From Temporary Loan Account.....	200,749 46
From Docket Fees, Circuit Courts.....	14,242 38
From Docket Fees, Supreme Court.....	1,500 00

And smaller amounts derived from various other sources, in all amounting to over twelve hundred thousand dollars.

On the other hand he failed to credit the fund with the payments of expenses shown to have been met, amounting to a very large sum, except a small amount of miscellaneous items denominated, for want of a more convenient term, "general fund."

The charging to the fund of miscellaneous amounts received in excess of the miscellaneous items paid, would necessarily, in a few years, place the debit side of the account greatly in excess, and show an unreal balance against it. It is quite evident that the fund was permitted to sink to the dignity of a mere account, with revenues consisting of odds and ends which could not be classified by any other name as appropriately, and at the same time embracing items of expenditure equally as hard to classify, they being miscellaneous general fund accounts.

The balance sheets, which have for a number of years constituted a prominent feature of the Treasurers' reports, are fair samples of the books of accounts kept in this office, and exhibit a novel method of "squaring accounts." For instance, the debit side of the account of telegraphing shows an expenditure during the year of $78 38 for that service, and to make all things even a like sum is carried upon the credit side "to balance." Neither its source, nor its object is made to appear. The balance is neither carried as a charge upon an existing balance of appropriations, (which might have been done, showing a residue of $3,122 02 yet available,) nor was it carried upon the account of the general fund as a credit against revenues received for its payment. All the accounts having been thus closed, and no attention having been paid to exhibiting the condition of the fund of which they are parts, it is not strange that confusion ensued, and the general fund, as such, was virtually abandoned.

No attention has been given in this office to keeping of the appropriation accounts. I have discovered no record which would show me what amount I was authorized to pay without exceeding the limit fixed by law. By diligent examination of the recent laws making special appropriations, and comparison of the amount paid, I have been able to approximate the balances due on the several accounts in favor of the public institutions, and some of the branches of the public service. Those accounts which are sustained by permanent appropriations accruing to their credit as proper claims thereon, are allowed and paid, must necessarily have no balances and the appropriations and disbursements are equal in amount.

I have endeavored to conform strictly to the requirements of the law governing the treasury, as I understand it, and respectfully refer to my monthly statement for October, and the annual statement for the past year, as demonstrating the accuracy and simplicity of the fund accounts as now stated in this report.

THE THREE PER CENT. FUND.

The act of Congress approved April 19, 1816, "To enable the people of Indiana territory to form a constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union," contains among other propositions the following :

"That five per cent. of the net proceeds of the lands lying within the said territory and which shall be sold by Congress from and after the first day of December next, after deducting all expenses incident to the same, shall be reserved for making public roads and canals, of which three fifths shall be applied to those objects within the said State under the direction of the Legislature thereof, and two fifths to the making of a road or roads, leading to the said State, under the direction of Congress."

This proposition was accepted by the ordinance of June 29, 1816, and became operative in favor of the State from December 1, 1816.

An account was forthwith started, between the United States and this State, and large sums of money have been paid to the State as being three per centum of the net proceeds of land sold within her boundaries.

An act concerning the Three Per Cent. Fund and the management thereof, approved May 20, 1852, (1 G. & H. p. 354) requires, "that the money due, or hereafter to become due to this State from the United States on account of the Three Per Cent. Fund, shall be drawn by the Treasurer of State," and it is made his duty to account for the same and pay it over to the several counties for use as provided in the Act of Congress. That I might better understand my duty in this matter, I have taken pains to examine the transactions heretofore had, and find the condition of the fund to be as follows:

The total amount paid to the State at the close of the year 1842, was $512,097.21. No payments have been made directly into the treasury on account of the fund since that year, and this amount is the entire amount appearing upon the books up to this time.

The report of the Treasurer of State for the year ending October 31, 1841, shows existing appropriations to roads and counties, $574,148.58; payments made thereon $488,903.51; balance due on appropriations, $85,245.07; balance on hand $3,341.92. In November, 1842, two payments were made to the State amounting to $8,305.40. Thenceforward disbursements were made to counties on the balances of existing appropriations due them at the rate of $96.56 to each.

The condition of the fund is thus stated in the report of the Auditor of State for 1854: "Balance in the Treasury October 31, 1854, $32.13. Nothing has been received on account of this fund since February, 1844. There is an admitted balance due the State of a pretty large amount, negotiations for the payment of which have been in progress for several years between the authorities of the State and the general government. The difficulty in obtaining the amount acknowledged to be due, arises from the fact that the Government of the United States is the holder of Indiana bonds of a considerable amount, held in trust for other parties, the interest on which has not been paid since 1841."

The balance above given is that appearing on the books of this office from year to year since that day, and is the balance now shown, no change having been made in the account during twenty-one years.

In 1868 the State was engaged in the settlement of her war claims against the general government, in the progress of which a considerable amount was found to be due the State, and was allowed, but not immediately paid. The general government showed that it was the holder of a number of internal improvement bonds of the State on which interest had not been paid since 1841. Of these bonds one hundred and forty-one, with their interest coupons were due, and sixty-nine were not due, but their interest coupons were due up to the date of settlement. The offset of the United States then appeared as follows:

Interest coupons from 1841 to July 1, 1849, on 141 bonds, and from 1841 to January 1, 1855, on 69 bonds.....	$108,208 59
Principal of 141 bonds due January 1, 1857.....	141,000 00
Interest coupons of 141 bonds and further accrued interest to November 1, 1868.....	136,300 00
Interest coupons of 69 bonds from January 1, 1855, to date of payment.....	46,625 00
Total.....	<hr/> $432,133 59

Upon this offset the State was allowed a credit of one hundred and eight thousand two hundred and eight dollars and fifty nine cents, ($108,208.59), on account of three per cent. of the net proceeds of public lands sold within this State, which amount had years before accrued to the credit of the State, but had been withheld and applied temporarily to the discharge of our accruing interest. This credit being deducted left a residue of the offset to our war claim in the sum of $323,925.00. On the 5th day of November 1868, the Governor and officers of State, authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to retain this sum and transfer it to the Secretary of the Interior, who held the bonds. This was done and the bonds and accompanying coupons from 1841 were delivered to the officers of the State and deposited in the treasury vaults where they now are. I respectfully submit that the $108,208.00, used in the redemption of the coupons from 1841 to 1849, and 1855, is an existing charge upon the general fund of the treasury in favor of this trust fund and should be made good. As between the United States and this State, the amount has been paid, but as between the State and her three per cent. fund, it has not been paid. The coupons virtually belong to this fund and are yet unpaid. It remains for the legislature to determine what, if any thing, shall be done to correct the error.

On March 2, 1874, my predecessor received from the United States a further sum of $5,223.81 as the result of a settlement effected by the Attorney General but carried it into the general fund, instead of to the credit of this fund. The general fund is thus laid under charge of this amount and should make it good also. Briefly, the conditions of the fund at this date may be stated as follows:

Cash balance as reported for 21 years.....	$32 13
Due from the general fund for coupons of internal improvement bonds redeemed from the United States with money due the State and belonging to this fund, according to law.....	108,208 59
Due from the general fund as amount erroneously paid into it March 2, 1874.....	5,223 81
Total.....	$113,464 53

Were these amounts paid by the general fund to this trust fund, they would place it in condition to pay the residue of the long standing appropriations to counties for road purposes; and thus keep faith with the United States by applying the money received under the act of April 19, 1816, to that purpose for which it was given.

COLLEGE FUND.

An Act of the General Assembly approved June 17, 1852, and an Act approved March 2, 1859, appear to be the existing statutes defining the manner of receiving and disbursing the revenues of this fund. Section 28 of the act of June 17, 1852, declares "that the University (college) fund shall consist of the lands in Monroe and Gibson counties, and proceeds of sales thereof, and all donations for the use of such University. The principal of which fund when paid into the State treasury shall be loaned and the annual interest thereon applied to the current expenses of the University, etc., etc." Section 33 of the same act provides "that the rate of interest shall be seven per cent., payable annually in advance."

Section 54 provides that "should any interest remain on hand not wanted for the use of the University, the same may be loaned as other funds." As the laws governing the treasury system seems to require that the accounts connected with the working of the various funds shall be closed into the fund itself at the end of each fiscal year, therefore I followed the precedents of the office, when in order to show the condition of the fund—the balances of the interest, damage, costs, expense and excess accounts are charged to the college fund, in which case it would appear to become a part of the principal. In this manner the loan account of the fund, or principal, has been augmented from time to time. Upon examination of the books I find the principal of the fund has been augmented by another process that does not seem to be supported by law as well as the above operation, to illustrate:

Section 32, of the act of June 17, 1852, provides "that no greater sum than five hundred dollars shall be loaned to any one person out of such fund, nor shall the loan be for a longer period than five years, etc., etc." Section 50 of the same act provides that "when any tract of land bid off by the State is sold on a credit, on the execution and delivery of a note and mortgage for the proper amount, as in other cases required, the purchaser shall be entitled to a deed for the same to be made as prescribed in the preceding sections, and the transaction shall be entered and appear upon the Auditor's and Treasurer's books as a payment of the sum bid and a re-loan to the purchaser, and the proper receipts and warrants shall pass therefor."

The present Auditor of State decides that the amount of this "re-loan" only applies to the amount as prescribed in section 32 of the same act quoted above, namely, not to exceed "five hundred dollars to any one person," and that the interest, damages and costs must be paid into the treasury in cash, and placed to the credit of their respective accounts, and consequently are made available for the use and benefit of the State University for current expenses, if needed. But upon examination of the books of this office I find that in many cases the whole amount of the sale, principal, interest, damages and costs, have simply been substituted upon the college loan ledger for the original loan, bearing the same number, and no receipts or warrants passed with the transaction whatever, so far as the sale was concerned.

This accounts for the appearance in the Auditor's Reports of a number of "current loans" each in an amount far exceeding the limit allowed by law. If however, it is contended that sales may lawfully be made of forfeited lands on a credit for a greater sum than $500.00, the amount prescribed as a limit, it certainly would follow that each item that makes up the amount of the sale should be represented by receipts and placed to the credit of their respective accounts. That would place the sum of the accumulations of the fund at the disposal of the trustees of the university, and the result would be that the general fund of the treasury would be contributing to pay the expenses of the institution without any law authorizing it. On the other hand, the substituting process without passing receipts and warrants, is augmenting the college fund principal and loan account, at the expense of the accumulation accounts that are intended by legislators to support the current expense of the college.

By careful examination of these transactions, I find the amount of interest transferred to principal by this process to be $3,278.09. Whether this sum could be made available to the college, if needed, as a corrected error, is a question for your Excellency and the law officers to decide. This fund has appeared to fare better than some of the other trust funds on account of the system heretofore adopted of keeping the accounts, many of the public statements made I find were erroneous, but as they do not affect the condition of the fund and are only chargeable to the misconception of the true and sacred dignity of the fund, I will pass them and show the more important workings of the school fund.

In treating the school fund, I find that I shall be compelled to make a balance sheet from 1859 down to the present time, and for the years 1861 and 1862, depend upon the books of the Auditor of State, as the books of this office for these years are so incomplete, that in a new ledger, made in 1863, the Treasurer was compelled to adopt the balance accounts of the Auditor of State for the end of the fiscal year 1862, even the Auditor's accounts for this fund during these two years were not posted, and after making up that account correctly, I find the Treasurer, in adopting the Auditor of State's reported balances, adopted the errors referred to in my treatment of the school fund further along in this report.

COMMON SCHOOL FUND AND SCHOOL REVENUE FOR TUITION.

Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Indiana, (Section 2), declares that "the Common School Fund shall consist of: the Congressional Township Fund, and the lands belonging thereto; the Surplus Revenue Fund; the Saline Fund, and the lands belonging thereto; the Bank Tax Fund, and the fund arising from the 114th Section of the charter of the State Bank of Indiana; the fund to be derived from the sale of County Seminaries, and the moneys and property heretofore held for such seminaries; from the fines assessed for breaches of the penal laws of the State; and from all forfeitures which may accrue. All lands and other estates which shall escheat to the State for want of heirs or kindred entitled to the inheritance. All lands that have been, or may hereafter be, granted to the State where no special purpose is expressed in the grant, and the proceeds of the sales thereof; including the proceeds of the sales of the swamps lands granted to the State of Indiana by the act of Congress of the 28th of September, 1850, after deducting the expense of selecting and draining the same. Taxes on the property of corporations that may be assessed by the General Assembly for Common School purposes."

Section 3 declares, "the principal of the Common School Fund shall remain a perpetual fund, which may be increased, but shall never be diminished, and the income thereof shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of Common Schools and to no other purpose whatever."

Section 4 declares, "the General Assembly shall invest in some safe and profitable manner, all such portions of the Common School Fund as have not heretofore been entrusted to the several counties; and shall make provision by law for the distributions among the several counties of the interest thereof."

Section 6 declares, "the several counties shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of the said fund as may be intrusted to them and for the payment of the annual interest thereon."

Section 7 declares that, "all Trust Funds held by the State shall remain inviolate and be faithfully and exclusively^{and} applied to the purposes for which the trust was created."

By an Act of the General Assembly approved March 6, 1865, an annual levy of sixteen cents tax on each one hundred dollars of taxable property of the State, and a fifty cents poll tax is made for tuition purposes. It also describes the class of licenses and fees and the income from the principal as revenue for tuition, and requires that it shall be applied to that purpose only, without expense of collection or disbursement. It also provides in conformity with section 6 of the Constitution, that counties are liable for and shall pay the interest on the whole amount of the fund entrusted to their care, fully and completely each year; whether the interest has been collected from the borrowers of the fund or not.

All the laws on the statute books make it very clear what constitutes the Tuition Fund, and this is the fund known on the books of this department as the Common School Fund. In my statement of the condition of this fund, in the preceding tables of this report, I show a deficit, or that the fund for tuition had been overdrawn to the amount of $17,572.43. This is correct as taken from the books for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875.

Soon after the publication of my annual statement, on the first Monday of November, in which the same over-draft is published, I received the following official note from the Hon. James H. Smart, Superintendent of Public Instruction:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

INDIANAPOLIS, November 15, 1875.

SIR:—In your annual statement of the condition of the State Treasury, for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875, you show a deficit of $17,562.43 in the account of the Common School Revenue for tuition. By reference to the records of this department, it appears that there should have been in the treasury at that date, a balance of $118,512.59, to the credit of said account. If the various amounts which constitute the School Revenue for tuition, and which were due that account on October 31, 1875, as shown by our books have been properly credited thereto, there should be the balance to our credit as indicated above. I respectfully request that you make a thorough examination of the case, that the facts may fully appear in your forthcoming report. The books and records of this office are at your disposal for examination and comparison.

JAMES H. SMART,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Prompted by this note, as well as the promise made to your Excellency, I promised to make as thorough an investigation of the condition of the fund as possible, and in order to give a clear and concise report of its condition, it became necessary to examine the constitution of the State, and the laws made in pursuance thereof, from time to time, by the General Assembly, some of which I quote to show how closely guarded from loss are both the principal and the "revenue for tuition," if properly administered. Among the first things that appeared to be confused in the accounts, were the transactions had in pursuance of the following law:

Section 118 of An Act approved March 11, 1861, provides as follows:

"The State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall on the days fixed by Section 113 of this act, for his apportionment of said revenue in each, add to the sum total of said revenue in readiness in each county for apportionment, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars of the State's indebtedness to the schools; which additions shall continue to be made at each apportionment until the whole of said indebtedness, together with six per cent. interest thereon, from the time said indebtedness accrued, is paid; the amount of which debt and interest shall be settled and adjusted by and between the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Auditor of State," etc., etc.

The law in the section quoted does not name the amount of this indebtedness, nor its nature, but upon examination of the Auditor of State's Report of 1860, I found that he calls the balance in the School Fund, a lelt of the State, as follows: "Total due from the State, October 31, 1860, $303,921.68." This sum was made up of balances of receipts in excess of disbursements during that and the preceding years, and had been reported as a debt the State owed the schools. Under the laws of the treasury system of Indiana, this was only a balance in the treasury belonging to the School Fund for tuition, and was subject to distribution at the pleasure or duty of the School Superintendent. But as the fund balance, in disregard of the constitution and the laws of the State, had been diverted to other use than tuition, this law appears to have been enacted with the intention of preventing the bankruptcy of the treasury by the sudden distribution of the School Fund balance.

In pursuance of the law of 1861, the School Superintendent added $25,000 of this balance, or debt, to the apportionment for the Spring distribution of 1862, but omitted it from some cause in the October apportionment. In the next and each succeeding year he did apportion $25,000 at each semi-annual distribution, as the records show until in October, 1867, when the records show that after enumerating the various sums and their source, ready for apportionment, was added from State's indebtedness (balance of principal due), $15,573.56.

Now, according to the record, this being the balance of the principal, and there having been in all, the sum of $265,573.56 apportioned and distributed to the counties, it would evidently appear that the principal of the "State's indebtedness" was paid as required by the law which provided for its gradual payment. This amount of principal paid to the schools you will bear in mind was really a balance belonging to the fund, and had been accredited to the fund as receipts lawfully belonging to it and to no other fund whatever, therefore it was right and proper to pay it out to the counties upon school distribution warrants without any further entries being made upon the Auditor and Treasurer of State's books; but the interest that the State had contracted to pay the School Fund was in the nature of a debt, an amount of money that the State agreed to pay the schools, as interest upon the balances due the fund by the treasury from the date this balance "accrued until paid." The records show that in October, 1867, the "balance of principal due" was apportioned. Therefore any further amounts added to apportionments on account of the State's indebtedness were made to pay the interest, and the record shows that in the years 1868, 1869 and 1870, the regular additions of $25,000 was made to the apportionment each May and October, in all the sum of $150,000.00. In the absence of any record made by the Superintendent or Auditor, I am bound to conclude that this amount was the sum agreed upon as the just amount of interest the State should pay on the School Fund balance. This amount then being in the nature of a debt, it follows that the whole amount of the $150,000.00 should have been paid out of the general revenues of the State, and required that transfer warrants should have been issued by the Auditor of State against the General Fund, and the amount placed to the credit of the Common School Fund as a receipt on account of the State's interest.

This not having been done, as the books of this office as well as the Auditor of State's clearly show, the result of the operation is, that the amount distributed on that account was School Fund money received from some other source and not a payment of this interest debt of the State at all; or in other words, it shows the remarkable financial transaction, of paying a debt to the schools with the money already in the School Fund for tuition. I have, therefore, to conclude that this debt has never been paid, so far as the interest is concerned, and that the General Fund owes the School Fund $150,000 00 on that account, which remains to be provided for, unless the fund was so ingeniously robbed of its money in this pretended payment that the friends of the public schools shall consider the settlement a final one, and the Common School Fund a victim of circumstances or misplaced confidence.

Had this been a transaction between an individual and a bank, and there had been a contract made, by and between the bank and its depositor, in regard to the payment of a deposit balance of the same nature and terms of this law, in regard to the gradual payment of the balance or deposit, and also declaring in the contract, that interest should be paid the depositor, from the dates upon which that balance accrued, until paid and the business relations had continued, the banker making collections and receiving deposits from the customer, and at the stipulated times of the contract, charging the individual with the amount paid him for the interest due on the balances, without giving the depositor credit as a receipt on the other side of the ledger, on that account. The depositor, when notified that his account was overdrawn, would be surprised but might not be able to discover the cause of the apparent deficit, but when, in after years, the depositor should discover that the pretended payments were fraudulent, and would show to the courts that such pretended payments were no payments at all, I have no doubt that the depositor could maintain an action on the contract, and recover judgment for the whole amount of these pretended payments and the stipulated or lawful interest from the date of each of such pretended payments, to the date of judgment, adding the amount of such interest to the whole amount of said supposed payments in making up the amount of the judgment against the bank.

If the State is held to as rigid an account, then as citizens, doing business under her laws, the amount to add to the original sum of these supposed payments would be for interest on the deferred payments to November 1, 1875, $56,250.00, or that on account of the non-fulfillment of the contract on the part of the State with this Trust Fund, that the seventh section of the Constitution declares shall be held inviolate, the General Fund owes the School Fund, on account of the State's indebtedness, the sum of $206,250.00. Finding that the reports of the receipts and disbursements as regards the fund are incorrect, notably in 1861 and 1862, from incorrect amounts and postings carried to the fund, I have had tables prepared showing the receipts and disbursements of the fund from 1859 to the end of this fiscal year. The most notable errors are in the two following cases: at the close of the year 1860, the Auditor of State reports the "excess of receipts over disbursements $48,848.17," to which he adds balance due November 1, 1859. The amount of this excess was dropped from the books and no where appear again to the credit of the fund as they only carry to the books of 1861, the balance due the fund November 1, 1859, to-wit: $255,073.51. In the year 1861 in balancing the amount of receipts on account of "Delinquent School Tax of 1859," they name the sum at $65,281.51, just $10,000.00 too much, as shown in this table for that year; again, in the year 1873, the Auditor failed to draw a warrant for the payment of the State's interest on the non-negotiable bonds, the amount of which should have been, $117,143.49, as the October installment for that year. This amount properly paid, would have been another credit to the School Fund of that amount, yet at the end of the year the fund is reported overdrawn. By reference to these tables, you will observe that instead of the fund having been overdrawn as reported in the statements accompanying this report, as well as for several years past, there is a large balance in fund that should have been apportioned to the schools. By what means the corrections can be made, I beg to refer to your Excellency, and the law officers of the State.

Ad^d balance of 1859, to show total amount for distribution for 16 years, ending Oct. 31, 1875.....

In the amount charged to distribution in the year 1860 is included a charge for expense of the fund of $470, which, deducted from $545,827 gives $68,350, the net amount distributed that year, and deducted from $19,042,293.29 gives $19,041,823.29, the net of the total distributions.

The corrected balance table shows that the balance in the fund at the end of the fiscal year, October 31, 1875, by the books should have been.....	$21,156 42
Add amount of the pretended payments of interest on the State's debt in 1868, 1869 and 1870.....	150,000 00
Add interest upon the amount of these pretended payments to October 31, 1875.....	56,250 00

Total amount due the fund October 31, 1875.....	$344,549 91

To leave out the interest on the pretended payments of 1868, 1869 and 1870, we still have an indisputable balance established to the credit of the Common School Fund, and had the fund been properly administered during the past sixteen years, according to law, and accredited with all of its lawful receipts, the balance stated in this report from the books, for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875, would have been as stated $288,299.91. In this, as in the other funds, the confusion appears to arise on account of not making an absolute separation of the fund accounts and closing the balance of each separate account into the fund itself at the close of the fiscal year.

Had the monthly statements of the receipts and disbursements of the treasury, by and through its various funds been separately made, and not as a whole treasury in account with the cash, the confusion of the funds would not have been as likely to occur. If mistakes had been made, the effort to balance the funds with the cash, would have detected the error and it would have at once been corrected. The cash account with receipts and disbursements is doubtless correct, but accounts between the State and her trust funds, as I think I have clearly shown, are grossly incorrect. The condition of the School Fund has frequently been seriously discussed by various Auditors of the State and the Superintendents of Public Instruction, but resulting in the discomfiture of the Superintendent, he being required to make his distributions with a view of cutting down the deficit of the fund, as carried on the books of the Auditor's office, and doubtless the process would have continued until a balance appeared to the credit of the School Fund, for it seems that the system adopted for keeping the accounts of the treasury were so satisfactory to the officials that the contradictory statements of official reports did not even excite enough attention to the subject to cause a trial of the complete and harmonious method directed in keeping the accounts and making reports laid down in the "Treasury System of Indiana," until your Excellency caused it to be adopted and used by the present officials. Had this system been adopted as the law contemplated, at the end of every month the public would have been apprised by the published treasury statements, of the exact condition of the Trust Funds, and their despoilation would not have occurred, for the necessary legislation would have provided the means to keep them in their true, independent and inviolate condition in the State Treasury.

The law made by section 2 of an act approved March 6, 1865, clearly sets forth that the proper title for the principal of the School Fund is, "Common School Fund," and describes of what it shall consist. It also as clearly sets forth that the School Tax, Liquor Licenses, Unclaimed Fees, the accumulation of interest on the principal, etc., shall be denominated the "School Revenue for Tuition." Therefore I conclude, that the two funds, under their respective names, clearly defined in this section, should be carried upon the respective books of the Auditor and Treasurer of State, and that the accounts of receipts and disbursements heretofore turned into the Common School Fund, should be charged and credited to the fund of "School Revenue for Tuition," and all forfeitures and other items of receipts that belong to the principal should be credited to the "Common School Fund" as well as funds arising from estates without heirs, swamp lands, and all other receipts that go to swell the principal, by the present or future laws.

Early in my administration of this department, Mr. Simon Yandes, as receiver of one of the branches of the State Bank of Indiana, paid into the Treasury, $1,339.65 on account of the final dividend to the State. This amount was incorrectly credited to the General Fund, when by reference to the 114th section of the Charter of the State Bank, I find that it was a receipt belonging to the School Fund principal; there was also one receipt of $183.63 for forfeited recognizances entered to the credit of the Common School Fund, which, according to law, belongs to the principal, but there being no fund other than that belonging to tuition, it is merged with that. On the other hand, in the account of estates without heirs, in the Auditor of State's report of November 1, 1862, he names the balance in the fund at $5,899.61. This balance was made by an error in the calculation. The correct balance was $4,842.23. The error was carried to the credit of the fund from year to year down to the end of the fiscal year in 1872, when the balance is reported $17,066.55.

By an act of the General Assembly, approved March 11, 1872, this amount reported by the Auditor of State, was transferred to the School Fund principal, and become a portion of the non-negotiable bond, authorized by that act, thus making a charge against the general revenues of the State to the amount of $1,057.38 more than the items merged into the bond should have shown. This being a legislative act, it would seem to be beyond the power of administrative officials to correct, but the other two irregularities can be corrected by opening the accounts with the two school funds as suggested above, and making the necessary transfers to adjust the accounts between the principal and Tuition Funds.

The Auditor of State will adjust another matter that this investigation discloses, in this, that reports made by the County Auditors to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, require a statement of the amount of loanable principal, at each rate of 7 and 8 per cent. interest, the total interest of the Fund must be made good by counties, and that amount is charged by the Superintendent in his make-up of totals, ready for apportionment, and consequently distributed to the counties by the Auditor's warrants on the tuition fund in the treasury, whereas, many times the settlement sheets certified to the Auditor of State, only report the amount collected from the borrowers of the Fund, thus leaving a deficit in that account. The whole amount of the interest due having been distributed by warrants to the various counties, as reported to the Superintendent, the result is that the general revenues of the State have made good the interests of such delinquencies on the part of counties. By requiring the same statements to be made upon the certified settlement report, as those made to the Superintendent, the Auditor of State will be able to maintain justice between the counties and the State.

In many instances these discrepancies have been corrected after getting the Superintendent's official distribution sheet containing the items and source of amounts declared ready for distribution before issuing distribution warrants, but the records appear to show that in many cases the corrections have not been made, and the exact condition of these accounts and source of revenue I find impossible to determine in time for this report. On the other hand I find the receipts in some other accounts of the Tuition Fund have been greatly in excess of the amounts apportioned by the Superintendent. Upon comparison of the receipts as shown by the books of this office for the past eight years, with the records of the department of Public Instruction, I find the excess of the liquor license account too be $24,886.00; the excess of unclaimed fees to be $11,040.15, as well as an apparent excess in the tax account of a considerable sum. Prior to that time the records of the Superintendent's office are too obscure and indefinite to calculate with certainty its condition, but these excesses of receipts, not reported to the Superintendent, assisted largely in keeping the balance of the Fund between the books of this office and the Superintendent's nearer equal than they otherwise would have been on account of the failures to pay to the credit of the Tuition Fund the large amounts heretofore referred to. The working of this fund appears to suggest that there should be more comparison and a closer relationship between the department of Public Instruction and the Treasury Department, which is the custodian of the Tuition Fund.

The other Trust Funds have received at the hands of the Auditor all the attention that their interest appears to require in his report, to which I beg to refer you for their condition and workings.

Before closing this report, justice requires that I should say that in arriving at the facts, and the true condition of these funds, I am greatly indebted to the Auditor of State, Hon. E. Henderson, and his faithful deputies, Mr. John H. Percy, and Mr. T. B. Messick. To S. R. Downey, Esq., your Secretary, I am under lasting obligations for his valuable assistance in pointing out public documents that explained and corroborated the showing our books made. Hon. Jas. H. Smart, Superintendent of Public Instruction, seemed as anxious to find the records of his office corroborated, and a good balance established in favor of the schools as if it was a personal matter with himself. To that end he gave very valuable assistance.

My own deputy, Mr. Wm. O. Foley, who has carefully and patiently, "in season and out of season," labored with the records, making calculations, tracing the workings of accounts requiring great research and demonstrating the correctness of the conclusions arrived at, has proved that the great confidence I have reposed in him for faithfulness and ability has not been misplaced.

I have the honor to be sir, your most obedient servant,

B. C. SHAW,
Treasurer of State.

of the School Law.

JAMES H. SMART,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The increase in school population during the past seven years has been as follows, viz:

A WRONG SET RIGHT.

By reference to the United States census of 1870, it appears that there were in the State of Indiana at that time, 26,783 children between the ages of 10 and 21 who could neither read nor write. After patient and careful inquiry, it was thought that the number of illiterate children was much smaller than was shown by this statement. Having all the machinery necessary for taking an accurate census of the school population, it was determined to make a separate enumeration of all illiterates between the ages of 10 and 21. This was done at the time of taking the last enumeration. In seventy-nine counties of the State, the reports show that there were but 4,234 illiterate children between the ages of 10 and 21. Upon the supposition that the counties that did not report, contain the same proportion of illiterates as the other counties, the total number of illiterates in the State would be 4,922.

While it is probable that a large share of those reported as illiterates by the United States Census in 1870 have now become of age and are therefore not included in the report taken by our school officers, a careful analysis of the facts will show one of two things to be true—that the census did us great injustice, or that our teachers have been doing right royal work during the past five years.

II. SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Number of white males enrolled in the schools	264,041
Number of white females enrolled in the schools	231,670
Total number of white children enrolled....		495,711
Number of colored males enrolled in the schools	3,422
Number of colored females enrolled in the schools.....	3,229
Total number of colored children enrolled		6,651
Total number of children enrolled in the schools during the year ending September 1, 1875		502,362

A careful inspection of the returns from several hundred school corporations, shows that about 28 per cent. of all children enumerated, and 15 per cent. of all children enrolled in the schools are over 15 years of age. Taking this with other quite reliable data, we construct the following interesting table, viz:

Number of children enumerated under 15 years of age.....		480,770
Number enrolled in public schools under 15 years of age.....	427,008
Number enrolled in private schools, (estimated)	30,000
Total number between 6 and 15 receiving scholastic training.....		457,008
Number not in school last year.....		23,762

Thus it appears that 95 per cent. of our school population between the ages of 6 and 15 received some scholastic training last year.

COMMENTS ON THE MANAGEMENT OF THE SCHOOL FUNDS AND REVENUES.

1. That part of the school moneys which is made by law the permanent principal, is denominated "School Fund." The interest derived from this fund, together with the State tax for school purposes, unclaimed fees, etc., is denominated, "Revenue for Tuition," and is annually expended for the payment of teachers' salaries. This distinction is not always observed, and the terms "Revenue" and "Fund" are used interchangeably. It sometimes results from this, that moneys which belong to the permanent fund are distributed as revenues, and revenues sometimes find their way into the permanent fund. Several errors which have arisen from this confusion of terms have recently been corrected by the Auditor of State.

One of the most important questions upon which the decision of this Department has been demanded during the year, was one which grew out of this confusion of terms. The liquor law of March 17, 1875, provides that the proceeds of the licenses issued by county authorities shall "be paid into the school fund of the county in which such licenses are obtained." There is no county school fund, each county holds a part of the Common School Fund of the State. If the proceeds of the licenses were paid into this fund, it would become a part of the permanent school fund, and the interest thereon would be distributed all over the State. It was evidently the intention of the Legislature that the proceeds of the liquor licenses in a county should inure to the benefit of the children in that specific county. The principle seemed to be, that where much liquor was sold, there should the schoolmaster most abound. Upon consultation with the Attorney General, it was decided to recommend that the proceeds of the liquor licenses in each county be retained in that county and be distributed as revenue for tuition to the various school corporations, in proportion to the number of school children enumerated therein. This recommendation has been adopted by the Auditors of all the counties, as far as I have been able to ascertain.

2. The chief sources whence the school fund has been increased, are quite exhausted. The school lands are nearly all disposed of and additions to the fund by appreciation in the value of what remains, will not be very large. The additions to the fund from fines, forfeitures, etc., last year, amounted to $50,014.77. Should the schoolmaster do his whole duty, the additions to the fund from this source in the future may possibly diminish. At all events they will not be large enough to keep pace with the increase in the school population. While the school fund of Indiana is now larger than that of any other State, it will not long remain so, unless some wise provisions are made for its more rapid growth. Some further grants of lands to the States for educational purposes may possibly be made by Congress, but it is not wise to depend upon this aid.

Article VIII, Section 2, of the Constitution, provides, that "The Common School Fund shall consist of the Congressional Township Fund, etc., and the taxes on the property of corporations that may be assessed by the General Assembly for Common School purposes." What the intent of the latter clause is, I do not know; but it is certain that enough has not been produced from this provision to pay the printer for setting it in type. It seems to confer upon the Legislature a power which it has never yet seen fit to exercise.

3. The Constitution provides that the "principal of the Common School Fund shall remain a perpetual fund, which may be increased, but shall never be diminished, and the income thereof shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of common schools and to no other purpose whatever;" and that "the several counties shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of said fund as may be intrusted to them, and for the payment of the annual interest thereon."

Although guarded by these strong constitutional provisions, the school fund and revenues are subject to losses from various causes. A large proportion of the fund has been loaned by county authorities on real estate mortgages. Under the law, the amount loaned can not exceed one-half the appraised value of the security. When these lands become forfeited for non-payment of interest, as they sometimes do, it is not infrequently the case that they can not be sold for enough to cover the amount of the loan. The county often holds the lands and pays the annual interest on the principal. The same forfeiture occurs in case of the sale of school lands. If counties promptly pay the annual interest on the principal, the school revenues are not diminished by the forfeiture, but the fact remains that the fund has been actually diminished, or that a part of it is represented by land not worth half its nominal value. The only way to keep the funds intact, is to provide for a more speedy sale of forfeited lands, and to require the counties to make up any deficiency which may thus result to the fund.

4. Although the law requires the interest on all loans of the School Fund to be paid into the county treasury by borrowers in advance, the interest account was, on November 15, 1875, so far in arrears that the counties were required to pay out of their general fund the following amounts to balance the account, viz:

On Common Fund.....	$16,076 26
On Congressional Fund.....	14,895 53
Total.....	$30,911 79

A part of this interest may have been for small amounts of the fund not loaned, but the greater proportion of it should have been paid by borrowers and not by the counties. Several counties were thus obliged to pay over $1,000 each. This subject should have the careful attention of the Legislature.

5. The Congressional Fund is a fund owned by the Congressional townships of the State. It is managed, however, by county Auditors, who pay the proceeds thereof to the several Congressional townships interested. The Congressional townships are not always identical with the civil townships, and it often happens that a Congressional township lies partly in one county and partly in another. In such cases, the Auditors must keep separate accounts of the funds, loans, etc., belonging to each Congressional township, while the revenue thereof must be paid to the civil township officers, there being no Congressional township officers. This multiplicity of accounts often produces confusion and waste. If the various Congressional township funds could be consolidated into a common county fund, they could be more easily and safely managed. I think this can be accomplished in a way that will not do injustice to a single township in the State. In my report to the Legislature, I shall have the honor to present a bill for this purpose.

6. The County Auditors are required by law to report to this Department, semi-annually, the amount of Congressional Township Revenue collected and ready for apportionment in their respective counties. They are also required subsequently to distribute this Congressional Revenue to the various townships, and to make a report thereof to this Department. It was the evident intent of the law, that the latter report should be a check upon the former. But the fact is, that in more than one-half of the counties, the report of distribution made last June did not agree with the report of the amount ready for distribution previously made. In view of this fact, I issued the following circular to the County Auditors, which, it is hoped, will secure more accurate reports in relation to the matter.

OFFICE OF
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

TO COUNTY AUDITORS:

The Auditors' reports of the distribution of Congressional Township School Revenue for Tuition, as required by Section 118 of the School Law, do not in a majority of cases agree with the Auditors' Semi-annual reports of said Revenue previously made, in accordance with Section 110.

It will greatly simplify the work of this Department if the following rules be observed by the County Auditors, which are deemed to be in accordance with the spirit and intent of the law, viz:

1. The exact amount reported in the Auditor's Semi-annual Report for December, as the total income from the Congressional Fund, should be the precise amount apportioned to the various townships in the following January.

2. All collections of Congressional Township School Revenue made, over and above that which is reported in said Semi-Annual, should be held and reported in the May, 1876, Semi-Annual Report.

In case these rules were not carried out in the June distribution of 1875, it may be, for this one occasion, impossible to carry out the first rule. If so, it is requested, that in the coming distribution, the interest account be balanced up to November 15, 1875, and that a statement be made upon the January report of distribution, of the cause which occasioned the departure from Rule 1.

JAS. H. SMART,
Superintendent Public Instruction.

Indianapolis, Dec. 20, 1875.

7. Additions are being constantly made to the Common School Fund. The law is not definite as to whether interest should be paid on these additions from the time they are made, up to the time when the annual settlement between the counties and the State Superintendent is effected, or whether a full year's interest shall be required on the gross amount of fund held on the day of settlement. If the former rule were adopted, it would result in endless confusion in the accounts of this Department. In view of the fact that County Auditors are required by law to exact interest on all loans in advance, some of my predecessors have thought that the latter rule was the best that could be made under the circumstances. Nearly all the counties comply with it, but I am satisfied that its operation works a hardship to some of them. It often occurs that counties settle with the Auditor of State several weeks before the report of additions to the school funds reaches this office. It is then very difficult to correct the errors which frequently occur in the settlement.

Upon conference with the Auditor of State, I have decided to recommend to the County Auditors that the interest account be made up on the amounts of fund held in June of each year, as shown by the Commissioners' annual report to this Department. By adopting this basis of settlement, the precise amount of interest which each county must pay to balance the year's account, can be determined as early as August first. Each County Treasurer, and the Auditor of State, can be informed of the facts, and thus four-fifths of all the difficulties spoken of in this and in the succeeding paragraph can be avoided.

8. The law requires the County Auditors to report to this Department all proceeds of the State tax for Common School purposes, and also the amount of interest due on the Common School Fund held by their respective counties. The law also requires the County to report the same items to the Auditor of State, and to pay the respective amounts into the State Treasury.

The amounts reported to this office, together with other items, form the basis of the semi-annual apportionment of Common School Revenue for Tuition. The aggregate amount paid into the State Treasury has never at any one settlement except the last, agreed with the amount reported to this Department.

Thus the accounts of this office and those of the State Treasurer never balance, and our books never show the amount of money actually in the State Treasury to the credit of the account of Common School Revenue for Tuition. Reports from former State Auditors, have shown that the discrepancy was at one time apparently $72,000.00. It has been supposed that these differences arose from the fact that the County Treasurers pay in the aggregate, into the State Treasury, a less amount than the County Auditors report to this office. A recent comparison between our accounts and those of the Treasurer of State develops the fact that such is not the case, and that instead of the balance being against the revenue account, it should have been largely in its favor.

The following correspondence will show the general conclusions arrived at by the State Treasurer, as a result of this comparison, viz;

INDIANAPOLIS, NOVEMBER 15, 1875.

HON. B. C. SHAW,

Treasurer of State:

SIR:—In your annual statement of the condition of the State Treasury for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875, you show a deficit of $17,562.43 in the account of Common School Revenue for Tuition. By reference to the records of this Department, it appears that there should have been in the Treasury at that date, a balance of $118,512.59 to the credit of said account. If the various amounts which were due that account on October 31, 1875, as shown by our books, have been properly accredited thereto, there should be a balance to our credit as indicated above.

I respectfully request that you make a thorough examination of the case, that the facts may fully appear in your forthcoming report. The books and records in this office are at your disposal for examination and comparison.

Very Respectfully Yours,

J. H. SMART,

Superintendent Public Instruction.

INDIANAPOLIS, DECEMBER 17, 1875.

HON. JAMES H. SMART,

Superintendent Public Instruction:

SIR:—In answer to your communication of November 15, I have the honor to inform you that the statement made of the deficit in the school fund November 1, 1875, is correct according to the books of this office for the past year, with the deficit of 1874 carried into the debit side of the account. But upon examination of the books from 1859 down to the present, I find the balance due the fund October 31, 1875, should have been $21,156.42, and if errors of omission can be corrected, the account will stand as follows:

Balance due the fund as shown by the face of the books, corrected.....	$21,156 42
Due the fund on account of the State's indebtedness for the years 1868, 1869 and 1870.....	150,000 00
Due the fund on account of the State's interest not paid, but due October 31, 1873.....	117,143 49
Balance due October 31, 1875	$288,299 91

Should interest be allowed on the pretended payments to the fund in the years 1868, 1869 and 1870, but not paid, $56,250.00 would be added on that account. The balance due October 31, 1875, would then amount to $344,549.91.

In my report of the condition of the treasury to the Governor, for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1875, I have made a complete table showing the receipts and disbursements of the school fund for tuition, from the close of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1859, to October 31, 1875, which, I trust, will be satisfactory to His Excellency and a complete answer to your request in your note referred to above.

Very Respectfully Yours,

B. C. SHAW,

Treasurer of State.

This whole subject has been so thoroughly discussed by the Auditor of State and by the State Treasurer in their annual reports, that I need not refer to it at greater length. I may say, however, that the Auditor has issued warrants on the State Treasury transferring from the general fund to the account of Revenue for Tuition, $155,872.34, so that there is now a balance in favor of said account, which will be distributed at the next semi-annual apportionment. It is hoped that the Legislature will, at its next session, authorize the transfer to the tuition account of such amounts as may be discovered to be due thereto. The plan suggested at the close of paragraph 7 will, if carried out, keep the books of this office balanced with those of the other State officers.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The future welfare of the State depends, in a great degree, upon the quality of the training which our children are now receiving. This being so, it is of the highest importance that the work in our school-rooms be done wisely and well. The greatest defect in our system comes as a result of the employment of novices as instructors of our children. The greatest need of the schools is thoroughly trained teachers. They need men and women who are not only right minded, pure hearted and intelligent, but who have been prepared for their work by a course of systematic study and practice. I think our Normal School affords superior advantages for this needed preparation. This school educates, of course, but a small proportion of the teachers required for the State, but its influence reaches hundreds of teachers who never enter its walls. It is sending out its students into our cities and larger towns, who, through the influence of better methods and by normal work in township and county institutes, lead their associates to a higher standard of excellence. Thus there is established a secondary normal school in almost every county in the State. The school is rapidly widening its influence and it ought to be adequately supported.

I am glad to say that the financial affairs of the institution are managed in a business-like manner. In proof of this it is necessary to state the fact only that the third story of the normal building, including the main stairways and the large hall, has been finished in a thorough and workmanlike manner for $7,500, an amount less than one-third of the estimated cost.

THE SYSTEM.

Our school system has become a vast and complicated machine. It employs nearly 2,000 officers to manage it. It educates more than half a million of children and costs four millions of dollars annually. It extends its influence into every community, into every household. The welfare of every member of the commonwealth is involved in its proper management. It is doing a work of incalculable benefit to us all. It would be worth supporting if it should cost far more than it now costs. That there is opportunity of great waste in its management, and that it is capable of doing much more good than it is now doing, there can be no reasonable doubt. The funds may be mismanaged, the revenues may be misapplied, extravagant buildings may be erected and ignorance and incompetency may rule in our school-rooms. These will make the system weak. The people have the right to demand economy in all things; they will permit extravagance in nothing. They have the right, also, to demand that the best teaching talent which the money will buy, shall be placed in charge of the children of the commonwealth. Intelligent economy does not require that our system cost less, but that it produce more. Let every school officer then, have a care how he executes the trust which the State imposes upon him: let every person who assumes the important and dignified office of teacher realize in himself all that is pure and noble and good so that he may teach by the power of a perfect example as well as by precept; then will our schools become so strong that no man will dare attempt to destroy them.

"There is no subject to which I could call your attention in respect to which your responsibility is greater than any measure materially affecting the success and influence of the schools. Your responsibility and mine are too great to allow any important action upon hastily formed or ill-digested opinions. The guiding sentiment should be economy in expenditure, and efficiency in the system. Neither should be sacrificed to the other. The school fund is sacred to a cause of the highest importance, and its waste or extravagant use, would be a crime against society.

As representatives of the people we have occasion to be proud of the high character which our educational system maintains, and the people will approve the sentiment if you give it expression in legislation, that, in respect to the cause of common school education, we will take no step backwards."

The sentiment of the above extracts taken from the last legislative message of your Excellency, will be endorsed by every true friend of the schools in the State. And while the truest political economy demands that our schools be adequately supported and intelligently directed, all will unite in the condemnation of any man, who, for personal gain or for partisan ends, aims a blow at our schools by involving them in the angry strifes of political controversy.

Respectfully submitted,

JAS. H. SMART,

Superintendent Public Instruction.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE . .

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

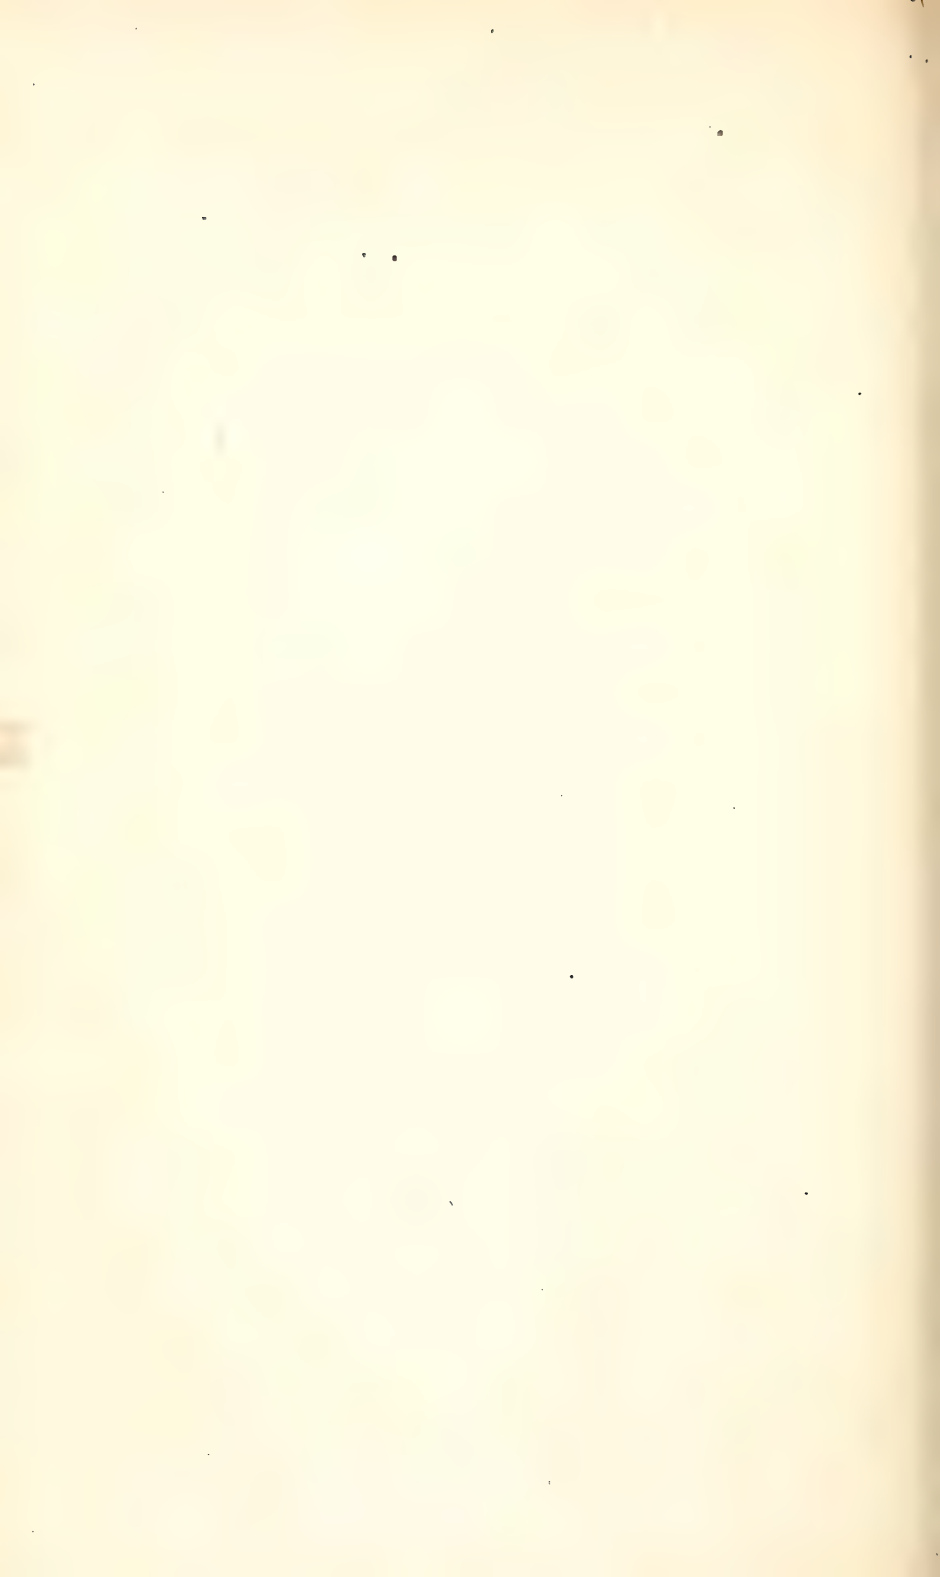

OF THE

Indiana State Normal School

FOR THE YEAR 1875.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:
SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.
1875.

REPORT.

TERRE HAUTE, November 27, 1875.

To His Excellency,

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

SIR—The Board of Trustees of the State Normal School have the honor to make their Ninth Annual Report, showing the condition, expenditures, and educational work of the institution under their care, since their last report.

The improvements under contract, consisting of steam heating apparatus, and fixtures for supplying the building with water, have been completed. Favorable opportunity has not been afforded for testing the capacity and efficiency of the steam apparatus. The contractors, however, have given satisfactory guarantees that the work shall give satisfaction.

When our report was made one year ago, these additions to the building, together with our indebtedness—which had accumulated the preceding years—were estimated to cost $26,711.25. To liquidate this indebtedness, an appropriation was made at the last session of the legislature of $22,168.00, leaving a balance unpaid of $4,543.25. The payment of this must await an appropriation of the legislature.

On the reception of the $10,000.00 appropriated by the last Legislature for the completion of the building, fencing lot, improvement of grounds, etc., we caused estimates to be made for the completion of the two main stairways and of the third story, for repairs of roof, and for two water-closets; and finding the estimates within the amount appropriated, said improvements were put under contract, and are all very nearly completed. The work is done in a good and substantial manner.

We have reserved of this appropriation $600.00 to meet one-half the estimates for a wood-and-iron fence, and for the ornamentation of the grounds. A like sum has been conceded as proper to be furnished by the city of Terre Haute for that object; but no appropriation having yet been made by that city, said improvements remain in suspense, awaiting their action, under their obligation to meet one-half the expenses for "necessary repairs incident to keeping in proper order the building or buildings, and the grounds of the same."

The school trustees of Terre Haute have met one half the expense of building water closets and repairs of roof.

We feel much satisfaction in the consciousness that the appropriation has been judiciously and economically expended. We have thus secured two society halls, which the literary societies of the Institution have undertaken to furnish. We regret that the means at our disposal will not enable us to seat our excellent audience hall, nor to furnish alcoves, shelving, casing, etc., for library, apparatus and cabinet. We must await further appropriations, to render useful the rooms so long needed, and elegantly and durably finished.

The higher department, which is now advancing in its second year, is giving promise of success in meeting a demand long felt in our States for a more full preparation of teachers for the high school work, and for corporation and city superintendency.

County Institutes are an efficient instrumentality in the State for developing professional ability and skill, and their success depends much on the character of the instruction given. Much anxiety has been felt to have the teachers of the Normal School attend these Institutes, and elucidate their methods of instruction, and thus inspire the teachers of the State with a higher appreciation of their profession and work.

The limited appropriation for the payment of teachers' salaries has made it necessary for us to employ a limited teaching force, and but little institute work can be undertaken by the faculty. It is hoped that the next legislature will put us on an equal footing with like institutions in other States.

The failure of the legislature to respond to the generous offer of Chauncy Rose, made through our last report, to grant $100,000.00 in aid of deserving young ladies, while attending the Institution, should $10,000.00 be supplemented by the State, to aid in building a suitable boarding house, has had so discouraging an effect that he has changed his purpose, and the Institution will now probably fail to receive the bequest.

The company of young ladies now selected as his beneficiaries will probably be continued through their course, but no new applicants are now received. A large number of young ladies have reason to treasure with gratitude the favors received through his kind liberality. We see no way by which money could be appropriated to bring larger or richer returns to the work of education in the State.

The Secretary's report shows the condition of the finances of the Institution, and the receipts and expenditures for the current year.

The President's report gives an exhibit of the educational work of the Institution. It is gratifying to know that the history of our Normal School shows a constant advancement in numbers, in usefulness, and in commanding the confidence of the best educators of our country.

When our appropriations shall enable us to increase our corps of instructors to a desirable number, the work and influence of the Institution will be much more extensively felt and appreciated.

Looking to Divine Providence to keep and bless it in the future as He has in the past, our Report is respectfully submitted.

President of the Board of Trustees.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

HON. B. C. HOBBS,

President Board Trustees of the Indiana State Normal School:

DEAR SIR—I herewith submit the following, the Sixth Annual Report since its organization, of the Indiana State Normal School for the year 1875.

ATTENDANCE.

Whole number enrolled for the Winter term, 1875.....	146
Whole number enrolled for the Spring term, 1875.....	218
Whole number enrolled for the Fall term, 1875.....	121

Total for the year..... 485

Whole number of persons who have received instruction in the Normal School since its organization, January 6, 1870, 1,011

The number of pupils reported in the above statistics does not include the pupils enrolled in the Model or Training schools. There are now enrolled in these schools 190, embracing eight grades.

More than eighty counties of the State have been represented in the Normal School.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS IN ATTENDANCE.

Allen, three; Bartholomew, five; Blackford, one; Boone, ten; Carroll, seven; Cass, four; Clark, nine; Clay, fifteen; Clinton, five; Crawford, two; Daviess, nine; Dearborn, nine; Decatur, fourteen; DeKalb, eight; Delaware, three; Dubois, four; Elkhart, three; Fayette, three; Floyd, two; Fountain, six; Franklin, two; Gibson, eleven; Grant, twelve; Green, nine; Hamilton, twelve; Hancock, eleven; Harrison, four; Hendricks, fifteen; Henry, one; Howard, two; Huntington, six; Jackson, four; Jasper, two; Jay, six; Jefferson, thirteen; Jennings, seven; Johnson, thirteen; Knox, eighteen; Kosciusko, four; Lake, one; Laporte, three; Lawrence, six; Madison, seven; Marion, thirty-six; Marshall, one; Martin, two; Miami, seven; Monroe, five; Montgomery, twenty-three; Morgan, seventeen; Orange, two; Ohio, one; Owen, nine; Parke, thirty-one; Perry, five; Pike, five; Posey, five; Putnam, fourteen; Randolph, two; Ripley, four; Rush, three; Scott, five; Shelby, four; Spencer, three; St. Joseph, two; Sullivan, six; Switzerland, seven; Tippecanoe, seven; Tipton, two; Union, one; Vanderburg, twelve; Vermillion, nineteen; Vigo, one hundred and fifty-six; Wabash, six; Warren, seven; Warrick, fourteen; Washington, three; Wayne, eighteen; White, one.

WHENCE THEY COME.

In my last report it was stated that sixty-two per cent. of the entire enrollment, come from the farmers' homes, and that more than ninety per cent of all, comes from the so-called industrial classes. The statistics of the school for the past year, re-affirm the same fact. The variation is not one per cent. from the per cent. of last year.

The cause for the variation in attendance, during the different terms, is found in the fact that nearly seventy per cent. of our students are entirely dependent on their own industry and economy for the means of defraying their expenses for traveling to and from the school, for boarding, clothing, books and other incidentals, while prosecuting their studies here. More than seventy-five per cent. can attend only from one to three terms at a time. They have to stay out and teach, or perform some other service, to get the means with which to return and finish their studies. One noticeable fact should be alluded to in their connection. The class that entered September 6, the beginning of the present scholastic year, contains more students who purpose to continue a year, or through the entire course, than any class that have entered since the organization of the school.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Pupils, if females, must be sixteen years of age; if males, eighteen. They must possess good moral character, and average intellectual abilities.

If residents of Indiana, they must promise to teach, if practicable, in the common schools of the State, a period equal to twice that spent as pupil in the Normal School.

They must pass a fair examination in reading, spelling, geography, and in arithmetic, through percentage. They must write a legible hand, and be able to analyze and parse simple sentences.

The above are the conditions fixed by law and by the Board of Trustees for admission.

Under these conditions ten hundred and eleven persons have entered the school, and received some of its benefits.

Forty-nine of this number have graduated from the elementary course. They are filling some of the most responsible positions as teachers. The undergraduates not in attendance, are rendering efficient service in the different parts of the State.

COURSES OF STUDY.

Free-hand and geometrical drawing have been added to the elementary course of study and training. Otherwise no important changes have been made in the subject-matter of instruction.

THE ADVANCED COURSE.

The object of this course, as has been stated in former reports, is to qualify young men and women to teach in the more responsible positions of the public school service of the State.

The first class will graduate from their course at the close of the present school year, in June next.

So much misunderstanding and misapprehension prevails throughout the State, among all classes of citizens—teachers not excepted—with regard to the character of the instruction and training which the young teacher ought to receive in the Normal School, that I feel justified in making the somewhat lengthy explanation below, of the nature of true normal school work. A thoughtful perusal of it will enable one to understand the special objects which we aim to secure, to appreciate the spirit in which the work is carried on, and to judge of the influence of the school on the student and on the cause of popular education in the State, if carried out according to the idea set forth.

THE POPULAR IDEA OF A NORMAL SCHOOL.

Webster defines a Normal School to be, “a school whose methods of instruction are to serve as a model for imitation; an institution for the education of teachers.”

An institution, then, in which students are trained to imitate methods of teaching by which themselves are taught, is the idea of of a Normal School set forth in the definition.

The definition is the "repository" of the thought of the people in regard to the object defined.

The fact that there is a growing demand for teachers who have had some special training in methods of teaching, has led some schools, established primarily for other purposes, to adopt the name Normal School. Others have added to their field of work a Normal Department.

The ends sought in these schools are a somewhat more careful study of the branches which the student is to teach; some training in the details of school organization, and school management. The methods of instruction under which the student prosecutes his work are supposed to be worthy of imitation.

These "best methods" are often settled by vote of the class, irrespective of the nature of the subject of study, and of the law of mental development.

In this way, the thought of a normal school expressed in the definition quoted, is perpetuated. And a normal school is, in the thought of the people, a school whose methods of teaching are to serve as a model for imitation. Occasionally a student of superior endowments and unusual insight, breaks loose from the "best methods," stops thinking the opinions of others, and thinks for himself. He finds the true method determined in the subject itself, and in the law of his own mind. He condemns normal schools as technical and pedantic. He achieves success as a teacher, not by imitation—not by following the popular idea of a normal school, but by violating it.

To imitate is a mechanical process. Doubtless, it is better to imitate a good method in teaching, one which has been determined by principles and processes of which the imitator is unconscious, than to work without a method.

To imitate is a characteristic of the Chinese intellect, and of Chinese civilization. To imitate is childish; it is spiritually dwarfing; it is deadening to all free activity. So far as it involves intellectual activity, it is thinking other's opinions—it is thinking by authority. It is technical. It is pedantic. There is in it no inspiration for either teacher or scholar.

THE TRUE IDEA.

Every object of our investigation, whether it belong to the world of matter or of mind, if it be a whole in itself, has a purpose, and the object exists for the realization of its purpose. Such an object exists for itself—has its own purpose within itself, which makes it to be what it is. A part of such object does not exist for itself, but for the whole. It can be understood only in relation to the whole. A plant is a whole. Its purpose is to reproduce itself. The process and mode of its development point to this end. Its purpose determines the order and mode of its growth. When we know the order, the mode of development, and the purpose of the plant, we understand it as an object existing for itself; when we study the plant as a relative object, we study the conditions essential to its growth, on the one side, and the related purposer of its growth—food for animals, etc.—on the other. To know the plant as a man knows it, not as a beast, one must know its purpose; the mode by which it attains its purpose as a being existing for itself; the conditions of its growth, and the purposes which it subserves as a relative being. In general, if the object of study be one of nature, it contains its purpose within itself, and its purpose determines the order and mode by which the purpose realizes itself. If the object of study be a mechanism, as a table or a steam engine, it still has its purpose, but the purpose is put into table or engine by the mechanic.

If the object of study be a work of art, as a statue, a painting or a poem, it still has a purpose, but the purpose was put into the object by the artist. Every human institution has a purpose, and the purpose is put into the institution by those who formed it. The purpose is a thought in the mind of mechanic, artist or citizen. The purpose determines the process of construction—the selection, arrangement and adaptation of parts.

Neither the machine, nor the work of art, nor the institution, is understood in any intelligent sense, till its purpose is known, the relation of the parts to one another and to the whole, and the mode of which the whole accomplishes its purpose.

Every object in nature, every object of man's creation embodies thought. Things symbolize thought. The mind of every person is challenges to interpret the thought in things.

In the order of creation in nature, and of construction by man, the thought or purpose comes first; the object through or by means of which the purpose becomes an objective fact, last. In the order of our investigation the objective fact comes first, the purpose last. By the law of intellectual development we are required to begin with the object as a sensuous fact, and proceed from this to the thought in the object, and to the relations which it involves.

These two—the thought in the thing, and the law in the mind—are the elements which determine a natural and universal method of teaching. A method determined by any other conditions must be, in the nature of the case, factitious and partial.

The method above described is characterized as the natural one.

Whether the subject of study or of instruction be an object of nature or a human production, it is a thing existing independent of myself. The thought which it expresses exists independent of my thought. I am to find my way to the thought in the thing, and interpret it to myself. Or, having done this, I am to lead another to do the same thing for himself—to teach him.

The thought in the thing, and the method of realizing the thought, I can have no influence over. These are fixed. Even my own mind—the investigating and interpreting agent—is itself an object of nature. It contains within itself its own purpose and mode or law of action by which this purpose can be attained. These facts I can not change. But in the latter case the self, the interpreting agent, is endowed with the wonderful power of making its own activities the objects of its investigations.

It can infer—or better, see the purpose of its own existence, and know the method of its own spontaneous activity. It can direct and energize these activities only in accordance with the laws of its own being, for the realization of its purpose.

One can put no new faculty into his spirit ; he can only develop by exercise such as are already there by nature.

Hence, the law of his own mind, when consciously apprehended, enable one to give intelligent direction to the method of his investigation, and of his instruction.

Since neither the thought in the thing nor the law in the mind is under the control of the investigator, or of the teacher, but both exist independent of his will, the method determined by them must be the natural one. It is universal because it is natural.

Such method is not settled by the authority of opinions. It is settled by no association, or institute, or school. It is settled by the Creator himself.

The fact in the thing, and the law in the mind determine the method.

The true work of a normal school, then, is : first, to train its students to such habits of thought and methods of investigation, as will enable them to determine for themselves the boundaries of each subject which they are to teach, to determine its content or subject-matter, to determine the logical dependence of the parts of the subject, and to determine the relation of the whole to other subjects.

This process is finding "the fact in the thing."

Second, To lead its students to study the forms and order of the spontaneous activity of their own minds. From such study one may gain a knowledge of the laws of his own spiritual activity and of the purposes of his different faculties and powers. This knowledge enables one to direct intelligently his activities in the mastery of a subject of study.

It enables him to know when he has "thought the subject." It aids him in the conduct of his personal culture. It aids him in the formation of his own character. This knowledge enables one to direct the efforts of those whom he shall teach to the same ends. This knowledge is what is meant by "knowledge of the law in the mind." These two knowledges are necessary to the teacher, for, in presentation of a subject to children, what is first in the order of the necessity and of logical dependence, is last in the order of apprehension by the child. What is first in the order of his cognition is last in the order of logical dependence. Having the two knowledges, knowledge of the subject, and knowledge of the mind, the teacher can distinguish between the logical and the chronological order of presentation. He can choose either, according to the purpose he has in view and the state of mind of the learner. A teacher thus trained, can never be satisfied to be a mere imitator. He can never become mechanical, technical, deadening in his teaching. Penetrated with this idea, mastery of the subject and mastery of himself, he can never be a superficial person, never a superficial teacher. He alone can simplify truth and present it according to the capacity of the learner. He only can distinguish between the important and the unimportant. He only can teach truly the most in the shortest time.

Third, A person may possess the two knowledges described and, yet fail to be an efficient, practical teacher. With these acquirements, one may determine theoretically, what should be taught, and how it should be taught, but fail in the actual practice of teaching.

A third and important part of normal school work is training in the practice of teaching till the pupil-teacher acquires a reasonable degree of skill in the art. Thus, normal school work presents three essential phases of culture and training. In this Institution, in the department of the Normal School proper, we do what we can towards accomplishing the purposes in the first and second phases.

In the training schools connected with the Normal, the pupil-teacher sees exemplified his own theoretical determinations of methods, and he practices teaching under criticism till he can join his theory with his practice.

THINGS NEEDED.

To carry out the true spirit and method of instruction in the Institution, a few hundred dollars worth of apparatus and material are wanted, for use in teaching the elements of the physical sciences. It has been my duty to call the attention of the Board to this fact, in each of my reports.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. A. JONES,

President of the Faculty.

Estimated expenses, including the above specific appropriations, payment on Owen cabinet, salaries, and other expenses, $32,000, leaving an unexpended balance of $1,000.

All the improvements recommended have been made, but the limited means at the disposal of the Board rendered it impossible to make any appropriations for increasing the library, or making any additional improvements in the museum. This is deeply to be regretted, for there are thousands of specimens yet boxed up which can not be exhibited till additional cases are provided for their accommodation. The chemical laboratory is now one of the most complete in the west. It is capable of accommodating forty-seven students, and is furnished with gas, water, atmospheric filters, reagents, balances of the finest and most delicate character, and all other necessary apparatus for making qualitative and quantitative analyses. Fifteen students, who are aiming to take a thorough course in chemistry, are now under instruction in this department. This is a very encouraging attendance, considering the fact that this is only the second year since this department was established. Specimens of minerals and mineral waters have been sent to this department from many parts of the State for analysis, and thus far all demands of this kind have been promptly responded to, either by the professor in charge, or by the advanced students under his direction. There is no longer any necessity of sending Indiana minerals, earths, and soils out of the State for analysis.

The Owen cabinet, (although not completely exhibited, as hereinbefore indicated,) is displayed with such fullness that the students in geology and mineralogy have nearly all the facilities for instruction in these important studies which they could desire.

The department of civil engineering is completely organized, and is furnished with the best apparatus that could be found in the country.

The practical work of this department is done in the field, where the students, with compass, level and chain, are required to do the work of the surveyor and engineer.

The vacancy in the office of president was filled by the election of Lemuel Moss, D.D., of Chicago, who entered upon the duties of the presidency at the beginning of the present college year. The choice of President Moss seems to have been wise and politic, for he has impressed upon trustees, faculty and students, and generally upon those who have come in contact with him, the belief that he is peculiarly fitted for his work.

The Preparatory Department is accomplishing a great work for the State, and gives great promise of accomplishing much more. It furnishes thorough and systematic training to those who there prepare to enter the freshman class, and insures a uniform degree of culture and attainment. The large attendance at this department furnishes a guarantee that the college classes will always be well filled.

The arrangement made, at the suggestion of the State Board of Education, to admit students into the freshman class from the many high schools of the State, which have provided the same or a higher course of study as that provided for the preparatory department, has worked satisfactorily. Those who enter the freshman class under this arrangement, graduate with as high scholastic and scientific attainments as those who graduated under the old regime. While, therefore, there has been no falling off in actual scholarship by the change, but, on the contrary, an improvement in that respect, one marked and most encouraging effect thereof has been the fact, that more than nine-tenths of those who have entered the freshman class since the change was made, have entered upon the regular course of study. Those who have entered the University thus far, under this regulation, have generally been persons of limited means, but have proved themselves to be persevering, energetic and ambitious.

This alliance between the common schools and the University is to be fostered by the State, as the source from which shall come her best citizens and most accomplished scholars. Application, up to the present time, has been made by twenty-five high-schools for admission to the privileges of the University, upon the terms agreed upon by the Board of Trustees and the State Board of Education, as hereinbefore stated, and the number of applications are increasing every year.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS IN THE SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS.

Preparatory.....	128
Literature and Science.....	140
Law.....	50
Medicine.....	107
Total.....	425

Arrangements have been recently made, by which the University will be represented in the Centennial.

In behalf of the Board,

ROBERT C. FOSTER,

Secretary.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

The Trustees of the Indiana Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, present their report for the year ending October 31, A. D. 1875.

The Superintendent's report, herewith transmitted, sets forth in detail the workings of the Institution for the past year, and its present condition. To this report we respectfully direct your attention.

The school is in a good condition, the number of pupils in attendance at this time being greater than ever before. Among them good order and attention to their studies prevail. At no time in the history of the Institution has a greater degree of prosperity been enjoyed by it than at present.

In all the expenditures for the support of the Institution, due economy has been exercised. The appropriations made by the last Legislature for current expenses, though somewhat less than the amount estimated, yet, owing to the reduction in the price of provisions, fuel and some other articles of prime necessity, will, it is believed, be sufficient to meet all demands for the time for which they were intended, namely, until the first of April, 1877.

To do this, repairs and re-furnishing in the main will have to be postponed, and there may be a deficiency in these respects to be supplied in the future.

During the year, and just at the close of the last session of the Legislature, a communication signed with a fictitious name, charging the Superintendent with immorality and official misconduct, was presented to House of Representatives. Notwithstanding the anonymous character of this communication, that body received it and ordered an investigation upon it to be made by the Board of Trustees, and two other gentlemen to be appointed by your Excellency. The Hon. A. L. Roache and Solomon Blair, Judge of the Superior Court, were appointed accordingly, and an investigation was had. The writer of the paper could not be found, although advertised for in the city papers.

The Committee, however, entered upon an examination of the charges, but after the fullest investigation they could find nothing in the slightest degree sustaining them, and were constrained to report them, in effect, as wholly false and malicious.

This investigation took place in March last. In May following, John E. Fawcner, of this city, being under indictment for an infamous outrage supposed to have been committed upon his niece, a pupil of the Institution, of which he had first been accused in the February preceding, renewed the attack upon Thomas Mac Intire, the Superintendent, and also upon Ezra G. Valentine, one of the teachers, charging them with the grossest immorality, and demanding their removal. They replied, utterly denying each and all the charges, and demanded a thorough investigation. The Board at once proceeded to the investigation, which was public, and which lasted, with little intermission, from the 8th of June to the 25th of August following.

But it is not the purpose of the Board to refer in detail to the events of this investigation.

Such publicity was given to the whole proceedings at the time, as to make an extended report by us unnecessary. [The examination was protracted, and most thorough and exhaustive. Both the prosecution and the defense were conducted by able attorneys, and nothing, seemingly, was left undone which could strengthen either side of the case.

The largest facility was given by the Board for procuring testimony, they considering it proper to pay the expenses of witnesses brought from various parts of the State to attend the trial, and also the expense of obtaining the depositions of those who could not be induced to be present.

To assist the Board in deciding satisfactorily the legal points raised in the many sharp conflicts of the attorneys during the progress of the trial, it having throughout been conducted according to the established rules of law, it became necessary to employ an attorney. The difficult duties of that position were ably and most satisfactorily performed by the Hon. Byron K. Elliott of this city, to whom the Board are under lasting obligations.

We also found it necessary to employ a secretary, who, being a notary public, administered the oath to the witnesses, and kept a record of our proceedings.

Both the prosecution and the defense employed stenographic reporters, and we thought it proper for a full understanding of the case, to have a copy of the testimony taken in full for the use of the Board.*]

After the testimony was concluded, the case was ably and at great length argued by the attorneys. At the conclusion of the argument, the Board unanimously found Thomas Mac Intire not guilty of any of the charges against either his moral character or his official conduct, holding all such accusations to be wholly untrue and unfounded. And the Board also acquitted Ezra G. Valentine, holding, notwithstanding the considerable amount of conflicting testimony, all the charges against him to be untrue, one member dissenting.

We desire to express our acknowledgments to your Excellency, for the kindly interest manifested by you in the management and welfare of the Institution, and the hope that its usefulness may continue unimpaired.

Very Respectfully,

P. H. JAMESON,
J. R. BROWN,
M. JAMES,

Trustees.

*NOTE—The report when prepared was sent to Muncie, to Dr. M. James, one of the members of the Board, for his signature, he not being present on account of sickness. At the December meeting he returned it signed, with the following note which explains itself. The majority of the Board, deeming the publication of the report as presented necessary, I have thought it proper to publish the note of Dr. James, giving his reasons for the suggestion. See part included in brackets.

P. H. JAMESON, Pres't.

MUNCIE INDIANA, DECEMBER 15, 1875.

DR. P. H. JAMESON :

DEAR SIR—The report sent me is herewith returned properly signed. I would suggest however, under the circumstances, and the remarks just preceding will justify it, that that part included in my pencil marks, [in brackets], be excluded from the report as unnecessary, as it merely recapitulates that which is generally known, as "such publicity was given, etc.," and which adds nothing to it by repetition.

Very Respectfully,
M. JAMES.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN :—I respectfully submit to your honorable body, the following statements, as my annual report, embracing a brief record of the progress of the Institution the past year, and of its present condition and prospects.

The great design of the Institution is to give to all the children of the State, who are deprived of hearing and speech, and thereby prevented from receiving instruction in the common schools of the country, a knowledge of our language, and the ordinary branches of an education through the sense of sight, and to train such in the practice of some useful trade or occupation by which they may earn a living, and not be dependent upon the community for a support. This object has been steadily kept in view the past year, and the success attending our efforts, it is believed, has equalled that of any former period.

The attendance the past year has been as follows :

Number of pupils last session.....	291
New pupils admitted this term.....	50
Whole number instructed.....	341
Number discharged during the year.....	45

Number remaining Nov. 1, 1875.....	295
------------------------------------	-----

A full catalogue of the names and residences of all who have been under instruction since our last report, will be found in the appendix to this.

It is very gratifying to us, as it must be to every friend of humanity in the State, to know that the confidence of the public in the management of this Institution, is thus shown to be continued unabated.

The Institution is now filled to its full capacity; so full that its beneficiaries can not properly be increased without an increase of accommodations. Indeed, the school rooms, dormitories, dining room and study rooms are all very much crowded. By converting the room heretofore used as a laboratory, into a school room, and by changing one of the largest of the school rooms into a dormitory, we have been able to provide for the increased number.

In this connection, it is worthy of remark that the behavior of the pupils, with one or two exceptions, has been worthy of all praise. They have been orderly, obedient and attentive to their studies.

The hours of study, labor, amusement and rest, remain the same as formerly. Experience has shown that the time allotted to each is the most judicious division that can be made to secure to the pupils the highest degree of health, happiness and improvement.

The classification of pupils and the course of instruction pursued in the Institution were set forth in the last annual report, and without material change have been continued.

There is but one session a year, which consists of forty weeks, and is divided into four quarters, of ten weeks each. There are fifteen classes, taught by as many different teachers, the classes having each from sixteen to twenty-four pupils. At the close of each quarter, an examination of all the classes is had, and a report of the capacity, application, absence and improvement of each pupil is made. On these reports a new adjustment of the classification is made, in accordance with the advancement made in each case, regard being had to the good of the individual, the class and the school, promoting those whose improvement justifies it, and putting in a lower grade those who from any cause have fallen so far behind in the class as not to be able to go on with it.

In the lower classes, the main test of improvement is in the ability to use written language correctly. This is the chief object aimed at in all the earlier part of the course of instruction, all other ends being made subsidiary to this, until it becomes to them a means of communication with the hearing and speaking part of the community. The difficulty of this undertaking, can hardly be exaggerated. Through all the past, until quite recently, it was considered an impossible attainment by a deaf-mute. But little over half a century has passed since the first attempt was made in America, to educate any of this class, and not much over half of that, since the effort was inaugurated in our own State. Leaving out of view the inherent difficulties of the work, and considering simply the short time since it was begun, and the actual work accomplished, we maintain that there is no branch of education in this country that has made more rapid progress than that of the deaf and dumb.

At a time within the memory of men now living, this whole class of persons in our country were destitute of all means of education, and shrouded in the most profound ignorance. The first school for them was opened at Hartford, in 1817, with seven pupils. There are now in the United States; forty-two institutions of this kind, in successful operation, affording instruction to nearly five thousand pupils. The time allowed, and the course of study are now double what they were twenty years ago. It is to be remembered, that in our own State, when this Institution was begun, there was a whole generation of deaf and dumb uneducated. Since it was commenced, one thousand and ninety-six pupils have been received and instructed. Eight hundred and one have gone out from its walls, and are scattered over the State and the west.

The character of the education given is to be determined by the conduct and the condition of those who have been instructed here, and by the degree of success in life. We ask no other rule of judgment than that applied to speaking and hearing persons who have enjoyed the same or no better opportunities. By the loss of hearing they are deprived of speech and all means of communication with others, except by the use of crude, natural signs. Deafness does not check the growth of the animal nature, but it causes the intellectual and moral faculties to be sadly dwarfed, if not wholly paralyzed; indeed the passions and instincts of their nature are called into full activity by the evil around them, and by the time they enter school, are largely developed, while there is scarcely any moral sense at all. How could there be? In their natural state they have no conception of a Supreme Being, nor any idea of right and wrong, except in its very lowest sense, as confined to the present, but not as a conformity to, or transgression of law. The task set us is to teach these beclouded infantile minds a foreign tongue. If, in two or three years the deaf-mute child learns it well enough to express his thoughts and wishes in simple sentences, he has accomplished all that the speaking and hearing child does in four or five years in learning to talk. At this stage of their course, before they can write simple sentences, they are often taken out of school. No wonder such fail to obtain the measure of success expected of them.

Thus, sometimes, a great injustice is done to the system devised for their instruction and to those who teach them, by ascribing to them their failures and imperfections, whereas, the want of success should be charged to the very short time for improvement enjoyed by them; and to the fact that they are withdrawn from school or stop short in their education, at a point at which it is so incomplete as not to be available for support and direction in life.

It is hardly possible for those who have not been brought in immediate contact with the uneducated deaf and dumb, to fully conceive the extent of the misfortune and the difficulty of removing it. Such children are usually brought to us from homes where they have been petted and indulged, and though they may be ten or twelve years of age, they ordinarily are in mental and moral developement, through a want of language, not above that of ordinary speaking and hearing children of three or four.

The losing of ones hearing in infancy, is a very much greater misfortune than to be deprived of sight at that age, because, in the one case, childhood intellectually, is almost a total blank, that no amount of after instruction can supply; while, in the other case, there is enjoyed all that can be taught by oral instruction.

The dreadful effects of deafness unrelieved by education, upon the human mind, may be illustrated by an example. In Pennsylvania some years ago, a system of solitary confinement and of enforced silence was devised and adopted as a punishment for crime, by which prisoners were shut up without any books, labor or mental occupation whatever. On trial, this punishment was found wholly unendurable. We are told that in those cases of a passionate temper, it often led to insanity, and in those of a dull and sluggish disposition, to imbecility and sometimes to idiocy. Deafness has a similar effect upon those left to grow up without education; doomed to silence by their misfortune, and imprisoned by an absolute ignorance of all outside of their narrow vision, the more active minds among them chafe and rage as they grow up, at the adamant chains with which they are bound, while those of a sluggish temperament from mental inaction, sink into a sheer unthinking imbecility. Thus, it happens, that some of the uneducated deaf and dumb are given to bursts of ungovernable temper, while others are found hard to arouse to any thought or even interest in things around them.

While the general health of the pupils during the year has been fully as good as usual, yet we are called upon to mourn the loss of three of our number by death.

Miss Sarah M. Swaim, of Marion county, aged nineteen years, was attacked with rheumatism, from which resulted valvular disease of the heart, of which she died December 1, 1874, after a sickness of one week. She was a member of the senior grade of the high class; had entered upon the last year's course of study with health and zeal, and with prospects as promising as any of the class, when she was snatched away from our midst.

On the 9th of the same month Hester Ann Johnson died of typho-malarial fever and congestion of the liver, after a sickness of ten days. She was a bright, intelligent semi-mute from Clay county; had entered upon the fourth year's course of study, and previously to this last attack had enjoyed most excellent health.

Malissa Hallock, from Laporte county, after spending the vacation at home, entered the Institution at the opening of the term with apparent good health; but soon after, upon examination, she was found to be severely afflicted with organic disease of the heart; and under medical advice she was sent to her home, where from this cause, as we afterwards learned, she died on the 17th of December, 1874.

During the past year no change has been made in the corps of instructors, and but little in any department of the Institution.

All the teachers remain in the service of the Institution, and continue, as heretofore, to give their undivided attention to the important duties devolved upon them. They have all been found faithful, zealous, and efficient co-workers; ever ready and willing to perform any service required of them for the advancement of the interest of the Institution. It is but justice, therefore, that I should testify to their merit, and recommend them to you as worthy of your highest commendation.

One change has taken place in the domestic department since our last report. Mrs. A. Broadrup, who had filled for four years, most efficiently, the position of Housekeeper, received, unsolicited by her, the appointment of matron in the Home for Friendless Women in Dayton, Ohio, and very much to our regret, accepted and left us the first of September last. Miss Catherine Hewitt has been appointed to fill the vacancy, and has entered with zeal upon the discharge of her duties.

The important position of Mistress of the Sewing Department, acceptably filled for several years past by Miss Emma Perkins, was made vacant by her retirement at the close of last session. This vacancy has been filled by the appointment of Mrs. Kate Gorman, who comes to us highly recommended, and who has, with a zeal that promises success, entered upon the performance of her duties.

The following statement will show the receipts and expenditures the past year and the condition of the funds at the present date, according to the books of the institution. There is, we are aware as often happens, an apparent, though not real yet unavoidable, discrepancy between our annual statement of account and that of the Auditor of State resulting from our method of disbursement. We pay accounts by orders on the treasury and credit the Institution with all orders issued. It may happen that orders issued one year may not be paid until the next. The Treasurer's books therefore may show either a greater or less amount of payment than ours. Greater, if orders issued the previous year were paid in the last, and less if orders issued the last year were unpaid at the close of the year.

The sewers, for which the Legislature made an appropriation, at the last session, of three thousand dollars, are in course of construction, and will soon be finished and paid for in full. This improvement would have been let sooner had it not been that we did not wish, for sanitary reason, to open the drains and dig up the earth around the building until after the commencement of frost. The work was advertised and the contract has been let on the most reasonable terms and bond and security taken for its faithful completion.

From the preceding statement of accounts it will be seen that the manual labor department of the Institution has been as prosperous in a pecuniary point of view as in any former year. The profits on the work of the pupils in the shops has more than paid the expense of their support.

Considering this part of the education of our pupils as very important, we continue to give as much attention to it as is consistent with their intellectual culture. We begin, however, to find an increased difficulty in maintaining this department, from the fact that almost all our pupils now enter school at ten or eleven years of age, and are almost ready to leave school before they are old enough to engage in regular manual labor. Fully two-thirds of our pupils are now under fifteen years of age. The largest part of the time allotted to study is past before they are old enough to begin to learn a trade. Entering school at ten, boys can not properly go to work in the shops before they are fourteen or fifteen, then there is ordinarily only about two or three years left in which to learn a trade, and working, as they do, only about three hours a day, the time amounts to less than one year in the aggregate devoted to this object, a period of time entirely insufficient for the attainment of this important end. If boys begin school at ten or eleven, and leave at sixteen or seventeen, it is not to be expected that they will be graduated as good workmen in their chosen occupation without further instruction and assistance.

And yet it is to be observed, that however well a deaf-mute may understand his trade, laboring as he does under the disadvantage of having to communicate with employers by the slow process of writing, he can not successfully compete with speaking and hearing persons. It is often seen that the most intelligent deaf-mutes when they do get situations in shops, printing offices, or as clerks and copyists, do not retain their places long. This is generally found to result not so much from any inferiority of their work, as from the difficulty employers find in communicating with them; and if any of them set up shops for themselves, the same difficulty is found in communicating with their customers.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of teaching articulation in all cases in which it is practicable, is that it would afford them a means of communicating with their employers, and thus they would be better able to succeed in business.

The caning of chairs has been introduced as a suitable employment for the younger boys, but this can not properly be considered as a trade to be followed, although the occupation is of an improving kind, as a means of cultivating attention and habits of industry. To encourage all those engaged in this shop to diligence, we pay them twenty per cent. of the receipts from their earnings.

The influence of labor on the physical condition of the pupils is favorable; many of them are greatly benefitted by the regular exercise it affords them. Some whose systems have been unfavorably affected by hereditary or acquired disease before they began to work have thrown it off by the regimen adopted here, and have had their physical condition very much improved by the hours of labor.

Besides the usual holidays of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years, we have for the benefit of the pupils a social gathering of the boys and the girls one evening in a month for conversation and amusement, under the supervision of the matron and teachers. Formerly on these occasions all the pupils were accustomed to meet together in one or the other of the study rooms, but of late this has been found impracticable, from the increased number of pupils. We have therefore divided them into three sections of from ninety to one hundred pupils each, and each section in turn holds its sociable. These meetings are looked forward to with great interest by the pupils, and their good effect upon their manners and behavior is very manifest.

Attention is called to the report of E. G. Valentine, the Librarian, herewith submitted, almost all of whose leisure time for the past two years has been devoted to the promotion of this object, and for which all connected with the Institution are under great obligations to him.

Among the statutes for the government of the benevolent Institutions of the State is the one passed in 1865, which provides for the clothing of indigent pupils and their transportation, in certain cases, to and from the Institution. As this law is not found in any of the published digests of the laws of the State, and as it is important to those having children here, or who may wish to send them as pupils, to know what is required of them, we insert for their information and guidance in respect to this matter a copy of the law in the appendix.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOMAS MAC INTIRE,

Superintendent.

Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis, Nov. 1, 1875.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent :

In compliance with your request, I herewith present a report concerning the library of the Institution.

A well selected library is of prime importance in an institution of this kind. It affords the deaf and dumb more than the usual advantages. Our pupils, after having been instructed in the more simple rudiments, can acquire a correct knowledge of language in no better way than by carefully perusing well-written books. In setting forth the advantages of a library, I cannot do better than to quote from a former report: "The deaf and dumb are dependent on reading for information more than any other class of persons. All that knowledge which comes to others through hearing, must come to them through the eye, and principally by means of books. Reading becomes to them almost the only means of self-culture after they leave school. If they do not form the habit and taste for reading while in school, it is not probable they will afterward. The necessity, therefore, of a good library in an institution of this kind is manifest.

Again, "The library is highly prized by both pupils and teachers. It furnishes valuable aid to the one in his work, and intellectual food and nourishment for the other, and thus it is a potential means in the accomplishment of the work in which we are engaged."

The first collection of books for the library was made in 1852. For many years thereafter, most of the books were purchased with funds derived from the sale of fancy articles manufactured by the young lady pupils. Small donations of money for the library have been made by those visiting the Institution, from time to time. Liberal contributions of money and books have been made by five church organizations, of as many different denominations, and by thirty-nine ladies and gentlemen. This does not include a contribution of money made by gentlemen of Indianapolis, and by the officers and teachers of the Institution, in the year 1855. By these means, nearly 2,000 volumes have been placed in the library. The names of those who contribute are published in the annual reports, and duly recorded by the librarian, in a book provided for the purpose. Since the last report, twelve volumes of new and valuable books have been contributed by Arthur Robinson, Esq., of Indianapolis.

Since I assumed the duties of librarian, two years ago, nine hundred and sixty-seven volumes have been added to the library. Most of these books were new, and have very materially increased the value of the library. These were chiefly procured from contributions of friends and allowances by the Board of Trustees. Through the kind offices of Bowen, Stewart & Co., we have been able to procure such books as we desired for the library, on the most favorable terms. This firm has also donated valuable books. The library now contains over 3,000 volumes, and is probably larger and more valuable than that of any other institution of the kind in the country. The library-room has been recently re-furnished, and five substantial black walnut cases have been added. These cases were much needed, as the previous accommodations were insufficient.

At your request, I have prepared a complete catalogue of the library, which, when published, will be of very great convenience. It will make an 8vo. of some over 100 pages and will contain, besides the usual matter, a brief history of the library, a list of contributions, etc.

All pupils who can read books with profit, and all persons in the employ of the Institution, are allowed the use of the library and can obtain books at stated times.

Through the kind liberality of publishers and proprietors of newspapers and magazines, we have a reading-room in connection with the library. Suitable desks have been furnished, upon which files of newspapers and other periodicals are placed. These are accessible to the pupils and the privilege is highly appreciated by them. Following is a list of newspapers and magazines which have been sent gratuitously during the past year:

The Indianapolis Journal, The Indianapolis Sentinel, The Evening News, Logansport Pharos, Madison Weekly Courier, The Standard, The Methodist, Benham's Musical Review, Church's Musical Review, The Silent World, The Chronicle, The Deaf-Mute Advance, The Western Christian Advocate, The Northwestern Christian Advocate, Greencastle Banner, The Ladies' Repository, The Deaf-Mute Journal, The Standard, Anderson Democrat, The Health Reformer, Annals of the Deaf and Dumb, The Vincennes

Sun, The Evansville Journal, Delphi Journal, Cambridge City Tribune, The Noblesville Ledger, The Mount Vernon Democrat, The Seymour Democrat, Newcastle Courier, The Butler News, Rockville Republican, Wabash Plaindealer, The Lafayette Courier, The Indiana Farmer, The Shelby Republican, The Deaf-Mute Mirror, Goodson Gazette, Kentucky Deaf-Mute, Religious Telescope, The Youth's Companion, Journal of Nebraska, DeKalb Republican, New Church Independent, Deaf-Mute Index, and Unitarian Review. For which the editors and publishers have our sincere thanks.

Some years ago, two small contributions of coins, fossils, minerals, and shells were made. There have been some further additions since then. I trust we may soon have a well arranged cabinet, not simply to look at and admire, but to put to good use. It would be of very great assistance to the teacher, and the pupils would be correspondingly benefited.

In order to make good the losses sustained by so constant use, and to make suitable selections from the latest publications, a small amount will be needed each year for the benefit of the library.

Many thanks to our friends who have so liberally contributed to the library, reading room, and cabinet of the Institution. Further contributions are respectfully solicited. We assure the donors that these manifestations of their liberality and friendship are highly appreciated by us all, and that all donations thus made will be, as they have been, put to the best possible use.

Respectfully submitted,

EZRA G. VALENTINE,

Librarian.

[APPROVED MARCH 6, 1865.]

AN ACT to provide for the clothing, and other personal expenses, of the pupils of the Benevolent Institutions of the State, and providing for the manner of their removal to and from said Institutions, in certain cases therein specified, and the manner of collecting the expenses thereof.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana: That whenever application is made for the admission of any blind or deaf mute person into the State Institution for the education of the blind, or that for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Hospital for the Insane, as a beneficiary of the privileges thereof, such application shall be accompanied by the certificate of a Justice of the Peace that such person is a legal resident of the county of the State of Indiana in which it is claimed that he or she resides.

SEC. 2. That when such person shall, upon proper application, be admitted as a pupil of either of the Institutions named, it shall be the duty of his parents, guardians, or other friends, to suitably provide him with clothing, at the time of his entrance into the school, and during his continuance therein; also, to defray his traveling expenses to and from the Institution, not only at the time of his first entrance, and final departure, but at any other time when it shall become necessary for him to leave or return to the school.

SEC. 3. That in all cases where suitable clothing and means for defraying traveling expenses are not otherwise supplied to the pupils of said Institutions, the same shall be provided by the respective superintendents thereof, who shall make out and file with the Treasurer of State accounts therefor, separate in each case, against the respective counties from which such pupils are sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which accounts shall be severally signed by the proper superintendent and attested by the seal of the Institution under his charge, and the Treasurer of State shall charge each account thus certified to the county from which the pupil named therein was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the proper Institution.

SEC. 4. The Treasurer of State shall forward each account so filed with him to the treasurer of the proper county, who shall cause it to be paid out of the county treasury to the Treasurer of State; and such county treasurer shall, in the name of the county, and by suit of, (if necessary,) collect the amount of such account from the parents or estate of such pupil, as the case may be, where there is ability to pay. Provided, That at least three hundred dollars of the property of such parents shall be exempt from the payment of such account.

SEC. 5. In the case of the death of any pupil at either of the institutions aforesaid, whose funeral expenses are not otherwise provided for, an account therefor shall be made out, attested and collected in like manner as provided in the preceding sections of this act.

SEC. 6. That whenever it shall be deemed necessary by the proper officers of either of the said institutions, in accordance with the by-laws and regulations thereof, to have any pupil removed, either temporarily on account of ill health or the vacation of the school, or permanently on account of having completed his course of instruction, or been found disqualified from any cause for a longer continuance in the school, the parents or guardian of such pupil, if he have any, shall promptly remove him upon the requirement of said officers; and in case he shall not be thus provided for, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of such institution to cause him to be so removed and delivered to the trustee of the township where he resided before coming to said institution, and the expense of such removal shall be refunded to each institution in the same manner as provided in sections three and four, and the county treasurer shall charge the same to the proper township and collect it in the manner as provided in sections three and four of this act.

SEC. 7. All laws and parts of laws coming in conflict with this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

SEC. 8. There being no law in force governing the matters herein provided for, it is hereby declared that an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act. It shall, therefore, take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

"That when the pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb are not otherwise supplied with clothing, they shall be furnished by the Superintendent, who shall make out an account therefor, in each case, against the respective counties from which said pupils were sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which account will be signed by the Superintendent, and attested by the seal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Treasurer of State shall charge the account thus certified, to the county from which the pupil was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the Indiana Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

"SEC. 3. When such account shall be received by the Treasurer of the proper county, to whom it shall be immediately sent upon its reception by the Treasurer of State from the Superintendent, such County Treasurer shall cause the same to be paid out of the County Treasury to the Treasurer of the State. And such County Treasurer shall collect the amount of such account from the estate of such pupil, if he have any, by suits, if necessary, in the name of the county."

VI. Each applicant for admission should come well supplied with clothing; and on all articles on which it is possible to mark the name of the pupil, it should be written with indellible ink. In all cases, except those clothed by the county, besides the ordinary supply of clothing, the applicant should deposit with the Superintendent a sum not less than five dollars, to defray incidental expenses, repairs of shoes, etc., any part of which remaining unexpended at the close of the session will be returned. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk.

VII. The institution is not an asylum, but a school of learning; hence no one can be admitted or retained as a pupil who, from sickness, or from other cause, is unable to pursue his or her studies successfully.

VIII. The course of study in the primary department embraces Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography and Grammar, and ordinarily requires seven years to complete it. All the pupils who wish it, and who will avail themselves of it, are allowed the full benefit of this course of study.

IX. For the benefit of those who wish to qualify themselves for teaching or for other intellectual pursuits, the trustees have established a High Class, and adopted a course of three years' study in the sciences. From among those who complete the primary course of study, the Superintendent may select each year the most promising pupils and admit them as members of this class. Provided, That not more than seven shall be admitted to the class at any one year, and not more than twenty-one in all.

X. It is the intention of the Trustees to render the pupils self-supporting, so far as practicable, and that every pupil, on leaving the institution, shall be proficient in some useful occupation or trade, so as to be able to procure a livelihood without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day, the girls performing the lighter kinds of housework and various kinds of needle work, as plain sewing or ornamental work, dress making and millinery; and the boys at various trades, the necessary work about the institution, and in the cultivation of the farm and garden.

XI. All business letters or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the Institution, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to THOMAS MAC INTIRE, Superintendent, Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis, Ind.

XII. Those persons bringing pupils to, or taking them away, can not be furnished with board and lodging at the Institution.

XIII. Applicants for admission should be between ten and twenty-one years of age.

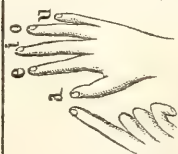

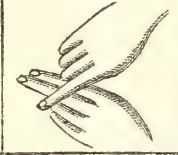

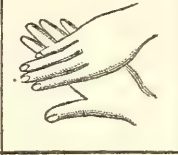

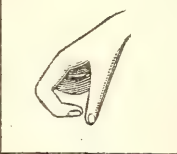

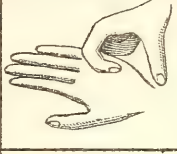

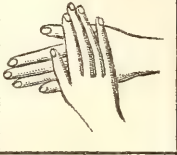

XIV. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any other time than at the commencement of the session.

XV. The pupils are desired and expected to spend the vacation at home.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of the State of Indiana :

In submitting for the consideration of your Excellency, their Twenty-ninth Annual Report upon the progress and condition of the trust confided to them by the General Assembly, the undersigned Board of Trustees have great satisfaction in being able to assure you, and through you the people of the State at large, that this one, at least, of Indiana's monuments of Christian philanthropy, is enjoying a degree of prosperity unsurpassed by any similar institution in the Union.

At our stated meeting in April of the current year, H. W. Ballard, who had acceptably served the Board for several years as its Secretary, was unanimously re-elected to that position for the term of one year from the first day of said month.

On the seventh day of July following, at our regular meeting for that month, Daniel Mowrer of Marion, Grant county, successor by Executive appointment to Cas. Byfield, resigned, took his seat with us as a member of the Board, which change is the only one of the kind since the date of our last report.

Of the Superintendent and his able corps of assistant officers, we need only say, that they continue to discharge the arduous duties of their respective positions, with the same marked degree of efficiency and fidelity as in years past. Their manifest success in the noble work of ameliorating the condition of the sightless children and youth entrusted to their care, is worthy of the highest commendation at our hands.

For a detailed exhibit of our receipts and disbursements on account of the Institute during the past fiscal year, as well as for a review of the work of its several departments of instruction and training, your Excellency is referred to the accompanying communications of our Secretary and Superintendent, which we beg to submit herewith as parts of this report.

By the Secretary's Report, Appendix A, it will be seen that our entire resources for the year were thirty-four thousand two hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty-eight cents, ($34,262.28), while the disbursements amounted to the sum of thirty-four thousand one hundred and eighty-three dollars and seventy-nine cents, ($34,183.79), leaving a balance of seventy-eight dollars and forty-nine cents, ($78.49), to be carried forward to the year commenced with the date of this report. This balance added to the sum of thirty-two thousand five hundred dollars, ($32,500.00), the proportionate amount appropriated by the last Legislature for current support, gives us thirty-two thousand five hundred and seventy-eight dollars and forty-nine cents, ($32,578.49), as the resources of the Institute for the fiscal year just commenced.

From the Superintendent's Report, Appendix B, you will learn in addition to other details of interest, that the entire number of blind persons enjoying the privileges of the Institute at different times during the last school year was one hundred and sixteen, and that the number in attendance at this date is one hundred and three; which latter number fully exhausts the proper capacity of the Institute with its present building accommodations. It is much to be regretted that the buildings are not of sufficient capacity to accommodate all the blind youths of our commonwealth.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of your Excellency to that portion of the Superintendent's Report which speaks of the establishment of a fund for supplying our indigent graduates with an appropriate outfit on their leaving the Institute. It can not be denied, that this is an object worthy of the fullest endorsement, and we heartily sympathize with our Superintendent in the hope that other kindly disposed persons, besides those mentioned by him, may be found willing to contribute from their abundance to the fund in question, until it shall assume such proportions as will enable him to extend the desired relief to all the needy graduates of the Institution.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

P. H. JAMESON,
CORTEZ EWING,
DANIEL MOWRER,

Trustees.

Indianapolis, Nov. 1, 1875.

APPENDIX B.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN:—So uniform is the routine of the several departments of our Institution, and so familiar to you has this become, that outside of the usual statistics, there would seem to be little occasion for a formal report from me at this time. Yet, such being the requirement of your by-laws, I submit the following summary as the report of the Superintendent for the year just closed.

ASSISTANT OFFICERS.

Since the date of the last report three changes have taken place in our official corps, as follows :

1. Mrs. A. C. Landis, who had occupied the position of matron for nearly six years, relinquished her charge on the last day of June, and was immediately succeeded by Mrs. M. F. Sproule, of Greensburg, Indiana. The latter was first appointed to fill out the unexpired position of the term of her predecessor, and subsequently, for the usual term of one year, commencing on the first day of October.

Mrs. Sproule brought with her no experience in the special work to which our Institution is devoted, but her general qualifications, natural and acquired, give ample assurance of success in her new field of labor. Of her predecessor, whose long residence in our city has secured her an extended circle of friends, I need only say, that she carried with her, on leaving us, the best wishes of our household.

2. Miss M. Maloney, a former graduate of the Institution, who had been employed for several years as an assistant in our musical department, ceased her connection with the school at the close of the last session, to engage in private teaching, and was succeeded on the opening of the present session by Miss H. A. Hanvey, of Rochester, New York.

Miss Hanvey came to us highly recommended as a specialist in the art of vocalization, and we entertain high hopes of her ability to supply in a satisfactory manner a long felt need in this direction.

Miss Maloney also left us with our best wishes for her success in her new sphere of labor.

3. Miss S. F. Briggs, also a former pupil of our school, who had been assisting in the music department for the past two years in the capacity of monitor, was added to our regular corps of instructors at the commencement of the present session. Her promotion is in itself a sufficient endorsement of her previous success as a teacher.

For our entire corps of assistant officers for the current session, the older members of the faculty needing no especial commendation in this connection, I bespeak, as heretofore, the fullest confidence and support of each member of your board. It is constituted as follows :

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

Teachers.—Albert Stewart, Miss S. A. Scofield, Mrs. C. C. Wynn, Miss H. A. Daggett, and Miss E. Green.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

Teachers.—R. A. Newland, Miss H. A. Hanvey, and Miss S. F. Briggs.

HANDICRAFT DEPARTMENT.

Instructors.—J. M. Richard, W. L. Thornburgh, and Mrs. S. J. Ballard.

HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT.

PUPILS.

By reference to the accompanying catalogue, marked "Appendix C," you will note that the number of pupils enrolled during the last school year closing on the twenty-second of June, was one hundred and sixteen; males, fifty-six; females, sixty. Of the pupils above enumerated, twenty-nine terminated their connection with the Institute on or before the close of the school year, leaving eighty-seven who were entitled to return at the commencement of the current year, September 22. The number of these enrolled up to the present date is eighty-five, the remaining two having been detained at home by sickness. In addition to the number of last year's pupils just mentioned, we have enrolled thus far eighteen new ones, making the number in actual attendance at the date of this report, one hundred and three. This number should, and would be much larger, were our accommodations not too limited to admit of any further increase in our school.

Two of the number of last year's pupils, heretofore mentioned as having left us permanently, Mahlon Cook and John G. McAllister, returned to their respective homes in very feeble health, and subsequently died of consumption, the former on the eighth of May, and the latter on the thirtieth of September. Both of these lads were among our brightest and most exemplary pupils, and their memory is affectionately cherished by the entire household.

SCHOOL, INDUSTRIAL AND HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS.

Of the history and present status of the several departments of instruction, Literary, Musical and Industrial, no detailed statement would seem to be necessary, at this time, in view of your familiarity with the subject; and the same is true of the Household department. Suffice it then, to say in general terms that each has pursued, with little or no change of moment, the routine of former years, and with equally satisfactory results.

Below, you will find the usual statistics of the female branch of the industrial department, that for the males being conducted, under contract with its instructors, in such manner as to relieve the Institution of all pecuniary responsibility, with regard to it.

FINANCES.

The financial operations of the Institute during the past year are summarized in the following exhibit :

Resources.

Unexpended balance in hands of treasurer November 1, 1874, forty-six dollars and seventy cents, ($46.70). Legislative appropriation for current support from November 1, 1874, to October 31, 1875, inclusive, thirty-two thousand five hundred dollars, ($32,500.00). Amount reimbursed by counties on account of advances for clothing and traveling expenses of pupils, seventeen hundred and fifteen dollars and fifty-eight cents, ($1,715.58). Total resources for the year, thirty-four thousand two hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty-eight cents, ($34,262.28).

Disbursements.

Total amount expended for all purposes as per Secretary's report, submitted simultaneously herewith, thirty-four thousand one hundred and eighty-three dollars and seventy-nine cents, ($34,183.79). Balance, seventy-eight dollars and forty-nine cents, ($78.49).

INDIGENT GRADUATE'S FUND.

It has long been a desideratum with us, to have at our disposal, a fund upon which we could draw from time to time, for the purpose of supplying our indigent graduates with an outfit in the way of mechanical tools, etc., or a small sum of money in lieu thereof. Therefore, it is a source of very great satisfaction to be able to announce, that, through the disinterested benevolence of the late Mrs. Nancy Fitzpatrick, of the county of Delaware in this State, the nucleus of such a fund has been created.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was the mother of Margaret Louisa Fitzpatrick, a former pupil of this institution, now deceased, and it is doubtless due to the circumstance of her daughter being smitten with blindness that her sympathies were awakened towards others similarly afflicted. Be that as it may, however, dying childless, on the fifteenth day of March, 1871, she left a will from which the following passage is extracted :

"I give to each of the following blind persons, friends and associates of my blind daughter Margaret Louisa, the sum of one hundred dollars each, to-wit: Melissa and Phebe Garretson, Frances Cundiff, Dallas Newland, Naomi Unthunk, and a girl whose name before marriage was Rachel Martin, her husband's name not recollected. The balance of my estate, after paying expenses of administering, I give to the Superintendent of the Blind Asylum, and his successor, in trust, for the use and benefit of the indigent blind of Indiana, who may attend the Indiana Blind Asylum, to be given to them on leaving, in such sums as the Superintendent may judge proper, but not more than fifty dollars to any one person. I direct that the amount above directed be loaned at interest, and the interest and principal be distributed as above, agreeable to the best judgment of the Superintendent, so as to do the greatest good to the greatest number of blind persons."

The foregoing extract was forwarded to me under date of April 28, 1871, in a communication from W. Brotherton, Esq., an attorney at law in Muncie, the place of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's residence, and with it the explanation, that, upon application of the executor appointed by Mrs. F., Adam Wolfe, Esq., to have the will probated, a notice of contest was filed by a brother of the deceased, on the ground, as was afterwards learned, that she was mentally incompetent to make proper distribution of her property. Under these circumstances, and with the advice of your board, I, as ex-officio trustee of the bequest above mentioned, united with said executor in the employment of Messrs. March & Brotherton as attorneys to defend the probation of the will.

After the delays incident to such proceedings, a decision was rendered in our favor, whereupon another relative of the deceased filed a notice of contest, with others yet to hear from, in case of his failure to break the will. This second suit having been postponed from term to term of the court, with little prospect of a settlement of the contest without exhausting the sum in litigation, a conference was held between the parties interested, and a compromise effected, which, being subsequently adopted by the court as its decision, secured to the six legatees named in the will, their several bequests intact, but considerably reduced the amount bequeathed for the benefit of future graduates of this institution. Thus, instead of upwards of two thousand dollars as contemplated by the testatrix, I received only five hundred and seventy-three dollars and seventy-seven cents as the proceeds of the legacy, and that, not until July 24 of the current year. In order to compensate in some measure for the disappointment occasioned by this unexpected reduction in the amount of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's well-timed benefaction, your consent was obtained to the transfer of several smaller gratuities, from the "Superintendent's Incidental Fund," to that created by the bequest here alluded to. With these additions, the present status of the latter is as exhibited in the following statement:

Cash received January 27, 1862, from Calvin Fletcher, Sr., on behalf of some person unknown to the Institute.....	$100 00
Cash received May 11, 1863, from R. T. Reed, executor to Silas Bond, late of Wayne County, Indiana, being 8½ per cent. of a legacy to the Institute.....	27 16
Cash received August 28, 1868, from the Clerk of the Court of Dearborn county, Indiana, being a legacy of one hundred dollars to the Institute, less seventy-five cents for clerk and collection fees.....	99 25
Cash received July 24, 1875, from Adam Wolf, executor to Mrs. Nancy Fitzpatrick, late of Delaware county, Indiana, being a legacy of five hundred and seventy-five dollars and fifty-two cents, to the indigent graduates of the Institution, less one dollar and seventy-five cents, charged by the Muncie bank for exchange and collec- tion fee.....	573 77
	<hr/> $800 18

Interest at 10 per cent. on eight hundred dollars and eighteen cents, from August 1 to date.....	20 00
Total.....	$820 00

It is difficult to conceive of a more laudable object of benevolence than that to which the above mentioned fund is devoted, and the hope is indulged therefore, that the thoughtful example here set by a few friends of humanity, with hearts attuned to sympathy for the afflicted, may find many imitators among those who are blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. CHURCHMAN,

Superintendent.

APPENDIX E.

TO THE PUBLIC.

INDIANA INSTITUTE FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

This Institution is located at Indianapolis, the capital of the State, occupying a healthful and beautiful site in the northern part of the city.

It is strictly an educational establishment, having for its object the moral, intellectual and physical training of the young blind of both sexes residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither an asylum for the aged and helpless, nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

We are almost daily in receipt of applications for persons who wish to be treated for the cure of blindness, and we here take occasion to explain, for the benefit of such, that we have no surgical or medical department connected with our Institution.

For the information of applicants and other interested parties, the following compilation is made from the regulations of the Institution, viz:

1. The school year commences on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and closes on the last Wednesday in June following, making a continuous session of forty weeks, and leaving a vacation of twelve weeks during the warm season.

2. As a rule, applicants who are under nine or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

3. No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral character, will be knowingly admitted into the Institution, and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction, or disobedient to the regulations of the Institution, such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

4. No charge is made for the boarding or instruction of pupils from the State of Indiana, but those from without the State are charged at the rate of $200 per session of forty weeks, payable in advance, i. e., one-half at the beginning, and the other half at the middle of the session.

5. All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good, comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantity as to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

6. Each article of clothing shall be distinctly marked with the owners name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good condition, not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacations.

7. In cases where the parents or guardians of pupils, from the State of Indiana, are unable through indigence to supply them with the necessary clothing, the same is, by law, provided by the Institution, and the amount of its cost collected from the respective counties in which such pupils reside; like provision is also made for defraying the traveling expenses of indigent pupils to and from the Institution.

8. It is positively required that every pupil shall be removed from the Institution during the annual vacation of the school, as well as at any other time when such removal may be deemed necessary by the proper officers thereof; and in case of the failure of the friends of any pupil to comply with this requisition, provision is made by law for the sending of such pupil to the trustee of the township in which he or she resides, to be by him provided for at the expense of the county.

9. Persons bringing pupils to the Institution, or visiting them while here, can not be accommodated with boarding and lodging during their stay in the city.

10. All letters to the pupils should be addressed to the care of the Institution, in order to insure their prompt delivery.

11. Persons wishing to procure the admission of pupils, should apply to the Superintendent, by letter or otherwise, for printed instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the Institution until such instructions shall have been complied with.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE
INDIANA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE,
FOR THE
YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1875.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor :

We herby submit report for the year ending October 31, 1875.

A resume of the years' work of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, and the present status of affairs will be found in the Superintendent's report, herewith transmitted.

We regard the Institution as in good condition, and accomplishing, as far as circumstances will permit, the purposes for which it was wisely designed by its founders.

The Superintendent and resident officers associated with him, faithfully, and without exception, continue in the discharge of their several duties. There has been no removal of any officer, either by death or resignation, or for cause, for several years ; which has rendered the management of the institution not only easy and agreeable to the Board, but correspondingly profitable to its beneficiaries.

Indeed, it seems to us almost self-evident, that nothing but harm can result from the frequent changes, too often resorted to in some of the institutions of other States, for no adequate cause, in most instances the paramount questions of professional ability and experience not being duly considered.

Finally, we desire to express to you our thanks for the kindly interest you have so often manifested in our institution, trusting that its usefulness may not be abated, and that the day may soon arrive when all the insane within our borders shall be provided with a free asylum by the State.

Respectfully Submitted:

P. H. JAMESON, President Board.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners

For the Indiana Hospital for the Insane:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor of submitting the following report for the year ending October 31, 1875, constituting the twenty-seventh annual report of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane.

MOVEMENT OF POPULATION.

There were four hundred and eighty-two patients remaining in hospital at the beginning of the year, November 1, 1874.

Four hundred and thirty-eight patients were admitted within the year.

Nine hundred and twenty patients have, therefore, participated in hospital treatment within the year.

Of these, two hundred and fifty three were discharged "restored."

Fourteen "improved."

Fifty-one "not improved."

Forty-seven "died."

One "not insane."

Making an aggregate of three hundred and sixty-six discharged and died, while five hundred and fifty-four patients remain in hospital, a reduction below the full capacity of the house, usual at the close of the year, the full capacity of the house providing for six hundred patients.

For further and full statistical information, see Appendix.

HYGIENIC.

The "general health" of the hospital population has been fully up to the standard of expectancy, and bears favorable testimony, not only affirmatively of the salubrity of the location, but of careful attention to details of management, food, clothing, cleanliness, discipline and professional appliances. The ratio of restoration and the death rate for the year challenge attention, as evidences of usefulness and progress in hospital treatment of the insane.

EXPENDITURE.

The total expenditure for the year, on account of maintenance, improvements, furnishing and repairs, was $174,609.95. Or, on account of building, furnishing and repairs, $29,883.83. On account of maintenance, including clothing, salaries and wages, $144,726.12 These sums have been drawn from the State Treasury on warrants from the Auditor's office, (except $4,958.90, disbursed by the hospital from funds derived from various sources,) vouchers for the same, corresponding in number and amount being on file in the office of the hospital, a complete catalogue of which is herewith submitted.

The resources, from which these expenditures are made, may be stated as follows:

On hand Nov, 1, 1874,.....	$71,025 25
Appropriation, maintenance.....	135,000 00
Appropriation, repairs.....	8,000 00
Clothing account filed.....	15,958 18
From sales.	6,617 56
Total	$236,600 99
Balance for support of hospital to March 31, 1876.....	$61,991 04

It will be remembered that the late General Assembly did not make appropriations either for maintenance or repairs corresponding to my estimates of amounts required, leaving the hospital with a population increased and increasing, to be supported from a materially diminished appropriation.

Accepting this "as the will of the people," whose servant I am in administering the affairs of the hospital, my earnest endeavor has been to obtain the best results with the means afforded, and keep within the margin of appropriations as nearly as practicable. And, should prices of materials continue to rule low, and demands for repairs in excess of specific means be held in abeyance, the resources of the hospital for the year upon which we are about to enter, although not ample, not what they should be, will carry us through without marked embarrassment of a pecuniary character, but the great features of administration must inevitably be cramped.

The farm has been well cultivated and unusually productive.

The subordinate officers of the hospital have maintained their already acquired reputation.

The more permanent employes of the house are deserving of honorable mention for the faithful discharge of onerous duties.

The house itself, interiorly, is in excellent condition, although in need of repair externally, to a considerable extent.

The hospital is under obligation to a large number of publishers for gratuitous copies of their papers; and to the friends of patients for cash donations amounting to $650.00. And to yourselves, gentlemen, for the interested care which you have manifested in all of the particulars which contribute to a successful administration of hospital affair; for which, permit me to add my personal obligation, and expression of gratitude.

Although somewhat irrelevant, I can not close this report without congratulating the friends of the insane, on account of the provision made by the late General Assembly for building, in connection with this hospital, a department for women, equal in capacity to the present provision for both sexes, which is now fairly in progress of construction, and promises to be, when completed, equal to the best known provision for the treatment of the insane in this country. When this new department is opened, all of the women then accommodated in the present building will be transferred to the new house, and their places occupied by men. This building thereafter will be known as the "department for men."

Two years will be required to complete this extensive improvement, and place Indiana more nearly on a level with her sister States in the amplitude of her benevolent and beneficiary institutions than she has been for many years.

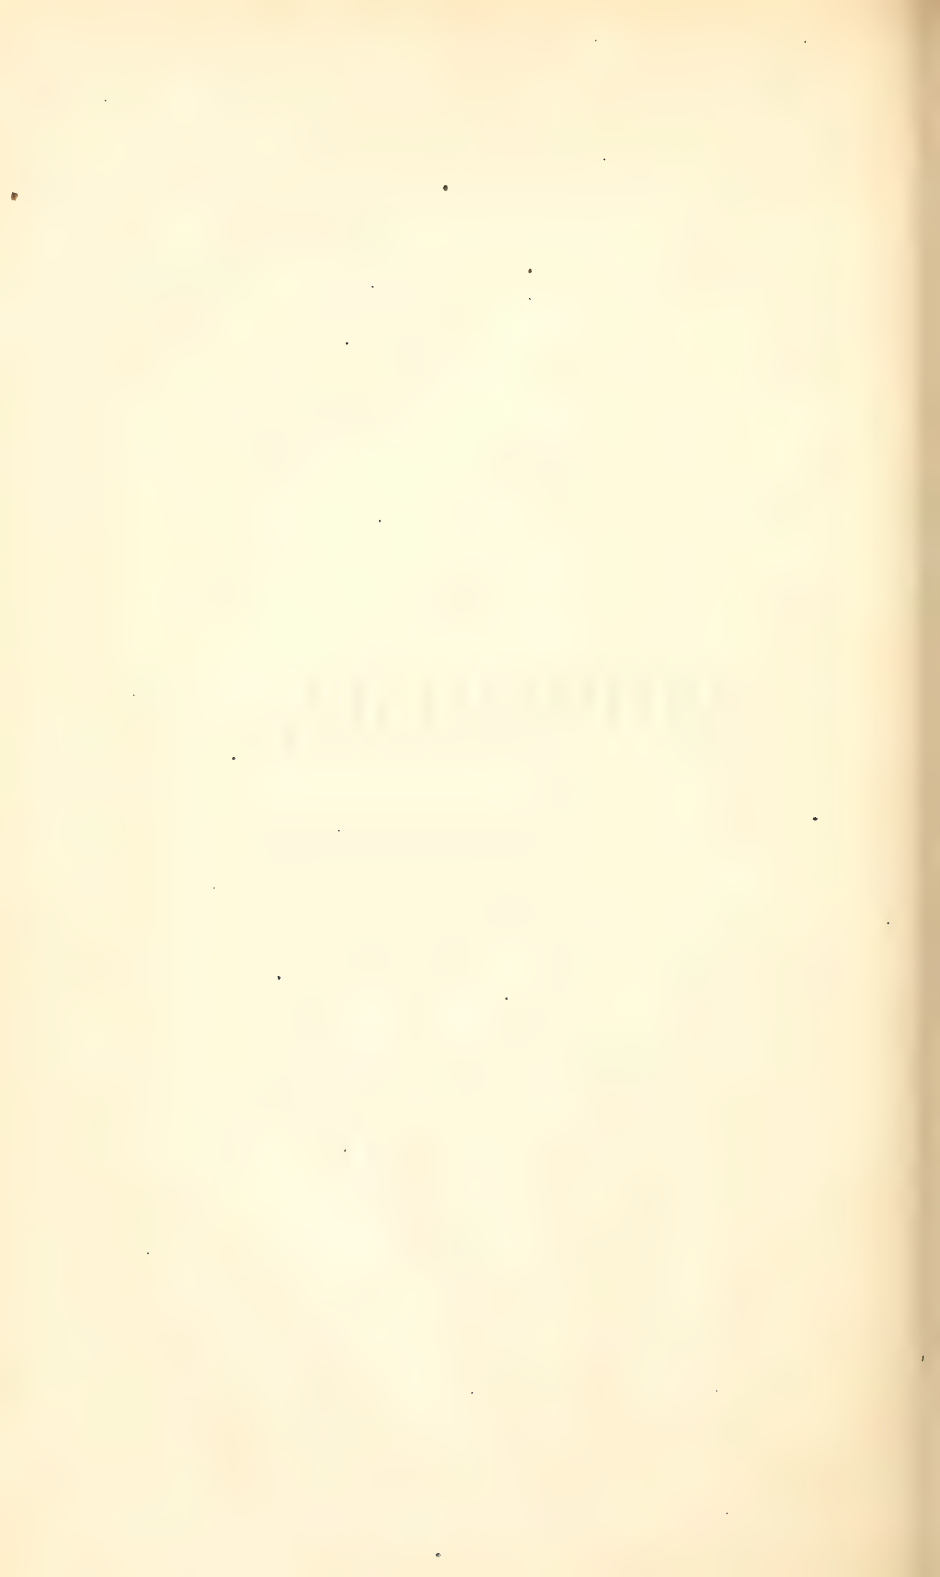

Respectfully submitted,

ORPHEUS EVERTS, M. D.,

Superintendent.

Report of the Supervisor of Construction
OF THE
INDIANA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.
DEPARTMENT FOR WOMEN.

JANUARY 1, 1876.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana :

In conformity with instruction from the Provisional Board of Commissioners, of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, I have the honor to submit the following report of progress pertaining to the construction of the department for women of said Hospital.

Immediately after the organization of the Provisional Board of Commissioners of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, provided for by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, bearing date, March 11, 1875, immediate steps were taken by the Board to execute the provisions of the law, by which they were authorized and required to locate and build an additional hospital for the insane, upon the grounds owned by the State, for hospital purposes, such building to provide for the accommodation of not less than six hundred insane persons, with all necessary attendance and employes.

The Board after considering all of the designs and plans presented to them, and visiting other hospitals in process of construction, supposed to embody all modern desirable features, unanimously adopted a ground plan and general design for a hospital, submitted by the Superintendent of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, and authorized him to employ a competent architect to carry his ideas into execution.

In pursuance of this authorization, Mr. Edwin May, of Indianapolis, a distinguished architect was employed, and has furnished full plans and specifications for the use of contractors and builders as fast as required, having successfully incorporated the designs furnished by the Medical Department of the Hospital, in the projection and elevation of a hospital building worthy of his widely acknowledged genius as an architect, and the dignity of a State foundation.

The building as designed consists of six distinct hospitals or L shaped sections connected, one with another, and all of them, three from either side with a central system of buildings for administration purposes, (offices, kitchen, laundry, baking, boilers and pumps, for heat and water supply,) by ample fire-proof towers, in each of which is a stairway communicating with the ground, and each of four floors elevation.

The building is uniformly four stories high above the basement, which raises four feet above the grade line—each section furnishing four wards for patients, having a capacity of twenty-five beds each. As the building is to be occupied exclusively by women patients, it will be seen that with an easy capacity for the accommodation of six hundred patients, facilities are afforded for twenty-four classifications, instead of twelve, as in the old hospital, or even fewer in most hospitals providing for the accommodation of both men and women patients in the same building. The entire structure presents a front line extension of ten hundred and forty-six feet interrupted by the connecting towers, and broken by the reception of each succeeding section in regular order from the center building to either extremity.

As there is nowhere any over-lapping of one building by another, there will be no dead air spaces, or dark angles in the building—all corridors terminating at either end in a spacious bay window, affording a large provision for light, and securing an amount of natural ventilation not always certainly attainable by devices for artificial circulation of the air.

The building is being constructed of stone, brick, iron, slate and mortar, to a great extent, using wood only in the construction of floors, doors and windows, and in the towers containing all of the stairways and separating the buildings one from another, no wood will be used for any purpose. The grand object of these towers being to furnish a safe exit at either extremity of every ward in the hospital for inmates in case of fire—to contain water tanks, pipes, hose, etc. Secure from danger by fire and to present a barrier against the communication of flame from one section of the building to another.

At the second meeting of the Board of Commissioners on the first Tuesday in May, 1875, proposals were received and contracts awarded to the lowest and best bidder for the necessary excavation and grading—for the rubble stone masonry (including materials,) and the rock face, coarse stone work: also, for three millions brick to be delivered in June and October following.

The contract for excavation and grading was let to Messrs. Irwin & Hanna, contractors of Indianapolis, at the rate of eighteen cents per cubic yard excavated.

The contract for stone work was let to August and Fred. Richter, of Indianapolis, contractors and practical stone masons, at the rate of seven dollars and seventy-five cents per cubic yard, mason's measurement, and twenty-five cents per foot, surface measurement, for all rock face, coarse work, including water table, window sills, steps, etc., the material to be flat rock limestone.

The contract for three millions brick was let to Messrs. Flack & Miller, brick makers of Wayne Township, at the rate of seven dollars and forty cents per thousand brick, eighty-five per cent. hard, delivered on the hospital ground.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, a contract was awarded to John Martin, of Indianapolis, a reputable and trustworthy contractor for brick masonry, to furnish material and lay all of the brick required in the construction of the entire building, at the rate of nine dollars per thousand brick in the wall, mason's measurement, said Martin receiving all of the brick contracted for by the Board of Flack & Miller, at the contract price as money paid on contract.

Contracts were also made with Byrkit Bro's., of Indianapolis, for basement window frames, with Coburn & Jones for window frames for the first story, and with Charles Dollman, carpenter, for setting frames, making centers and jam blocks, and frames and setting all of the joist for the first and second floors of the building.

One hundred thousand feet of pine lumber, mostly joist, were purchased by direction of the Board, at the rate of eighteen dollars and fifty cents per thousand, delivered on the hospital grounds. Also, thirteen hundred feet of fire-clay flue linings for the center building flues, where open fires will be used for warming purposes.

A contract was made in June with Conrad Neab, of Indianapolis, to furnish and lay a six inch cast-iron water main from, and connecting with the Holly pumps of the old hospital building, to supply the building in process of construction, together with the necessary cut-off valves, T's and hydrants, it being deemed advisable by the Board to lay this water main while the foundation of the building was being put down, and, also, to supply the stone and brick masons with water, for which they willingly become chargeable at regular city water rates. This contract called for forty-three dollars and fifty cents per ton for six inch pipe, fifty dollars each for hydrants, thirty-two dollars and fifty cents each for six-inch valves, seven cents per pound for T's and elbows, and sixteen dollars per ton for excavation and fitting the work with all connections four feet below the surface of the ground.

Later in the season a contract was made with the Indiana Cement Pipe Company, of Indianapolis, to furnish cement pipe fifteen by twenty-one inches inside and lay a sewer from the rear of the new building to a point of confluence with the main sewer of the old hospital sufficiently distant to secure ample fall for all sewerage, and to make connections by smaller cement pipe with all of the appertures in the basement walls of the various sections of the building left for the exit of said pipes when the house is completed. The price agreed upon for this work, was one dollar and sixty cents per lineal foot for the large pipe laid, and pro rata for smaller pipe, all excavation exceeding an average of six feet to be extra, but charged at actual cost.

Owing to almost continuous wet weather from May until August, work of various kinds was much delayed. Messrs. Irwin & Hanna, did not complete the work of excavating for the basement and foundations much in advance of the mason work, yet may be said to have kept out of the way of the masons. Their work was, however, satisfactorily accomplished, and was carried to a uniform gravel stratum laying at unequal depths below the surface grade line.

This was necessary to securing a trustworthy foundation and the variation in the entire length of the building did not exceed four feet.

The Richter Bro's, commenced their stone work early but did not quite complete their contract at the close of the season. Their work will bear inspection and may be classed as a good substantial job. In addition to the foundation and walls built in accordance with contract, they laid the foundation of the great shaft, or "smoke-stack" of the hospital, consisting of concrete and coarse stone laid in cement, for which they were allowed nine dollars per cubic yard. This was an excellent piece of work. The greater depth at which a gravel stratum was found in a portion of the excavation than was anticipated, increased the number of cubic yards of rubble masonry above the original estimate proportionately, but the necessity was imperative, adding two thousand dollars to expense for stone work not anticipated.

About two million brick were laid in the construction of the interior partition walls of the basement story, including foundation footing, corresponding in depth everywhere with the stone walls, and constructed of strictly hard and perfect brick. . These interior walls raised to a level of the first floor constituted the brick work of the season, and were covered with boards at this stage for protection against the weather, to await a new season of labor.

The work accomplished then, in accordance with various contracts, may be summarized as follows :

Excavation completed.

Stone masonry completed.

Five million brick laid in basement walls.

Water mains laid, with connections, hydrants, etc.

Main sewer laid, with house connections.

One hundred thousand feet of pine lumber and the window frames for basement and first stories on the ground, and ready for use.

So little carpenter work was required before the close of labor on the walls, no estimate was made of what was done, and no money paid out on the contract.

For full details of expenditures I beg leave to refer you to the Treasurer's Report, which makes a complete exhibit of the financial transactions of the Board.

I am happy to be able to say, that, in my judgment, the work so far as it has progressed, has been well done, the materials good and contract prices as low, if not lower, than could have been obtained by private capitalists constructing large buildings. Should the next season open early, and progress favorably for building purposes, the Board will be enabled to push the construction of this new hospital to enclosure before succeeding frost, after which work can be carried forward independent of the season.

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most obedient servant,

ORPHEUS EVERTS.

Supervisor of Construction.

REPORT

OF THE

ATTORNEY GENERAL

OF THE

STATE OF INDIANA.

FOR

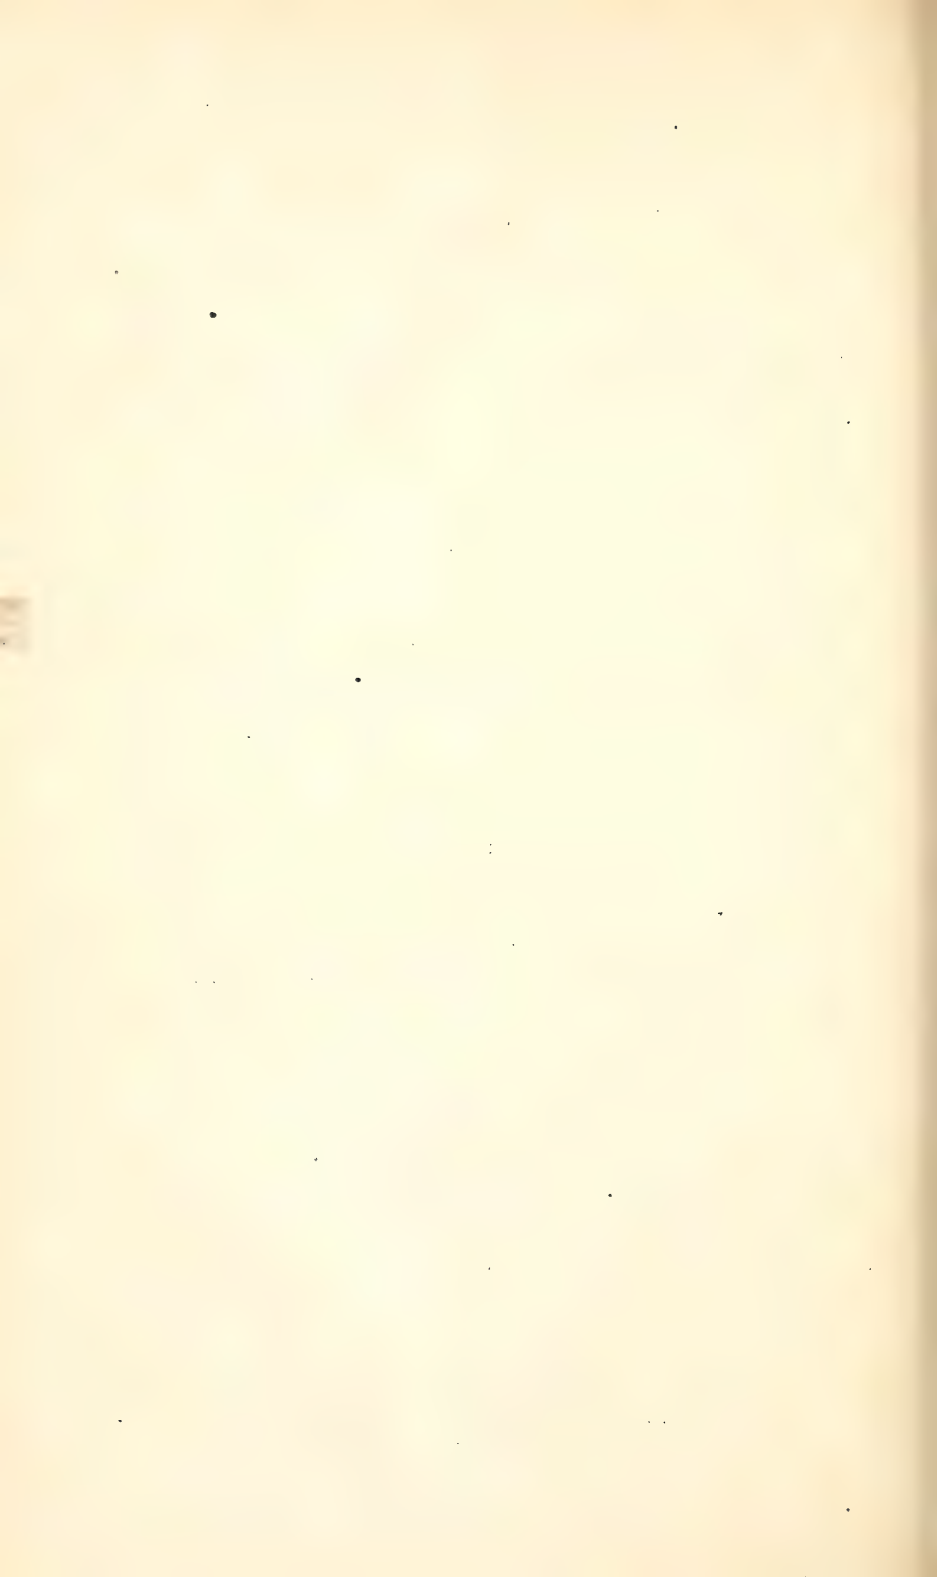

PART OF TERM, ENDING DEC. 31, 1875.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:

SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.

1875.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
INDIANAPOLIS, JANUARY 1, 1876.

HON. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of the State of Indiana:

SIR:—I have the honor to submit to your Excellency, the following report:

My official term commenced on the seventh day of November, 1874.

DUTIES OF OFFICE.

OPINIONS.

Up to this date, I have written thirty opinions in answer to communications from the various Departments of the State government. I have answered, also, five hundred and twenty-one letters, addressed to me by county and township officers throughout the State, requesting my opinion upon very numerous legal questions.

CASES IN THE SUPREME COURT.

A considerable portion of my time has been devoted to the preparation of briefs in behalf of the State, in criminal causes appealed to the Supreme Court. At the close of my term of two years, it will be my duty to submit a report, in which I will give a complete list of this class of causes, with a statement of their disposition.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

It has been my duty to institute and prosecute several cases in behalf of the State, as well as to prosecute several cases brought by my predecessor in office. The most important cause which it has been my duty to institute, is the one in behalf of the State against the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company, in the Superior Court for Marion county. In this case, the State demands a judgment for about one million and a half dollars. The defendant has demurred to the sufficiency of the complaint, and the matter was argued before the Court, which has rendered no decision up to this time.

In the report which it will be my duty to make at the close of my official term, I will be able to give a complete statement of the disposition and status of the various cases above mentioned. At the present time, such a statement would necessarily be so fragmentary and incomplete as to be comparatively useless.

COLLECTIONS.

Up to the date of this report, myself and assistants, under the act of the Legislature relating to the duties of this office, approved March 10, 1873, have made collections as follows :

On account of fines and forfeitures.....	$7,905 22
On account of interest on fines and forfeitures.....	315 41
On account of Circuit Court docket fees.....	7,673 20
On account of interest on Circuit Court docket fees.....	238 40
On account of Common Pleas Court docket fees.....	296 60
On account of witness fees, etc., unclaimed.....	2,724 56
On account of interest on witness fees,.....	155 33
On account of monies unclaimed in estates.....	6,587 75
On account of swamp land funds.....	1,152 04
On account of university funds.....	1,549 51
On account of balance of the 10th installment of Indiana War Claim.....	10,362 01
On account of miscellaneous collections and interest on the same.....	8,529 18
Total.....	$47,489 21

A part of these monies are required by the law to be paid by me into the county treasuries of the counties where respectively collected, and the other part into the State Treasury. Accordingly, they have been paid over by me and my assistants, except as to the commissions allowed by law. A full record, in detail, is kept by me of the collections and disbursements of monies through this office.

In a very few instances I have found it advantageous to the interests of the State, in my opinion, to take secured notes for matters of indebtedness to the State. In such cases, receipts are given with the condition annexed that they are to be receipts upon the event of the payment of such notes.

I do not attach any copies of opinions given by me to this report, for the reason, that the report at the close of my present official term of two years will be more complete than a report at this time can be made, and will have annexed to it a complete copy of all opinions given by me during the two years.

If your Excellency shall desire a fuller statement of any matters appertaining to this office than has been given above, I will make it at once, as supplementary to this report.

Very Respectfully Submitted,

C. A. BUSKIRK,
Attorney General, Indiana.

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—The Board of Managers of this Institution respectfully submit the following report for the year ending December 31, 1875.

At the making of the last report, the Board was constituted of J. H. Kappes, Joseph I. Irwin and Franklin G. Armstrong. On the 29th day of March last, John A. Finch succeeded Mr. Irwin. No other change has occurred. Mr. Kappes has continued to act as President. The stated meetings of the Board have been held at the Institution on the first Thursday of the month, when the business requiring attention has been carefully transacted. The number of subordinate officers and employes entrusted with the immediate supervision and management of the affairs of the Institution is eight, namely, Superintendent, Steward, Matron, Teacher, Housekeeper, Sewing Teacher, Engineer and Watchman. The Board has also had the valuable services of Dr. Theophilus Parvin as physician to the inmates of the Institution. A copy of the reports made to the Board by the Superintendent, Steward and Physician is submitted herewith.

The last Legislature, after considering the recommendations made in the report of the Board and gaining information by a visit of the appropriate committee to the Institution, granted a further sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the prosecution of the much-needed improvements which were suggested as essential to the completion of the building for the purpose for which it was designed. The work of putting in order and fencing the grounds has occupied the past season and has occasioned the larger part of the expenditures.

As a necessary part of these improvements, the Board joined in a petition to the Common Council of the city of Indianapolis, for the grading of Randolph street, which forms the western boundary of the grounds. The improvement was ordered by the Council, and executed by Bernard Hammill, contractor. Having first procured an opinion of the Attorney General that it would be proper to do so, the Board allowed the claim of the contractor for so much of the contract price as was estimated by the City Civil Engineer to be chargeable to the State, and it was paid. The Board then undertook and has carried forward to completion the grading of the entire lot by filling up the slough and leveling off the high ground. Much labor and consequent expense were necessary to accomplish this part of the improvements, but the change in the appearance of the grounds will testify to the success which has been achieved. A substantial wooden picket fence has been constructed upon the east and south lines of the lot, and an iron fence is about completed for erection upon the north and west lines. Four large rain water cisterns of a capacity of 2,229 barrels and two filters have been constructed in the ground immediately adjacent to the building. Contracts have also been made for sodding the slopes and other portions of the ground not used for a garden, and the work has been partially done. Arrangements have also been made for the construction of a perfect system of sewerage leading from the building northward and connecting with that already built by the city. The drives and carriage ways have been laid out and graded with care, and are to be paved in a durable and economical manner.

The expenditures thus far made from the appropriation, as will appear from a reference to the certificates, requisitions and warrants on file in the Treasury Department, have been as follows :

The aggregate of disbursements on this account, shown by the last report, was $100,378.48. Adding the amount above given, the total expenditure at this date is made $117,461.49.

The amounts necessary for the payment of the current expenses of the Institution for the months of January, February and March were estimated, allowed and paid to the Superintendent, as before, under authority of the permanent appropriation contained in the supplemental act of February 3, 1873. The legislature, having been informed of the annual expense of supporting the Institution, made a special appropriation of twenty-seven thousand five hundred dollars for the year 1875, which became available for the April expenses, and has been since used. The accounts of the Institution are therefore kept with the treasury upon the basis of the fixed special appropriations in its favor. The bills of account for each month are examined, and allowed by the Board at its first meeting thereafter; a copy of the record of allowance is certified to the Auditor of State, and upon it the Superintendent makes requisition for a warrant for the exact amount necessary for their payment. The account of current expenses prepared by the Steward, a copy of which is submitted herewith, exhibits the several amounts received and paid during the year.

The labor of the convicts has been but slightly remunerative. A statement of the amount collected for washing during each month of the year is given by the Steward. A part of this amount has been again applied on the account of current expenses. The residue is held by the Superintendent as a contingent fund.

The transactions of the Institution with the State Treasury during the year may be briefly exhibited as follows:

As required by section thirty-one of the act of May 13, 1869, the Board has estimated and determined "the actual expense per annum of clothing and subsisting an infant committed to the Reformatory Department of the Institution," and has fixed the amount thereof at one hundred and eighty-two dollars.

In conclusion we beg to say the results attained by this institution during the past year, both in the penal and reformatory departments, have been abundantly gratifying. The various officers employed have been faithful and efficient in the discharge of their duties and have labored harmoniously together to secure the best good of those committed to their charge. The discipline exercised has been mild and seasonable, yet firm; consequently there have been but few cases of insubordination. Regular systematic labor we believe to be a very important auxiliary in any system of reformation for young girls, or older criminals, but hitherto the means for the accomplishment of this object have not been altogether adequate. It has been found somewhat difficult to procure just the class of employment suited to the circumstances of female prisoners and of the older girls in the Reformatory. A pioneer institution of only three years' standing, time has been required to perfect all the arrangements necessary in order to compass the various objects to be attained. We hope during the present year to introduce such branches of industry as can be systematically pursued by each and every inmate and that hereafter no girl will be considered thoroughly reformed and competent to make her way in the world until she has been taught the practice of the ordinary arts of domestic life and can, therefore, if in good health, make herself useful in some one of its various departments.

There has been great improvement in the general conduct of the institution since its commencement, and the managers feel greatly indebted to your Excellency for the interest you have manifested and the support you have given in the accomplishment of their plans, and we believe that the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls will hereafter prove to be one of the brightest ornaments of your administration.

Respectfully submitted.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Managers:

In presenting the third annual report, it is most gratifying to state that the moral and religious influence so marked in the past has, with our increasing family, steadily progressed. Our position is felt to be one of no small responsibility, whether in rescuing the little waif of misfortune, against whom all doors seem to be closed, in striking contrast with the over-indulged and incorrigible, the orphan, or the one having a step-parent, which class, sad experience teaches us, is the one most demanding our sympathy, as these are most frequently thrown upon the world, to be led captive by some designing man who robs her of her virtue ere she knows its value, and too soon she becomes the pest of society—betrayed herself, in pure revenge seeks to betray others, and at the same time spreading disease and immorality wherever she goes. Experience teaches that these require peculiar tact, patience and forbearance, ere they are brought under the softening but powerful influence of religion, which can alone redeem the lost, and cheering is the thought: Jesus came to save such as these. Well may Indiana be proud of the provision she has made for their rescue, when we read the startling statistics collected by Dr. Harris, from the State of New York, of the degradation, prostitution, idiocy and crime resulting from one neglected waif.

We have an excellent school in which many have made rapid progress. All attend school a part of the day, after which they are engaged in glove making, sewing, knitting, washing, ironing, or the duties pertaining to housekeeping. All are required to attend religious exercises morning and evening, and often are we surprised to hear children so young, whose religious advantages have been so limited, manifest such an appreciation of the love of Jesus. One writes to her mother: "I never thought I could find a friend so near, so dear and so ready to help as Jesus." Another: "I never can repay the debt I owe when I look back a few weeks ago and see what I am now, purified as by fire, though but a child in pleasures and joys, a perfect child, but in sorrow I tell you I am a woman." A father of one of the inmates writes: "Accept my eternal gratitude for what has been done for my daughter."

The prison department, under the able management of Mrs. E. L. Johnson, is admirably conducted. By her firmness and kindness she readily wins the respect and love of the prisoners, so that the most abandoned, accustomed to filthy language and loathsome habits, soon appreciate the clean garment and pleasant surroundings and learn not only willing and cheerful obedience, but feel that work is a privilege and not a punishment. We find the system of shortening time for good conduct has a good effect upon them, which clearly proves, however pleasant prison life may be made, liberty and social life is the great boon for which they strive.

"What," will be asked, "has been the result of all this improvement in prison life?" We answer: In most cases restored womanhood, to enter again in life able to care for themselves and not a terror or an expense to society.

Our Sabbaths have been looked forward to with peculiar pleasure as well as the Sabbath School, and the meetings conducted by Wilson Morrow, who (with no other reward than that of doing good) has labored faithfully to teach them that Jesus is the friend of the fallen and outcast and richly has the blessing rested on his labors. As he has reminded them of home, mother, innocence and neglected opportunities, very many have resolved to lead better lives, and, whilst I tender him my personal obligation, I know he has the grateful thanks of all the inmates.

The health of the family has been good, Dr. Parvin assiduous in his attention and all the officers have worked harmoniously and have faithfully performed their respective duties. My thanks are also tendered to the Board for their kind assistance.

Respectfully submitted.

SARAH J. SMITH.

JAMES SMITH,

Steward.

Indianapolis, December 31, 1875.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, December 30, 1875.

To the Board of Managers of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls:

GENTLEMEN:—At the close of another year it affords me pleasure to state that the health of the inmates of the Reformatory is generally good. During the twelve months now terminating the number of sick has not been great, indeed has been remarkably small, considering the many admitted with originally imperfect physical organizations, or having had those organizations weakened by constitutional diseases or by exposure, neglect or injurious modes of living.

The credit for this general healthfulness is to be chiefly attributed to the excellent discipline prevailing in the Institution, to the constant occupation of the inmates and their simple mode of living and to the intelligent watchfulness of the resident officers. In this connection let me, as indicated in my last report, insist upon the importance of milk as an article of diet, especially for the younger inmates, and respectfully urge that in your future arrangements there shall be secured an increased, rather than a diminished, supply of this food.

One case of fatal illness has occurred in the Reform Department. The subject was a little colored girl, from Wayne county, who inherited from a mother, dying of pulmonary tuberculosis, a feeble, if not a diseased, organization, and who, when she came, was a better subject for a hospital than for a school. She had that somewhat rare malady known as Adenia, or Hodgkin's disease, which, as usual, terminated in death after many months of suffering.

The only other fact of medical interest to be mentioned is the very satisfactory results that have followed the use of sulphate of cinchonia as a substitute for quinia in the treatment of intermittent fever. The cure by this agent seemed quite as certain, and relapses less frequent than when the more expensive agent was used.

Desiring and believing that the Reformatory will grow from year to year in honor and in usefulness, winning more and more the affection and the pride of the people of the State and crowned with the blessings of philanthropists everywhere, and confident that all that can be done unto the accomplishment of these ends by its managers will be done,

I am yours, respectfully,

THEOPHILUS PARVIN.

REPORTS OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS.

(THIRD REPORT.)

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

The undersigned, one of the members of the Board of Visitors of the Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, by direction and on behalf of said Board, would report that the Board have recently visited the Reformatory as well as the Penal Department, and were gratified to note the marked improvement in each. In making our semi-annual report of this Institution, we recognize the Divine favor which has been so signally apparent, both by its increased usefulness, growing favor with the public and liberal support of the Government.

The improvements contemplated by the commissioners and for which our legislature made a liberal appropriation, have been scarcely commenced, owing, as we learn, to the wet weather. The Board are contemplating the erection of a laundry somewhat separated from the main building, which, when completed, will, we think, contribute greatly to the health and comfort of the inmates, removing from the building the dampness and odor that must, of necessity, exist whilst the laundry is in the basement. The absence of cisterns is, we think, a great defect. They should be made at once without delay, thereby decreasing, by several hundred dollars annually the already heavy expenditures.

The Institution is under the same management as at date of our last report. The officers appear to have been faithful to their trusts and, by their assiduity and devotion both in the Reformatory and Penal Department, we find the most thorough order and discipline combined with that home-like personal attachment both towards each other and the officers, which is rarely found to such an extent in an institution for punishment and reclamation. The health of officers and inmates has been comparatively good; the food simple, but nutritious and wholesome.

PENAL DEPARTMENT.

Here we found thirty-five prisoners under excellent discipline. Whilst all alike are placed under the same general rules, great care appears to be taken to study the peculiar disposition of each and adapt the remedy to the disease, seeking as far as possible the restoration of self-respect as the first permanent step to improvement. Reading is found to have a beneficial effect upon the prisoners not only in enlarging the circle of general knowledge, calming the too ardent imagination, but also laying the basis for purer and more ennobling thoughts. We were glad to learn that efforts were being made to increase the library, but would recommend at as early a period as possible a much larger increase of such a character of books as would meet the wants of both departments. The prisoners are taught two evenings in the week in the elementary branches of an English education. We found them engaged in sewing, knitting, washing and ironing, having earned by washing and ironing, during the last six months, $914.96.

REFORMATORY.

In this department are one hundred and eight girls of various ages and for different causes have found a home here. A very large number of these are here as the result of second marriages or the breaking of the marriage vow. Want of government and family discipline has arisen, bitterness and discord has reigned, and, as a result, many of the girls have fled from their homes, fallen into a life of sin, and when arrested and brought to the Reformatory are totally undisciplined and unaccustomed to restraint. But so great has been the success of the officers in establishing a healthy influence and moral tone, that very soon they, in a great measure, yield to the requisitions which are made.

School is held daily so that all the girls are in school a portion of each day and the remaining portion in manual labor, care being taken to train them in the various departments of housewifery. The majority of them are bright, ready, and apt to learn, quite equal to a corresponding number outside. Glove-making has been introduced in each department, but as yet is not remunerative.

Great care is taken with religious instruction in both departments, believing that permanent reformation must be based on the true foundation—Jesus Christ—whom to know is life eternal. They enter with zest into all religious exercises and their prayer meetings are marked with interest, and we trust a permanent reformation will be effected in many cases.

Respectfully submitted.

RHODA M. COFFIN.

(FOURTH REPORT.)

To His Excellency, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana:

In pursuance of the provision of section thirty-nine of the act establishing a Female Prison and Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, the undersigned, Board of Visitors, have the honor of submitting to you this, their fourth report.

They have sought, during the past year, to fulfill the commission assigned them by you. They have visited said Institution as required, have inspected and examined the treatment, employment and condition of its inmates, as well as the management of its affairs. They observe that the Institution has grown in numbers, in usefulness and in public favor, showing the wisdom and sagacity of our legislature in providing such an institution. In reviewing the operations of the past year, they are cheered by the results, the marked change in many bearing evidence to the patient labor of those having them in charge. The early history of the girls, the character of their homes, their habits and early associations, their parentage—orphans or half orphans, or parents in a state of separation,—make it an exceedingly difficult task to take these and so re-mold, re-construct and train them, as to be fitted to occupy the position assigned them by God, viz., wives, mothers and educators of children. The discipline of the prison is humane, and not inconsistent with the character of the offenses of its inmates. The educational and religious training, excellent, and the effect a well regulated, obedient and industrious family. The report of the Board of Managers, and Superintendent's report, cover the operations of the Institution so fully for the past year, and enter details so specifically, that it is unnecessary for this Board to recapitulate or dwell at greater length on its affairs or management. Every facility has been afforded them by the Board of Managers and Superintendent, for the discharge of the duties assigned to this Board. We believe the managers and officers are all faithfully endeavoring to labor for the best interests of those committed to their care.

Respectfully submitted,

RHODA M. COFFIN.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

OF THE

INDIANA

Soldiers' Orphans' Home,

FOR THE

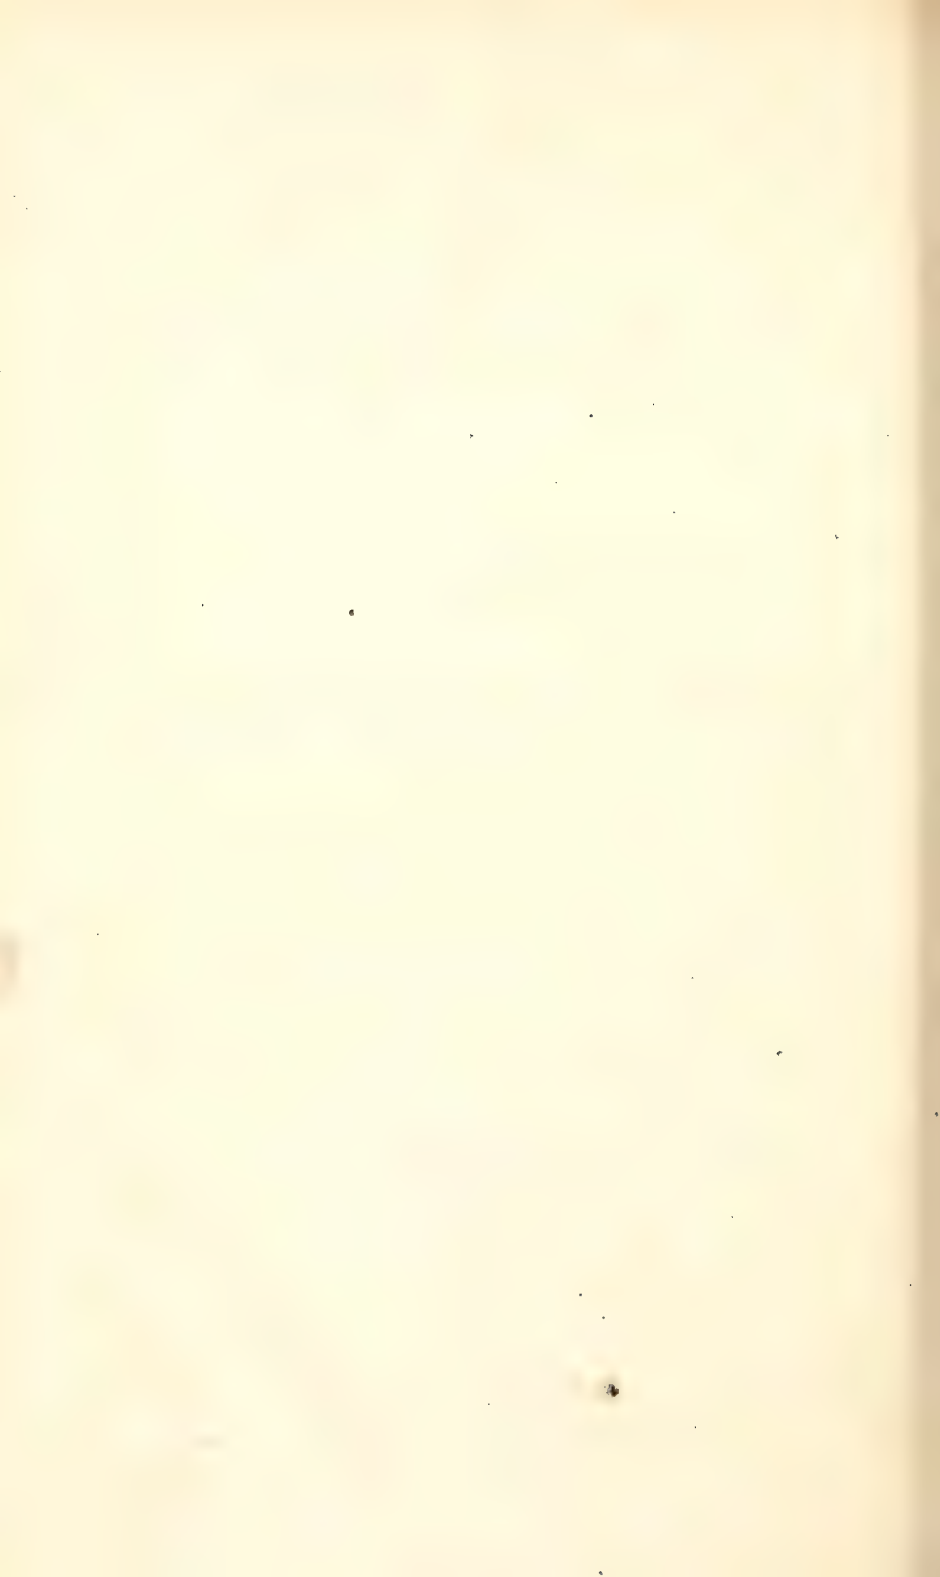

YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1875.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

HON. T. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of Indiana :

SIR : The undersigned, Trustees of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Knightstown, Indiana, would respectfully submit their annual report for the year closing October 31st, 1875.

It gives them pleasure to say that the institution is in a very healthy and prosperous condition. The inmates are cared for in a manner that is highly creditable to those having the oversight.

The financial condition is good, there being a fair balance of unexpended appropriations to their credit. This is, to a great extent, owing to the close and careful management of the Superintendent, Dr. M. M. Wishard, and to his most excellent lady, the Matron of the Home. There is also great credit due to the ladies employed in all the departments of the institution. They seem to vie with each other in their attention and care of the inmates, and in making the expense as low as it is possible to have the inmates comfortably cared for.

It is proper, also, to say that the school, under the supervision of Chaplain R. F. Brewington, is in a most excellent condition. Never since the organization of the Home has its schools been under better management or better taught.

For the details of the working of the Home, permit us to call your attention to the report of the Superintendent, herewith attached. They earnestly ask their careful consideration, and if the recommendations meet your approval, that you aid the Board of Trustees in carrying them out.

Finally, we would thank you most sincerely for the very liberal aid you have extended to the institution during the past year. When its condition needed help, you have always extended a liberal hand to improve and make the condition of its inmates more comfortable.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

INDIANA SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME,
KNIGHTSTOWN, IND., October 31, 1875.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—As the current year draws to a close I am reminded of a duty, that of rendering an account of my stewardship, and while to render such an account should not be considered a hard or an unreasonable duty by any one, and more especially those holding public trusts, I confess that it is no easy or pleasant task for me at this time. Not that there are serious difficulties in the way, not that there are misdeeds to be covered up, nor “things hidden to be revealed.” Nothing of the kind, but simply because of the unavoidable sameness of all such documents. So little to be said that has not been said again and again. No strange or uncertain sound then to fall upon your ears gentlemen, and with these preliminary remarks I proceed to the duty of submitting my eighth annual report.

In looking back over the history of the past year, we find abundant reason for profound thankfulness to our kind Heavenly Father for His manifold blessings vouchsafed unto us in the preservation of life and health, and in sustaining us amid the cares and responsibilities incident to the management of so many children.

The year has been in all respects a prosperous and a profitable one for the Institution. The schools have done excellent service. The children have, many of them, made rapid progress. The older ones being stimulated by the strong probability of this being their last year in the “Home,” and, if so, the end of their school days. But more on this subject by and by.

HEALTH OF THE INMATES.

In consequence of the great quantity of rain which fell during the spring and summer, and the consequent rapid growth and decay of vegetable matter, the legitimate fruits, which are malarious and miasmatic, diseases have been felt to an unusual degree among the children, and yet we have great reason to be thankful that so little fatality has resulted; in fact there has been no death from this class of disease proper, and but two from any cause during the year. In the month of February a dear little girl of ten years of age died of congestion of the lungs, and during the present month a boy of fourteen years died of congestion of the brain. These two make up the mortality for the year.

Early in the month of September we were visited by an epidemic of whooping cough, having been brought among us by some of the children returning from the summer vacation. About sixty of them were attacked almost simultaneously. This affliction has been the severest scourging we have had since the epidemic of measles, now nearly four years ago, and yet no fatality has resulted, thus giving us renewed cause for thankfulness to God for this singular deliverance and manifest loving kindness.

NUMBER OF INMATES.

My last report shows the number to have been two hundred and ninety (290). There has been admitted during the year, fifty-four (54), making a total of three hundred and forty-four (344) cared for during the year. Of this number forty-seven (47) have been discharged at the request of parent or guardian, or have been placed in suitable homes, and two (2) have died, leaving the present number remaining two hundred and ninety-five (295).

FARM PRODUCTS.

The result of our farming operations have been very satisfactory, notwithstanding the unfavorable season. Our crops are chiefly vegetable, however, and such crops do not suffer from rain in excess, as cereals do. Our potato crop was much larger than we could have reasonably expected under the most favorable circumstances, amounting to nearly eight hundred bushels at digging time, not including the large quantity used during the summer, which may be estimated at from two to three hundred bushels, all of which was the product of about ten acres. Of all other varieties of vegetables, such as are usually cultivated on the farm, we have had an abundant supply.

While the products of the farm have been remunerative in furnishing our tables with a bountiful supply of fresh vegetables so necessary in the promotion of health of children, it has furnished employment for the boys, which has been healthful to them and profitable to the institution in reducing the current expense account, all the labor necessary in its cultivation having been furnished by them, and generally cheerfully performed.

I may be allowed to say in this connection, that the children are taught habits of industry and self dependence, and that all legitimate labor is honorable and will bring its reward to all who are faithful. Even the smallest of them are required to perform some little duty for themselves, such as is performed for children in their homes by parents or servants, thus fitting them in early years for the cares and responsibilities of life with which they are soon to come in contact.

THE SCHOOLS.

The schools continue to be, as heretofore, the most important feature and principal attraction of the Institution. They are thorough in organization and discipline, and the progress of the pupils in the different branches of study would indicate that they are in good hands, and that the teachers are competent and faithful. Many of these girls and boys have here laid the foundation of a thorough and practical education. Have here acquired a taste for true knowledge, which will never be satisfied until the highest is attained. For a more detailed history of this department of the work, I refer you to the report of Chaplain Brewington, who has the general management of the schools under his personal supervision.

GOVERNMENT OF THE HOME.

The government and discipline of the "Home" is, as far as possible, parental. Corporal punishment is resorted to only in extreme cases and where moral suasion has failed to do its work. The rod is not spared, however, to the degree of spoiling the child.

Objections have been made, I know, to the indiscriminate mixing of children together in an institution. It is urged, and at first thought it would seem with some degree of reason, that in every such place there must of necessity be some who are very good and others who are just the reverse, and that the bad would naturally contaminate and exert an influence injurious upon the good. This, however, is not my conclusion after an experience of more than ten years in this kind of work. More generally just the reverse is true. That is to say, the very good exert a salutary influence upon the very bad. I am not one of those who believe that children are by nature inclined to be very bad. They are imitative creatures, however, and affected to a great extent by their associations; and it follows that if they have a preponderance of evil influence surrounding them, they are very likely to be correspondingly evil.

Children are proverbially communicative, and I have often noticed, with some degree of surprise too, how ready, and without any apparent effort, they learn the rules and regulations which are to govern their conduct while here. If there is any peculiarity in the personal appearance, habits or disposition of a little stranger who enters the Home, none so ready to discover and prompt to report as the other children; each considers himself or herself a private detective, and feels at perfect liberty to disclose to the proper authority, any direlection from duty, or imperfection of character which would in any way effect the discipline, or be a hindrance to the prosperity of the Institution. This peculiar trait has always been encouraged to a proper extent; not, however, to such a degree as to make fault finding or tale bearing commendable, but to permit such things to be brought to notice as would be hurtful in their tendency.

My conclusions are, after an intimate knowledge of institution life during a period of ten years, that it in no way tends to destroy their individuality, or deprive them of anything, save the peculiar love of father and mother, and, on the other hand, gives them many things in the way of moral training, they could obtain nowhere else.

Prejudice is very often the outgrowth of ignorance, so it happens sometimes, that the persons who know the least about the true character and work of the different charitable institutions, are the most ready to censure. Comparatively few people in our own State have any accurate knowledge or conception of the real labor performed, or the responsibilities resting upon those in charge of the different charities which they assist in supporting. Reports are made from year to year, but read by very few, aside from those immediately interested. I am quite sure that even now, after an existence of nearly nine years, this Home is comparatively unknown to some in the community, who live near enough to see the smoke from its chimneys, and to hear the ringing of its bells. This ignorance should not exist. The Institution is a public one, and people should be posted, so to speak, as to its workings. They should come and see for themselves, and then make up their judgment for or against it, after having thoroughly examined into its management.

For the information of the public I will say that we set apart two days in each week, (Tuesdays and Fridays), for the special purpose of receiving visitors. Those who desire to become acquainted with the objects and aims of the institution are invited to come and see for themselves. We will take pleasure in giving them all the information they desire in regard to our work.

Five hundred and ten children have here, within the past eight years, found shelter, protection and what education the limited time of their stay would admit of. Our aim has been to store their young minds with that kind of knowledge that would fit them for those duties in life that must be met by all sooner or later.

The moral and religious instruction of the children is of a high order, also. The plain teaching of the Bible is impressed upon their young minds, both by precept and example, in such a way as to impress them with the truth that there is a reality in the religion of Jesus Christ. All sectarian or church dogmas are discarded. Nothing of the kind has ever been attempted by any one, nor would any such teachings be tolerated. All those persons who have immediate charge of the children, either as teacher or governess, are Christian and philanthropic women of the highest order. None others are employed. Women who are eminently fitted for the work, and who have a higher motive than that inspired by the amount of pay they receive, but who have a real interest in the future of these children, to such women, mothers, your orphan children are committed, and to whom you can safely trust their training.

REPAIRS.

During the last summer, it was found necessary, in order to protect the Home building from serious injury, to have the roof thoroughly repaired, and the cornice, cupola, etc., re-painted, all of which has been done in a good and substantial manner. The building may now be said to be in a good state of repair. In addition to these repairs, we have made about one hundred rods of plank or picket fence, which was an absolute necessity, in order to protect our growing crops. I have also built two coal houses, which was necessary to protect our fuel from the weather, and which has been heretofore exposed. These improvements and repairs have cost about fifteen hundred and fifty dollars; which amount was provided for by the Governor, authorizing the Auditor of State to draw a warrant on the Treasurer, to be paid out of the unexpended balance of our appropriation for the year.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED.

There are a great many improvements and repairs which are very much needed, for the comfort and convenience of the inmates, as well as for the interest of the State, but which can not be made now, at this advanced period of the season. I feel that it is my duty, however, to call your attention to them, in order that you may assist me in securing them at as early a period in the coming spring as possible.

I call your attention first to our imperfect arrangements for doing the washing and ironing, which has always been done by hand with the aid of a few small machines. The amount of this kind of work which is necessary for nearly three hundred persons, forms no inconsiderable part of the labor of the domestic department, and should be done by machinery, the motive power of which should be steam. I am not, just now, prepared to make any suggestions as to what we need, but shall investigate the matter, and in the spring I hope to have some definite plan to propose for this much needed improvement.

The next matter of importance that will claim attention during the coming season, is the fencing of all that portion of the farm west of the pike, which is surrounded by a common rail fence, which has not been renewed for twenty years, and is now in a very bad condition. This should all be replaced with a substantial plank fence, similar to that made during the present fall. The farm would then all be under good fence, and in that condition of repair that should characterize all State institutions.

The third and last matter of importance to which I shall call your attention for the present is the springs. The present wooden platforms, and wall of the same, were put there, and only intended for temporary use, more than eight years ago, are still standing and in a very bad condition. These should be torn out and replaced with flag stones, which would be a permanent and lasting improvement.

as well as render the water pure and healthful, and be more in keeping with the appointments of a public place.

With these suggestions on the subject of improvements and repairs, I leave the matter with you, hoping you will give it due consideration, and that I may have your co-operation in securing them, so far as they may have your approval.

ADDITIONAL CLOTHING NEEDED.

In consequence of the prevalence of whooping-cough among the children, at this unfavorable season of the year, it will be necessary to provide them with a better supply of clothing than can be furnished from our weekly allowance for current expenses. We have never been able to provide flannel underwear for all of the children, nor has it been so essential for them to have such clothing heretofore, but now I consider it an absolute necessity, to the end that both life and health be preserved. I therefore ask you to join me in a request to the Governor, for a sum sufficient to provide each child in the Home, with two suits of flannel underwear, and such other suitable clothing as may be necessary to render them comfortable during the coming winter. Upon a careful estimate, I find that it will require the sum of one thousand dollars, and I think we may ask for this amount without hesitation, as there is an ample balance to our credit from which to draw it.

FINALLY,

It is my pleasant duty, in closing this report, to bear cheerful testimony to the faithfulness of all those persons engaged in the noble and humane work of caring for the fatherless children of those defenders of our country, who laid down their lives on many a well fought field, and whether it be teacher, governess, or whatever capacity, the record is the same—duty well done. There have been but few changes among the teachers, governesses or employes, during the past year, and where any changes have occurred, they have been, without exception, voluntary, thus showing faithfulness to duty. In a word, then, all have merited my highest approbation, and to you, gentlemen, I owe a debt of gratitude which can never be paid. For the uniform kindness with which you have always treated me, and for the confidence reposed in me, and for your valuable aid and encouragement, you have my heartfelt thanks. Through you, also,

I desire to convey to Governor Hendricks and Mr. Samuel R. Downey, his private secretary, my high appreciation of their uniform kindness and courteous treatment always extended towards me in my intercourse with them, and for which I shall always feel grateful.

With the hope, that in the future I may merit a continuation of the same confidence, this report is

Respectfully submitted,

Superintendent.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME,

KNIGHTSTOWN, IND., Oct. 31, 1875.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—At the close of another year's labor, in the department assigned me in this Institution, it becomes my duty to present to you a brief report of the result of these labors.

The work of the school year, ending June 15, 1875, was continued without interruption, under the care of the teachers mentioned in my last report. With pleasure I record the fact, that the faithful labor of these teachers were attended with commendable progress on the part of the pupils; progress so marked, that it elicited special praise from those who witnessed the closing exercises of the school year.

Miss Belle Spencer having resigned her position in the school, at the end of the year, Miss Esther Starr, of Richmond, was selected to fill the vacancy. The schools were re-opened August 30, and have continued since that time under charge of the following teachers:

Room No. 1, Miss Dell Foxworthy.

Room No. 2, Miss Esther Starr.

Room No. 3, Miss Emma L. Parker.

Room No. 4, Miss S. M. Bonfoy.

Owing to the general prevalence of whooping-cough, during the months of September and October, the progress of the children in study, has been somewhat retarded, but I am happy to be able to report the school is now in good condition, and the teachers laboring faithfully at their respective posts.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

In this important field of labor, I desire to make special mention of the hearty co-operation and help of the officers and other persons employed in the Home.

The general deportment of the children has been good, and in but few instances has it been found necessary to resort to severe discipline.

The Sunday-school, during the past year, has been unusually interesting, and, we trust, profitable to all who have attended. The lessons thus learned from the revealed word of God, have been such as we feel confident will be felt and acted upon in the future lives of many of the children. Much of the seed thus sown has, we fondly trust, fallen upon good ground, and that in the future it may spring up and bear abundant fruit, to the honor and glory of God.

Marked attention has been given to the preaching of the gospel, and a good degree of attention and interest manifested in all the religious services, and while there has not been all the immediate and visible results our hearts have desired, yet we are thankful for the evidence given that labor has not been bestowed in vain, and that God has owned and blessed his word.

Many of the children seem to be deeply impressed with religious truth and obligation, and manifest a desire to lead consistent, christian lives.

There is, connected with the Home, a religious organization or society. Since its establishment, in 1872, eighty-three adults and children have been enrolled as members. Many of these have gone to other homes and associations. Some of them, whose history we can trace, are consistent members of other churches, and are, as we have reason to believe, leading useful lives. Twenty-five of the older children were received into the church during the year just ended. Trusting and earnestly praying that the blessing of our Heavenly Father may rest upon us in the future, as it has done in the past, this report is

Respectfully submitted,

R. F. BREWINGTON,

Chaplain.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To His Excellency, THOS. A. HENDRICKS,

Governor of the State of Indiana:

The Board of Commissioners of the House of Refuge for Juvenile Offenders, present, as required by statute, this their ninth annual report, and herewith hand you also the report of the Superintendent and other officers of the Institution.

A majority of the Board came into office four months after the making up of the last report, and after the work of the year had been entered upon, and its plans established, and they do not now enter upon any discussion of those places or lines of policy, but simply state the condition of the trusts placed in their management.

The primal idea of the legislature in establishing the House—"the reformation of the boys of criminal life or vicious tendencies"—can be attained only in a degree. The Board believes that the Institution is more than ordinarily successful in this regard—the House is not an open prison, but, rather, a close home, where the inmates are under watchful supervision, where they are made to feel that good conduct will meet with its due reward, proper acknowledgment, and be to their personal advantage.

The number of inmates at last report was.....	265
The number now in the Institution.....	328
Increase	63

The same proportionate increase will give us four hundred inmates at our next report. This increase is not to be attributed to the like increase of crime, but to a better acknowledgment of the efficiency of the House. Nearly one-sixth of the counties of the State have never sent an inmate, and were the benefits of the Refuge made available in all the counties, as in some, over two thousand applications would be made, seeking its advantages.

For the accommodation of such number as may be received the coming year, there is ample room in the buildings. The new building, erected in 1874 and completed in 1875, has not been occupied, the Board not having the necessary funds to supply the furniture therefor. The condition of the buildings is not satisfactory. They have all been erected with basement rooms, which, from the nature of the soil, are so damp as to be unhealthy, not only to those who are even temporarily employed in them, but also a cause of sickness to the occupants of the rooms above. In the construction of the buildings, sufficient regard was not had to a proper system of ventilation; pure air and cleanliness we consider well nigh indispensable; in fact, the highest success can not be attained until the buildings are properly heated, ventilated, and supplied with bath rooms.

It is desirable that the farm, containing two hundred and twenty-five acres, should give employment to a very large portion of the boys, farm work being more suitable to their capacities, and should supply them with their employment after they leave, it being desired by the Board to put them out on farms as rapidly as they can be fitted for leaving the Institution, and suitable places found for them.

There is much waste land on the tract, the creek running through the length of it. Probably about ninety acres of the land is now under cultivation. It is the policy of the Board, (and they have so ordered,) that the timber land be cleared off, and all the available land be brought into use. As soon as practicable the number of acres of tillable land will be doubled. The land in the creek bottom is subject to overflow, and this danger will increase as the lands in and adjacent to the stream are cleared up and cultivated, or pastured. The upland is a cold, clammy, clay soil, exceedingly difficult to cultivate, and comparatively unproductive, unless the time of planting and growing the crops should prove seasonable. The past summer being a wet one, the crops from the uplands were comparatively valueless, and on the lowlands much injured by the overflow.

The freshets of the past summer carried away the bridges, causing a loss of probably one thousand dollars. The danger of like results in the future have induced the Board to commence building a road on the edge of the bluff, on the west side of the creek, north to the National road. We are of the opinion that in order to make the uplands productive they must be thoroughly underdrained.

The annual expense of keeping and caring for each inmate we estimate, (as required by Section 20 of the law regarding the Institution,) to be $200.

The expenses of the past year has been.....	$77,708 34
Less paid on buildings and improvements.....	6,725 27
	$70,983 07

A part, however, of the account for buildings and improvements were for ordinary repairs, so that the actual cost for the Institution for the year has exceeded $70,000. The Board is aware of the necessity of new methods, of better handling of the labor of the boys, and closer economy in purchases the coming year.

FINLEY BIGGER,
CHARLES F. COFFIN,

Commissioners.

HOUSE OF REFUGE, PLAINFIELD, January 1, 1876.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners :

I desire to present the following statement showing the social, moral, educational, industrial and financial condition of the House of Refuge for the calendar year 1875.

This has been, in some respects, an exceptional year in the history and character of the Institution, many new features having been introduced into its internal arrangement, the wisdom of which is yet to be demonstrated. The Board of Control underwent such a change of membership in March last as resulted in a new organization in April, the time of the first meeting, causing the election of a new set of officers in the Board. This new Board decided upon a somewhat different line of policy for the future conduct of the Institution; several of the experienced and well drilled officers retiring, their places being filled by persons without special training and experience in the reformatory work.

INDUSTRIES.

Our mechanical and industrial departments are inadequate to the demands of the Institution. There are now present three hundred and twenty-eight inmates with a steady growth which is certain to reach four hundred before the close of the current year. There are no means at hand to furnish this number with steady and profitable employment, and until there is, the greatest good that may accrue to the boys and the Institution can not possibly be attained. Without a judicious system of mechanical industry sufficient to utilize all the labor of the boys, the Institution can not reach the highest degree of efficiency as a reformatory nor a satisfactory condition of economy. The primary object in the conduct of a public Institution should be the accomplishment of the purposes designed in its establishment. The next should be the judicious and economical administrations of its finances. Reformation and financial success are impossible without such a system of industrial training as will fully employ the time and energies of the boys and prepare them for useful citizenship when released.

The chair shop no longer pays a revenue, owing to the reduction in the prices of work, caused by the close competition in manufacturing. Caning chairs is our leading industry but owing to the small demand for caning, the boys in this department have been without employment at all for a portion of time, and for still another portion have been only partially employed.

The tailoring department is still conducted for the manufacturing and mending of the boys' clothing alone. It affords employment but for a few and these will not probably prosecute the business beyond the period of their detention in this Institution, as it offers no promise of remuneration after they are discharged.

A few of the boys are employed in the shoe repair shop; the remainder of the inmates being employed in the different divisions of the domestic department and on the numerous "trustworthy jobs" in and about the buildings, on the farm and in the garden. There is a pressing demand for an immediate enlargement of our industrial resources, without which it will be difficult to successfully conduct the Institution in the interests of reformation and economy.

THE FARM.

The crops have been exceptionally meagre and light. The spring was cold, wet and backward, rendering it impossible to plant the seed early or to properly cultivate it after it was planted. The growth of all kinds of vegetation was very much retarded by the continuance of the bad weather and by reason of the lack of necessary cultivation thereby prevented. From early in May until late in August the rain was almost continuous, checking the growth of some of the crops and entirely destroying others.

The value of the Institution property destroyed by the floods which visited this section of the country last summer, can not fully be estimated or approximated. The greatest inconvenience we were subject to was caused by the total destruction of the bridges on the creek, compelling us in all our trips to town to ford, which we are still compelled to do for the want of sufficient funds to replace the structure.

The crops on the uplands did not suffer so much, proportionally, as they did on the bottoms, although there was a portion of the uplands we were prevented from cultivating. By renting grounds adjacent to the Institution we have compensated largely, however, for the loss of crops on our own farm.

LIVE STOCK.

The number of head of horses remain about the same as at last report, though they are of a better class. Several head of old and nearly unserviceable horses have been disposed of for a fewer number of younger and better ones, a plan which will be followed until all the aged and nearly worthless animals are disposed of and the Institution is fully supplied with better. At present the number of horses is sufficient for all demands. The most of the horses have been affected by the prevailing epizootic from the effects of which some are still suffering, but no serious results are apprehended. With a few exceptions the horses are all in good working condition. We now have three fine yokes of oxen, two of which have been purchased since last reports. All are "well broke," handy and useful.

The number of milk cows is nearly the same, all of which are in fair condition and produce milk sufficient for all demands of the Institution in cooking and leaving a surplus for the boys' tables.

FRUITS.

The fruit crop has been an entire failure in every department except with some of the smaller fruits which yielded meagerly. The general orchard of apples, pears and cherries, than which there is none larger or finer in this part of the State, is thrifty and vigorous and promises well in a good fruit season. The entire fruit department has been well cultivated and pruned, and is in excellent condition for a beautiful yield should we have a good fruit season the coming year.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The financial exhibit shows the expenditures of $6,725.27 for buildings and improvements. No new buildings have been erected in this year, except a hen house which is not yet finished and which can not be till next spring. The new family house which was reported in an unfinished condition in last report is now completed and ready for occupancy as soon as it can be furnished. A considerable proportion of the amount is the necessary expenses of keeping up the needed repairs of the Institution, for which there is but little to show. A new board fence has been constructed along the southeast boundary of the farm, giving us nearly a continuous board fence along the line of the road around the entire farm.

The green house and propagating department, which was at last report in process of construction, has been completed and well finished.

This proved to be an expensive structure, being composed mostly of glass and requiring shelving, cisterns, hot air flues and furnaces, but it is a source of ornamentation and usefulness, being well filled with choice varieties of beautiful and rare plants which we transplant in summer into our grounds and lawns adjacent to the building, thus adding to the health, beauty and cheerfulness of the establishment. This department furnishes employment for several boys the entire year and contributes much that tends to refine and elevate their characters and cultivate their finer tastes.

FINANCES.

The present system of finances is what the organic law gives us, but is not the best that can be devised. The law provides that the Institution shall be supported by appropriations made by the Legislature and by charges against the counties having representatives in the Institution, which amount shall not exceed one-half of the estimated actual cost of keeping and caring for infants in said Institution. The excess in attendance, over and above what the Legislature provided for, has, on the estimated actual cost of supporting them, increased the expenditures $8,000.00.

The necessary expenditure of $6,725.27 for buildings, repairs and improvements has made a further reduction of the appropriation, which has been unavoidable.

The appropriation has been still further reduced by the almost total failure of the crops, garden products and fruits, and also by our utter inability to realize the usual receipts from the mechanical industries. I estimate the loss sustained in the crops alone at $6,000, and upon the average amount received from each boys' labor in the chair shop, last year, I estimate the falling off of receipts in this department, this year, $4,000. These various amounts aggregate in round numbers $24,725.

The requisition upon the last Legislature was for $40,000 for the current expenses for the year 1875, based upon an average attendance of two hundred and fifty and three hundred boys, respectively, for the first and last half of the year and a like amount for the year 1876, based upon an average attendance of three hundred and twenty-five and four hundred boys, respectively, for the first and last half of the year. This requisition was cut down in the Legislature, giving us an appropriation of $5,000 less than we asked for on the above estimated attendance.

This reduced appropriation was made on a basis of an average attendance of forty boys less than the average number who have actually been in attendance during the entire year, and in addition to this the appropriation has been further reduced by the necessity for expending $6,725.27 in repairs and improvements.

Owing to this unexpected demand upon the funds of the Institution the Legislative appropriation was exhausted in October, leaving us without funds until in December, when we began to realize, in a small way, from accounts against the counties.

During nearly the entire year the receipts from the treasury have been less than our expenditures, causing us to carry a debt amounting to from two to four thousand dollars. There are now a large number of small bills unpaid which can not be fully discharged until the full amount of our claims against the counties has been realized.

Col. Shaw, State Treasurer, has evinced unusual kindness in aiding us by advances from time to time to meet pressing demands.

There is no remedy for this system until it can be changed by legislation, where it would be wise to provide funds for the proper conduct of the Institution without embarrassment or discredit.

EDUCATION.

The schools have been well maintained and for the most part the grades have been well instructed. There has been several changes in the corps of teachers and we trust the efficiency of the schools may be successfully maintained in the future.

RESUME.

An examination of the statistical tables discloses the fact that one hundred and fifty three boys were admitted into the Institution during the year, the largest number ever received into any open reformatory within the same length of time. These boys are the representatives of the various types and grades of society, and in their personal habits and individual developements illustrate the associations and peculiar influences surrounding their earlier lives.

If the home influences form the child's character, then it is painfully patent that the genius of the law has been misdirected in some instances in sending us the children instead of the parents.

A number of boys have been committed to our guardian care whose propensities to evil were advanced so far beyond their years, as to be a living rebuke to the moral indifference of those whose greatest concern should be the proper training of their own children. Many of these children come to us, not vicious or criminal, but with a predisposed tendency toward vice and crime, only needing association and incentives to either develop or repress their evil tendencies.

The Institution has imparted benefit to seven hundred and thirty-three boys since its organization, seven years ago, and four hundred and forty have enjoyed its hospitality and influence during the past year. It has been my province to preside over the Institution since its organization, and my pleasure to see it develope from the diminutive obscurity of one boy to the proud position of the second largest open reformatory in the world. Its success as a reformatory, has never been questioned, and scores of young men and boys are daily attesting its character and efficiency, by the regularity of their habits, and the integrity of their characters.

Next to the reformatory success of the Institution, we have aimed to conduct it in the financial interests of the State. In this, we have not been aided by legislative appropriation as much as we have desired. The appropriations have always been meagre and scant for current expenses, and no money has ever been appropriated for the introduction of suitable mechanical appliances, or for the purchase of lands since the original purchase. While I have no desire to unfavorably criticise the action of the last Legislature in its appropriation, yet I hope to be indulged in expressing the opinion that if the appropriation for the current expenses for 1876 had been made for the purchase of additional lands and for the introduction of mechanical appurtenances, no appropriations from the Legislature would have been needed in the future for current expenses.

The expenses of the Institution can not be very materially reduced until there are capital and industries sufficient to properly employ the labor of all our boys.

With the introduction of these aids, our Institution can attain even greater success, both in the points of reformation and economy.

Trusting the future course of the Institution may be as successful and creditable as its past history,

I am, very respectfully,

FRANK B. AINSWORTH, A. M.,

Superintendent.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Superintendent:

SIR:—In accordance with the general custom, I herewith present to you my report as Assistant Superintendent of the Indiana House of Refuge, from the first of October, at which time I had the pleasure of becoming connected with the Institution.

Another year has gone and we have to lay it in the grave of time as another flake covering the past with its mantle of forgetfulness. It has gone with all its sorrows and pleasures, but as we take a retrospect of it we find that as a whole we have many things for which to be thankful.

EDUCATION.

Realizing the fact that a cultivated mind is one of the greatest safeguards against crime, I am pleased to note that the educational advantages of the Institution are such that the State at large may justly be proud of them.

The school is divided into nine grades, each of which is placed in charge of a competent teacher and the boys are required to attend one session of school every day.

That a teacher should be a model person in every way, has double force in such an Institution as ours. He should be not only a vindicator of justice and a defender of truth and virtue, when trampled upon by the offender, but he should perform his labor prospectively. He should labor to establish in the character principles that are antagonistic to vice and crime, and to mature in the heart sentiments and feelings which will direct in the paths of rectitude and honor. His office is to smooth and polish the gem whose ragged corners would otherwise tear and lacerate whatever it chanced to come in contact with. He should subdue the spirit of contention and inculcate the universal brotherhood of man, as well as lift his pupils up above the petty spirit of jealousy and revenge which leads to those endless and harrassing difficulties that generally occupy the time of the lawyer. The dignity of these duties is apparent and, as has been truly said, "whenever the mission of the school master shall be entirely successful then the occupation of the lawyer will end."

The teachers find considerable difficulty in getting the boys interested in their studies. Many of them have been brought up on the streets of our cities, and as a matter of course they have formed habits of mental indolence and become dissatisfied with the restraint of the school room. This dislike to the school is so deeply rooted that I find many of the boys prefer to perform manual labor under a taskmaster to attending school. In such cases the mind is not easily brought under control; it has a disposition to wander, and until strict habits of study are formed, the pupil finds a feeling of mental indolence preying upon all his plans for improvement.

I also present a report of the studies and text books of the pupils hoping that you will bear in mind that our grades are not advanced because many of the boys, from twelve to fifteen years of age, come to us with no mental training or education whatever.

STANDING OF GRADES.

In Reading:

First Reader, 20; Second Reader, 15; Third Reader, 103; Fourth Reader, 45; Reading in History and Gow's Morals and Manners, 83.

In Arithmetic:

Primary, 85; Intellectual, 65; Written, 115;

The pupils are thoroughly drilled in Writing, Spelling, Geography, Grammar, etc.

We have at present three female and two male teachers. My best judgment is, that all of our teachers should be ladies. Woman has a refining influence in society superior to that of man, and an earnest, faithful lady teacher can mould the finer feelings of the boys much better than a gentleman teacher.

The farm, garden, orchard and vineyard, are all properly attended to. The stock is well cared for, and the supply of feed is ample for the entire winter. The garden has not been as productive as we would wish, but no blame attaches to any one, as the Almighty Ruler of the universe saw fit to send the floods upon us, and the garden was completely submerged. I am thankful to state, however, that we have a good supply of vegetables for winter use.

It has been a pleasure to me to have charge of Family Eight during the past three months. The family is composed of fifty boys from twelve to twenty years of age, the greater part of whom, are considered worthy and have places of responsibility and trust assigned to them. This gives them an opportunity to test their power to resist temptation, and I am happy to say that in a majority of cases, they prove worthy of the confidence reposed in them, although there are some circumstances in which their moral courage fails, and consequently, they lose their positions. The boys work on the farm, in the kitchen, dining-rooms, tailor shop, etc. In fact, Family Eight has to do the greater part of the odd job-work of the Institution.

I have found my connection with the family to be very pleasant. The boys are polite, orderly and obedient. I am much pleased with the system of reporting, and the plan of marking them. Each boy is required to give a daily report of his conduct, which is kept until the end of the month, to be placed on the general report book. By this method, every boy knows how his report stands, and at the same time realizes that he is the architect of his own record, be it good or bad, and that a certain degree of perfection must be reached before he will be considered worthy of a ticket-of-leave or discharge.

They are thus caused to be guarded in their conduct and to measure each action by the rule of right.

I endeavor to impress upon their minds on all suitable occasions, the necessity of virtuous principles in the conduct of affairs, and strive to implant in their youthful minds a love for honesty and truth as well as integrity of purpose, that may serve as a guide in transacting all the duties incident to citizenship.

Trusting that God will bless your efforts for the reformation of the erring youth,

I am, respectfully,

JAMES O'BRIEN,

Assistant Superintendent.

FLORIST AND GARDENER'S REPORT.

PLAINFIELD, December 31, 1875.

F. B. Ainsworth, Superintendent :

SIR:—My report as Florist and Gardener for the year just closing must, of necessity, be incomplete, owing to the fact that I have had charge of the garden and green house for only a portion of the time. The garden came under my direction on the 9th day of July last, at a time when the floods threatened to entirely destroy the crops already in, but we not only succeeded in saving them but produced remarkably fine ones. The vegetables were all of a superior quality, and the quantity sufficient to answer the needs of the Institution. Of the standard varieties I have stored away securely enough to last the winter through. During the summer over sixty stumps were removed from the garden, giving a full acre of ground that was heretofore utterly unavailable. There was no expense attaching to the work, save for half a dozen pounds of powder. The garden is now in fine order and will next year, with no extraordinary calamity, return better and larger crops than ever before.

Since taking possession of the green house, less than three months ago, I have been devoting my time mostly to putting it in order and preparing the plants for next season. In this I have succeeded beyond my expectations. Never before, I may venture to say, was the green house in such good condition as at present. The stock has never before been equalled in quality and the next year promises to be a remunerative one in a pecuniary point of view. The season has opened out for us remarkably early, and already orders for plants are coming in. They are well forward and can be sent out to supply the demand. There are about five thousand plants in the green house and there will be that number to dispose of during the ensuing season. No special effort will be made to force the plants to flower, but they will be kept in such condition as to be a means of sustaining the cost of the green house, as well as of beautifying and adorning it; they will be utilized in a practical as well as sentimental manner. Two or three weeks ago the flues in one of the rooms were forced open, causing the destruction of a large number of plants and injury to many more. With this exception there has nothing of unusual import or interest transpired since I took charge of the building.

Respectfully,

S. S. KELVINGTON,

Florist and Gardener.

REPORT OF CHAIR SHOP.

To the Superintendent:

I herewith present you with a report of the workings of the Chair Shop for the year ending December 31, 1875.

For the first eight months of the year our work was unremunerative and did not pay expenses, but had the prices been as formerly, a good year's business would have resulted. We have employed the past year, on an average, one hundred and thirty boys caning seats and backs.

All of the tools belonging to this department have been used and kept with care. The system of marking each boys' tools with the number of his form or bench, when he works, holding him accountable for their careful use and safety, has been of much benefit to the boys and a saving to the shop.

We have on hand a good stock of cane and seats to commence the work of another year, and we hope to be more successful, pecuniarily, than heretofore.

Respectfully submitted,

E. H. SHUMWAY,

Foreman of Caning Department.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

TO F. B. AINSWORTH,

Superintendent of Indiana House of Refuge:

SIR:—I have the honor to submit to you my annual report of the Medical Department of this Institution, for the year ending December 31, 1875.

In the early part of the year, there was one case of acute inflammatory rheumatism, about twenty of pneumonia and several of bronchitis, all of which made a good recovery except one.

These cases were followed in May and June with measles, which were introduced by accident, by outside parties. The disease pervaded every family in the Institution, producing in all about seventy cases. A few cases were complicated with pneumonia or bronchitis.

During the remainder of the year, little severe sickness has prevailed. There has been quite a number of cases of intermittent and remittent fever, with a few cases of typho-malaria, and one of typhoid.

There has been quite a number of cases of minor importance, among which were sprains, hurts, sores, etc., which were cared for by the Matron or her assistant, which very much lightened my duties. There were three deaths in the first part of the year.

The first death, in the person of Patsey Daily, occurred April 4, caused by inflammation of the brain, the result of a kick by a horse on the skull, which probably produced a fracture of the part.

The second death occurred May 23, Charles Hays, a small colored boy. The cause of his death was most likely congestion, though not certainly known, since he was up the previous day, ate his meals, etc., and was found dead in bed in the morning.

Joseph Cisna, a former inmate but at this time a cadet, deceased

June 8. He suffered for about two months with inflammatory rheumatism, recovered from that, made a visit home, contracted cold, resulting in pneumonia from which he died. "Joe" was a young man respected and loved by all, and was earning a portion of his widowed mother's living, who very much mourns his loss.

I have visited the Institution every day this year and made a second visit when the severity of cases demanded. My efforts have been rendered more successful by the efficient co-operation of Matron and other officers, to whom I tender my thanks.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. T. STRONG, M. D.

REPORT OF BAND.

To the Superintendent:

At your request, I herewith present a report of the "House of Refuge Silver Cornet Band," for the year ending December 31, 1875. The organization is composed of fifteen members; their names and instruments are as follows:

Edgar Sortwell, 1st E \flat cornet.

William Shaw, 2d E \flat cornet.

William Resbiter, 3d E \flat cornet.

Samuel Shumate, 1st B \flat cornet.

Edward Murphy, 2d B \flat cornet.

James Dowell, 1st E \flat alto.

Charles Morrison, 2d E \flat alto.

Horner Patterson, 1st B \flat tenor.

William Havens, 2d B \flat tenor.

William Heath, baritone solo.

Seward Knowles, 1st E \flat tuba.

Charles Morgan, 2d E \flat tuba.

James Cordrey, snare drum.

Louis Saures, base drum.

Presley Rankin, cymbals.

The boys are a smaller class than the "old band." They commenced practice about the 15th of June last, and have made very rapid progress.

The instruments are in good order, and the band in every particular is flourishing.

Thanking you for the interest you have ever taken in this department, and relying on your assistance in the future,

I am, very respectfully,

THOS. P. WESTENDORF, B. M.

BOYS' LETTERS.

INDIANA REFORM SCHOOL,
PLAINFIELD, JANUARY 31, 1875.

My Dear Sister:

You can not imagine how happy it made me to receive your good letter a few days ago. I have been feeling better ever since, and have taken lots of encouragement from the kind messages contained in your loving favor, and I sincerely hope that you will continue to write often. Let me ask you to write to our dear mother for me, telling her that I am in good health and getting along first rate. Tell her, too, that I am going to make a man out of the once bad boy. Bad as I have been, I can and will, by the help of God, make an honest man, which we are told is the noblest work of the Creator of all things. I am anxious to show those that took so much pains to despise me when in trouble, that there can something good come out of him they used to consider so hard and sinful.

I was pained intensely to receive a message from uncle P. forbidding me writing any more letters to him or you. I can not but think that uncle is in error as to this Institution. It is not a house of refuge, but a reform school. There are no high walls, bars, dungeons and grates to cause us to think of prison life, but more like an institution of learning. In fact, it is a school where boys that have gone astray can be sent to reform and gain a common school education. Boys are not committed to the Reform School for punishment as people generally regard punishment: of course correction is one of the prime object of reformatory institutions.

I have been here about twelve months, and have succeeded nicely in my efforts to get along well and easily. Our officers are kind to us and take a lively interest in all that pertains to our good and welfare. Since coming here, I have been "night watch" for seven months, and am now at work in the office, carrying the mail to the village and back, writing and running errands. I am in the advanced grade of school and am making perceptible progress in my studies. We attend school every day. We have an interesting sunday school, preaching and lectures. There is here, a nice band composed of boys. They have silver horns and make excellent music.

Now, my dear sister, I have written quite a long letter, and lest I weary you I will close, but not without sending much love to all and again asking you to write soon and often.

Your affectionate brother,

PAUL T——.

To his sister, Mary T——, Chicago, Illinois.

AUBURN, IND.

Dear Sir :

I am well, and hope when this reaches you it will find the same. I received your letter, and was very glad to hear from your. I have been away, or I would have written to you sooner. I received your ticket-of-leave, and was very thankful for it. I still work at the stave factory. My mother is well and father is able to be about. I would like to know how you are getting along, and if you are well. I will try to do as well as I can. I would like to hear from some of the boys very well. I enclose my ticket-of-leave, hoping to get another when you write to me. I have not much to say, so good bye for this time.

Yours truly,

JOHN M. GOSSAGE.

BUTLERVILLE, January 21, 1875.

Dear Brother Ainsworth :

If I am not mistaken, it has been almost two years since I left your Institution, and I have always felt a longing desire to visit the place where I have spent so many days of happiness with the boys of the school. I am going to the Quaker school at Butlerville, and have been attending there for some time. I would like to pay you a short visit this spring, but I don't know how about it yet. * * I try to make enough during the summer to pay my way at school through the winter. What has become of Brother Nicols? If he is still with you, tell him I would give a treat to see him. No more this time. I remain yours most truly,

EDWARD SNETCHER.

CHICAGO, ILL., January 26, 1876.

My Dear Friend:

I have for a long time been wanting to write to you, and could never get courage enough until now. This evening I saw Brother Carpenter, and told him I was intending to write to you this evening. I am trying to be a good boy and do what is right. I am very sorry I left the school in the way I did, and I hope you will forgive me. I think I shall come back and get my discharge honorable, and if you say so I will. I am doing quite well for the winter. I am now night clerk of the ——— House of this city, and getting seven dollars per week and board for my services. I would like very much to come back in the spring, Brother A., and if you say I can I will do so. I hope you will let me stay where I am until spring, as I would not like to come back looking as if I had not been doing anything. I am getting a suit of clothes made now that will cost me $37, and will have them on me the 31st of this month. When I get them I intend to come back, and hope you will have something for me to do.

I hope, Brother Ainsworth, you will not think hard of me for asking you to let me return, but the school is the only home I ever had, and if you could know how sorry I am to think I left it so foolishly, you would pity me. I was doing well, and should not have left, I know, but I now see my folly. There is something, I can't tell what, tells me to stay with you, Brother A., and I hope you will give me one more chance to reform myself.

I do not like Chicago as I thought I would. But how can a boy enjoy himself when he has left so kind a friend as you have been to me, and leaving you in the way I did? O, Brother A., I hope you will forget and forgive. It is true, you may say: "If Fred. is getting along so well why does he want to come back again?" I will tell you; as the old saying is, "there is no place like home," and to the school I owe my home, and find the old adage a true one. I send Mrs. A. my kind regards, and do not forget her kindness, and never shall. I am your boy.

FRED. FAIRBAIRN.

CHICAGO, ILL., December 18, 1874.

Dear Brother Ainsworth:

Your kind letter I received some time ago, and was happy to hear from you, and to hear of the prosperity of the School. I hope you may ever be successful with it, and remain in charge for the balance of your life, for I believe you are "the right man in the right place." This leaves me in poor health; I have been sick for two weeks with something like that what I had at the School the first winter I was there, lung fever. But I have been on my feet all the time, except two days, when I had to go to bed, but I am improving now.

The weather is very changeable here; to-day it is warm, and to-morrow cold. We have had no snow to amount to anything this season. Everything here seems to be on the move, but still everyone is complaining about hard times. Well, I think they have a right to for there are families in this city who have no money to buy a piece of bread or a lump of coal. I know that, for I have been in every hole in the city, bad and good, just to see for myself how much misery there is, and Brother A., it almost makes my heart bleed to see how the poor suffer for want of food and clothing. The city is doing all she can for the relief of the poor, but there are more than can be cared for, and I think it will be hard before the winter is over, unless the city can provide work for the thousands who are out of employment.

I saw Edward Fairburn yesterday. He is living at Desplaines, Illinois. He was looking well, and from all appearances he is doing well. I also saw Ed Moss. He told me he had had nothing to eat for two days. I gave him some money, and told him he had better go back to you or to Indianapolis. He has left the city, for I have not seen him since. He was looking hard.

Well, Brother A., I will bring my letter to a close by sending my regards to Mrs. Ainsworth, first and second, to Brother A., second, and all my friends. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Your boy,

DAVID T. FARLEY,

P. S. Enclosed, you will find my picture.

DAVID.

FRANKLIN, FEBRUARY 15, 1875.

Brother Ainsworth:

I to-day, take the pleasure of writing you a few lines to let you know that I am well and enjoying good health. My folks are all well, excepting my mother, her health is very poor. I arrived home on Monday night after leaving the Institution. They were all glad to see me back again. I have been in the country most of the time since I came back. I am going to work the first day of March in the country for the season, at eighteen dollars a month, and harvest wages for eight months.

I hope these few lines will find you all well. Give my respects to all the boys in the Institution. Enclosed you will find my ticket, for which you will please send me another. Please write soon.

Yours truly,

LESLIE FREEMAN.

RICHMOND, FEBRUARY 16, 1875.

Mr. Ainsworth:

KIND FRIEND:—Yours of the 16th of January came to hand, and I was glad to hear you were all well at the School, but sorry to hear that Mrs. Ainsworth was sick. I hope she is well now. I am well and doing well. I got a steady job in the Malleable Iron Works about three weeks ago; I like my place very well. I am doing my best to do what is right and honest. I forgot to enclose my ticket in the last letter. I shall not forget it now, and if you will please renew it I shall be ever so thankful. I have not seen Abraham Sayman since last Christmas. Remember me kindly to all at the School, and please write me soon. Good bye.

Most respectfully, your boy,

PHILIP RIELLY

SPENCER, OWEN COUNTY, IND., February 7, 1875.

Dear Brother Ainsworth:

I take my seat to drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and doing well, and I hope these few lines will find you and all the boys well. Please excuse me for not writing sooner for I have been very busy at work. I have been trying to behave myself since I came home, and trying to make a man of myself. I have been going to church at night. I wish to renew my ticket again, if you please. Give my best respects to all the boys, especially to the boys in Family 4. I must close my letter.

CHARLES RIDNOUR.

FORT WALLA WALLA, W. T., February 10, 1875.

Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth :

DEAR SIR:—Your communication of January 11th was received on the 28th, and as usual was very glad to hear from you. Very sorry indeed that Mrs. A. is ill, and I hope that ere you receive this letter she may have recovered. Sickness has prevailed to an alarming extent in this part of the globe, five enlisted men and a commissioned officer having died the past three weeks. I have had pretty good health so far, and I hope that I may never be taken sick at this Post, for it is a candid fact that whoever goes in the Post hospital here always comes out feet first. I am getting tired waiting for the Record. The copy of the Record you sent me last October has been read so often that it is all worn out.

Christmas passed around very quietly with me. I did not as much as see a photograph of a turkey, but you know as well as I do that Uncle Sam does not issue turkeys, so I had to do without. But I can assure you that the next time I hire myself to a man that it will be to some one who gives something beside bread and coffee for supper. I have a year and ten months to serve yet, and when that time expires, I will seek out and follow some other mode of gaining a sustenance. This has been a severe and lasting experience to me, one that will last me a life time. The longer I stop in the army, the more thoroughly am I convinced that the army is no place for a young man who has the slightest sprinkling of self-respect about him. Here I am associating, day after day, with men that would, and do, sell the very shirt on their back in order to get a drink of tarantula juice, men who go to the village, (one mile distant,) on Sunday to church, and come back to the Post and make fun of, and in some instances, curse the man they heard expound the word of God. Here is congregated the very scum of society, and the graduates of state prisons; men that care no more for the author of their being than I do for a cancelled post stamp. But once I get my contract annulled with Uncle Sam, that will be an end, I hope, of my association with such a class of men as constitute the rank of the United States Regular Army.

If you know where James is, please let me know. Do not forget the Record. My best wishes for you, your family and Institution.

I am, respectfully,

YOUR BOY.

BLAKESBURG, IOWA, FEBRUARY 7, 1875.

Mr. F. B. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR:—We thought we would write to you and inform you of our safe arrival home. We found after we left Indianapolis, that we had to change cars three times. We arrived in Ottumwa and found our brother waiting for us. We arrived home on the evening of Tuesday, about half past eight. To-day we went hunting without much success, and attended meeting in the evening. Willie expects to start to school next week, and is going to try to get to teach the summer school. Please tell brother Ainsworth second, to direct the Record to Wm McDonald, Blakesburg, Iowa. We send our best respects to all at the School. We would like to have Mrs. Ainsworth write to us. We would like to hear all about the boys at the school. We send our best regards to all.

From your affectionate boys,

WM. and CHAS. McDONALD.

HARRODSBURG, IND., February 9, 1875.

F. B. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed find John D. Rogers' ticket of leave. John is conducting himself first rate, and I would suggest that you send him a ticket for ninety days; the old one would have been returned in due time, but John is living four miles in the country, and it was not convenient for him to come to town sooner. He is working for a good, steady farmer, and I am well pleased with him.

Yours truly,

J. D. URMEY.

TERRE HAUTE, February 9, 1875.

Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR:—Since our last report we are staying at the same place yet. Philip is working for Mr. Hacklor, the plumber, and is doing very well; Michael is working for butcher Cook, and is getting along first rate, too. We are well, and hope you are all the same. Philip is attending the night school; Michael would like to go, but can not spare the time. We don't know any thing else to write to you.

PHILIP and MICHAEL JACOBS.

MOUNDSVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA, December 1, 1874.

Most Kind Friend:

It is with much pleasure that I seat myself to drop these few lines to inform you how I am getting along, and how I prosper. I am well at this present time, and I am trying to be a good boy, but I fail sometimes, and then try to do better than what I have done in the past. But you know how it is with me yourself about my faults and conduct.

Well, Bro. A., I haven't heard from you for some time, and I should be very glad to receive a letter from you and hear about the School. I often think of you, and the kind advice you gave me when an inmate of the Reform School. But too late now, I know it is all gone; I heeded not your advice, and I often think how blind I was.

I study a great deal of my time, and after all I am treated very kindly. The officers are all very kind to me when I behave myself. We keep the holidays the same as in the Reform School; on Thanksgiving day we had a good rest. Our food is very good, the best I ever saw in any prison, and we are furnished with tobacco. Johnny and I can converse with each other, and he says he would like to hear from you. We both want to hear from you as soon as we can. Please give us the news of the School, whether Bro. Kilvington is teaching yet or not; if Mr. Mack Cramer is teaching on the farm; if Denny Manning is with you yet; and whether Fitzpatrick is there or not. I want to hear how little Charley is prospering, and Mrs. Ainsworth too. We write once a month here, the same as in your school. I would like to hear how your boys passed Thanksgiving Day, I almost dreamed I was with them. I remain,

Your well wisher,

THOMAS BEARDSLEY.

LAPORTE, IND., December 31, 1875.

Mr. F. B. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 18th of December, was received in due time, and I was glad to hear from the School. This leaves me well and enjoying good health; hope it will find you all the same. Next week, I think I will go down to Burrough's Station to work in a warehouse for Mr. L. E. Rogers, the man I worked for last summer. I will write to you as soon as I get there. He offers me the chance to stay with him this winter and work on the farm in the spring, and I think that is the best I can do. I will write to him to-day and see what he says. As my ticket is out I enclose it for a new one. This is all at present. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Your boy,

T. J. KRIDER.

ANTIOCH, IND., DEC. 30, 1874.

Mr. Ainsworth :

DEAR SIR—As Fremont is afflicted with sore eyes he wishes me to write to you, as it is time for him to report. He sends his ticket, for which, I trust you will have the goodness to send him another. He sends his best respects to you and everybody at the farm. He wishes you to write to him soon and give him all the news about his old home and friends. The RECORD was early recieved. Fremont says it is nearly as good as a talk with the people at the school and he takes great pleasure in reading it. Fremont's deportment has been unexceptionably good up to this date. I hope it will continue to be so; if it were not for this hope the heart would break.

Fremont says he is going to make a good and useful man of himself, that the good instructions and counsels he has received at the Reform School shall not be lost. I will try, as a mother, to second all of his endeavors to do right. His father thinks he is thoroughly reformed and that we will have no more trouble with him, for which we cannot find language to express our thankfulness to the Superintendent and other officers connected with the school. May success ever crown your noble efforts. Fremont will write as soon as his eyes will admit of it.

Yours truly,

C. B. HOGER.

MICHIGAN CITY, IND., December 27, 1874.

Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth :

DEAR SIR :—In compliance with your request, I write you a few lines this morning to inform you of my good health, prospects, etc. My heretofore silence has arisen from the fact that I have written you many letters wherein I made promises which I have not redeemed. Although I have failed to keep the many good resolutions which I have made, yet I thank my conscience that I made them. I do hope yet to be somebody; I utterly abhor myself and the slums who forced me to abhor the ideas which have brought me to what I am. It is an influence that will cost a hard and severe struggle to shake off—an influence that will cause me to spend two-thirds of my life in the penitentiary unless mastered at once. And be assured, Bro. Ainsworth, I am making every effort that can possibly be made to get my head above the meshes of swinish corruption, in which I have been floundering for nine years.

I failed to get the significance of the words of warning and counsel given me while at the Reform School, in fact, I don't remember of ever making an honest effort to become better while there. But I remember well the kindly advice and precepts given me to follow, and although late in the day, I intend to profit by them. My best regards to all connected with the School and my love to Lowry, I remain, with high consideration,

Your humble servant,

J. W. WILSON.

RICHMOND, IND., December, 7, 1874.

Dear Brother Ainsworth:

I take the pleasure of writing a few lines to inform you that I am well. I have been working every day since I came home, helping my father. I received your letter and return you thanks for your kind advice. I am trying to be a good boy and do all I can to assist my parents. Mr. Baxter has promised to give me employment in the spring. I send kind regards to all at the State Farm. I enclose my expired ticket in this letter, hoping to have it renewed. Please write to me soon and confer a favor on

Your boy,

PHILIP RILEY.

EVANSVILLE, IND., December 2, 1874.

Dear Brother Ainsworth.

I take this pleasant opportunity of letting you know how I am getting along. I am well and hope you are the same. I am trying to be a good boy. I am at work in the cotton mill, and I am doing first rate. I got home safe; my mother was at the depot to meet me, with some of my friends, and I was glad to get home. I wish you would send me one of those Records for fifty cents a year; I will pay for it every year. I send you my ticket in this letter; please send me another one. I have nothing more to say at present.

From your boy,

WILLIAM FOSTER.

HARRODSBURG, IND., December 28, 1874.

F. B. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR:—I was glad to receive your letter and to learn that you were all well had a nice time on Christmas evening, and on Christmas night went to a big supper and Christmas tree. Work is hard to get for the farmers have got all their work done. I work first one place, then another, and I am trying to live a good and honest life. Mr. Urmley is very well pleased with my behavior. He has been so busy putting away pork, that it has been impossible for him to write.

From your friend,

JOHN O. ROGERS.

SHELBYVILLE, IND., December 10, 1874.

Mr. Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR— I take the pleasure of writing you a few lines to tell you that I recieved your kind letter and was very glad to see it. I am very well and hope you will be the same when this comes to hand. Bro. Ainsworth you are not good, you are not going to send me no more tickets, are you? I havn't received one for some time. I send my best respects to Mrs. Ainsworth, first and seconds, and my love to all the boys.

W. W. WOOD.

ELIZABETH, HAMILTON Co., O.,
December 28, 1874.

Brother Ainsworth:

DEAR SIR—The month and year are rapidly drawing to an end; also, my monthly ticket. I thank you for so promptly sending my last one, and hope you will send me another one for January upon receipt of this. I am quite well and have enjoyed the Holidays.

I wish your family and all the boys a very Happy New Year. We are going to have a very pleasant time at the Methodist Church New Years eve, tree full of presents, addresses to the children, etc.

Affectionately your boy,

LOUIS A. BONHAM.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., January 2, 1875.

Mr. Frank B. Ainsworth :

I enclose herewith, Edward Baugh's ticket of leave for renewal. Edward is doing very well, and I think continues to improve. I hope before long to give proof of his improvement by the work that he will do. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am yours, very respectfully,

LEO. D. SIRONIA.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

OF THE

NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 15, 1875.

TO THE GOVERNOR.

INDIANAPOLIS:
SENTINEL COMPANY, PRINTERS.
1875.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

DIRECTORS' OFFICE, NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,
MICHIGAN CITY, December 15, 1875.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—In pursuance of law, the Directors of the Northern Indiana Prison have the honor of submitting to your Excellency this their first annual report ending December 15, 1875.

The Warden's time having expired, one of our first duties was to fill that office, which we did by re-electing Charles Mayne, of Huntington county, for a term of four years. At this meeting we also elected Rev. M. S. Ragsdale, of Hancock county, Moral Instructor. The remainder of the officers were continued in office.

We found the prison to contain 467 convicts, which has gradually increased until now there are 511. Three hundred and fifty of these men have been on contract, leaving a monthly average of about eighty or ninety men for whom we had no employment, although we have kept a standing advertisement for contractors. Up to this time we have been unable to let any more men or use them except temporarily while making permanent improvements, to be hereafter noted. If these men could have been employed, even at small wages, it would have materially increased our resources, instead of depleting them, by having to clothe and feed them without receiving any remuneration therefor. Notwithstanding this loss of revenue, we think we have good reasons to congratulate you, and the State, on the present financial condition of the prison.

Our revenue, from all sources, has been $70,666.66, including $351.00 for convict labor on new work shop, and $411.90 for convict labor on foundation of new cell house.

Our current and ordinary expenses have been $63,869.02, leaving a balance of $6,797.64, out of which we have expended for water works, repairing Warden's house, laying a new floor in one of the work shops and other permanent improvements, $1,637.94, leaving a net balance over all expenditures of $5,159.70.

When we took possession of the office we found the balance had been reduced from $5,773.87, the amount reported December 15, 1874, to $4,324.28. We also found an indebtedness of $2,224.58, which we have since paid. This shows an amount of $3,674.24, which added to our net balance of $5,159.70, makes the net earnings of the prison for the nine months of our administration, $8,833.94.

On the 8th day of April Mr. Charles A. Manning, Deputy Warden, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. The Warden nominated Robert Sutton, one of the oldest guards in the prison, as his successor. The nomination was confirmed. Mr. Sutton entered upon his duties, but after a few days concluded that its responsibilities were too great, and he resigned. The Warden filled the place temporarily until the next meeting of the Board, when he nominated Amos C. Hall, of Cass county, to fill the vacancy. The nomination was confirmed, and Mr. Hall has since filled the place with credit to himself and honor to the State. At this meeting the Warden nominated George McDowell, of Wells county, Steward. The nomination was confirmed. On the 4th day of June Dr. H. A. Stonex, of Elkhart county, was appointed Physician to the prison.

The sanitary condition of the prison is excellent; only four men have died during the year—one by suicide; and at this time there are none sick with acute disease; there are five chronic cases unfit for manual labor. The healthy location of the prison, good water, appropriate clothing, and an abundance of healthy food, together with careful medical attention, are the chief causes of the general good health of the men.

The moral condition of the prisoners appears to be materially improved under the instructions of the Rev. M. S. Ragsdale, who seems to have the happy faculty of endearing himself to the officers as well as the men.

The special appropriation of five hundred dollars for an addition to the library was applied to that purpose on the 13th day of May. The books were badly needed, as the library was small and in a seriously damaged condition. The Chaplain assures us that the class of books selected is admirably suited to the wants and condition of the class of readers for whom they were selected. We also furnished a new book-case, the old one having been nearly destroyed by the recent fire in the cell house.

On the 8th day of April we advertised in the Indianapolis Sentinel, Fort Wayne Sentinel and Michigan City News, for sealed proposals for building work shop. Six bids were received. Some bid in gross, some in detail. Mr. Wm. H. Myers, of Allen county, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract. Mr. T. J. Tolan was appointed architect and superintendent. The building is brick, two stories in height, walls eighteen inches thick, with a hollow four inches, good stone foundation one hundred and thirty-two feet in length and forty feet in width, slate roof (self-supporting), with a projection of three feet over the walls, floors double, three inches in thickness. The interior is so arranged that heavy machinery can be easily adjusted. The building has water-closets and sewerage complete, which is an improvement not found in the other shops.

On the 12th day of July we settled for this shop at a total cost of $9,155.62, leaving a balance of $844.38 of the appropriation unexpended.

It was some time before the Board could determine their duty in relation to letting the work of the new cell house. The law in reference to the appropriation had not been published and we received no instructions until a late date. Parties whose advice we considered good recommended letting the work as a whole, but we concluded to let it in sections, this giving all builders a chance to compete for the work.

On September 10th we advertised in the Indianapolis Sentinel, Fort Wayne Sentinel, Lafayette Dispatch and Laporte Argus, for bids for the foundation. Ten bids were received. The work was awarded to W. H. Myers, of Allen county, he being the lowest bidder.

We observed the work closely during its progress and found it was being done in a good, workman-like manner. The final estimate was made on the first of December. The total cost of the foundation is $6,889.99. This sum includes $57.60 Superintendent's wages. This leaves in the hands of the State Treasurer an unexpended balance of the appropriation for 1875 of $13,110.01.

You will observe that we have not fully carried out the instructions of the Legislature in expending twenty thousand dollars this year. The reason is, it would not be advisable to erect a heavy superstructure without giving the foundation ample time to settle.

We expect, this winter, to advertise and let as much of the remaining work as the money appropriated will pay for.

We found the safety of the prison actually demanded a new iron gate at the north entrance. Also, it was necessary to put in a foot gate and crib at the east entrance. As we had no money that we had a right to use for permanent improvements, we consulted several of the State officers and determined to use a portion of the money saved from the work shop appropriation for this purpose. The work is not yet completed, hence we can not report the cost.

In this connection we take pleasure in expressing our obligations to Mr. Charles Mayne, Warden; Amos C. Hall, Deputy Warden; John H. Bowes, Esq., Clerk; George McDowell, Steward; and all other officers of the prison for their kindness and efficiency in discharging their various duties in maintaining order and discipline, without which no institution of the kind could exist. Also, in carefully looking after its finances, by which its machinery is kept in motion, enabling the citizens of Indiana to point with pride to an institution which is self-sustaining and an honor to the State.

Respectfully submitted,

T. DAVENPORT,

WM. T. PRATT,

H. E. WADSWORTH,

Directors.

For further information in regard to the financial and statistical operations of the prison, I would respectfully refer you to the report of the Clerk of the prison.

From the foregoing statement it will appear that the prison has not only sustained itself, but made a balance over current and ordinary expenses of $6,797.64, and over all expenditures including permanent improvements and repairs of prison and water works, the sum of $5,159.70. This showing, although satisfactory under the circumstances, yet had we been able to have contracted the surplus number of convicts that have been unemployed we would not only have been able to largely increase the earnings of the prison, but would have, by this means, greatly assisted the officers in maintaining the discipline of the Institution. The average number of convicts, for the past year, has been 483. The number under contract is 350. There has been employed, in the different departments of the prison, about 45 men. This has left over 80 unemployed convicts during the year with the exception of the time that the contractor built the new work shop and cell house foundation, who employed twenty-five men during the construction of the same.

It is a matter of great disappointment that after the completion of the new and commodious work shop no contract for the unemployed convicts could be effected, although you used your best endeavors by advertising, and other means, to accomplish that object. The accession of convicts under these circumstances is very embarrassing. It renders it more difficult to maintain the discipline of the prison, from being obliged to keep so large a number of unemployed men in the cell house during the day, requiring great watchfulness on the part of the officers to prevent it from becoming a source of serious trouble. The courts sentence the prisoners to hard labor, which is essential to good order and beneficial to the men. It is a subject of congratulation that I am able to report favorably in reference to the discipline of the prison. Although laboring under the disadvantages arising from unemployed convicts, the conduct of the prisoners has been comparatively good, and there has been but few cases of insubordination.

In accordance with your instructions I have obtained a new boiler of J. H. Bass, of Ft. Wayne, which will be in operation in a few days and will add greatly to the comfort, as well as being a matter of economy for the prison. I have also made a contract for an iron gate for the north entrance, which will be put up in a few days.

The sanitary condition of the prison for the past year, has been unusually good. There have been four deaths during that time, one of whom was John Brown, who committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell. For full particulars of this department I would respectfully refer you to the report of Dr. H. A. Stonex.

The religious and moral welfare of the prisoners has been well and faithfully attended to by the Rev. M. S. Ragsdale, to whose report I would respectfully refer.

To the officers of the Prison, Amos C. Hall, Deputy Warden; J. H. Bowes, Clerk; Dr. H. A. Stonex, Physician; Rev. M. S. Ragsdale, Moral Instructor; George McDowell, Steward; and to all the Guards I return my sincere thanks for the faithful manner they have performed the duties entrusted to them.

In concluding this report I wish to express to you, gentlemen of the Board of Directors, my thanks for the very cordial support you have rendered me in the discharge of my duties.

I remain your obedient servant,

CHARLES MAYNE,

Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
INDIANA STATE PRISON, NORTH,
MICHIGAN CITY, IND., December 15, 1875.

To the Honorable Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN :—In accordance with the usual custom of making an annual report to your Honorable Body of the condition of affairs in the department, over which I have the honor to be placed, I would state that everything is moving on in a very satisfactory manner so far as I am aware. Our sick list for the last two months has been small.

The greater part of the time lost by convicts from labor has been the result of accidents happening them from machinery and cutting instruments, such as are necessary to the carrying on the work of the various contractors.

Since my connection with the prison, (June 10, 1875,) there have been no deaths among the convicts, notwithstanding the fact that during the months of August and September, particularly, there was a good deal of sickness, and some few cases of a very serious character. Prior to that time there were four deaths during the year commencing with the 15th of December, 1874.

John Brown, aged 46, came to his death by his own hands by hanging, December 20, 1874.

As no record of these cases was kept, I give the former physician's statement.

William Wilson, aged 19, died May 2d, 1875, of pneumonia. Milton Buckley, aged 32, died suddenly; cause not known. No autopsy was held. He died May 9, 1875. T. Welsh, aged 36, died June 6, 1875, of tumular abscess.

In respect to the^s sanitary regulations of the prison they are about all that could be desired. The diet is good—in fact of a far better quality than I had expected to find in an institution of its character—fresh vegetables are provided in their season; good wholesome meat the year round, with Irish potatoes and wheat and corn bread as the staple diet. Potatoes are allowed at nearly every meal. Meat, wheat bread and coffee twice per day. On Thanksgiving day, Christmas and the Fourth of July, extra dinners are provided, such, in fact as befit the occasion.

I can not pass by this portion of my report without expressing my thanks to the steward, Mr. McDowell, and the baker, Mr. C. Long, for the efficient manner in which the food is served the men, being fully convinced that the health of the convicts is largely due to the proper preparation of the diet.

Cleanliness being necessary to the health of the prisoners, to it great attention is paid.

Mr. Lyon is entitled to great praise in the neat appearance and order maintained in the cell house. Mr. Hall, the Deputy Warden, is entitled to the same praise for the like virtue existing in the prison generally.

The prisoners bathe every week during warm, and twice per month during cold weather.

Since you have been informed each month as to matters pertaining to my department, I do not deem it necessary to enter more into detail at this time.

Wishing to seize this opportunity to express my thanks to the contractors and foremen for their uniform courtesy toward myself, and, at the same time, desiring to extend thanks to the officers and guards for the general good will they evince toward me and the interest they manifest in aiding me in the discharge of my duties, I have the honor to subscribe myself,

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

HENRY A. STONEX,

Prison Physician.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

MICHIGAN CITY, IND., December 15, 1875.

To the Honorable Board of Directors, of the State Prison, North:

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with legal requirements I submit the following for your consideration:

First, please allow me to remark that it is with a deep feeling of gratitude to Almighty God for his manifold goodness toward us in the past year that I now present this report; and if, through His blessings, I have been the humble instrument in His hand of reforming any of these men, to His name be all the honor and praise.

I entered upon my duties with many misgivings, knowing as I did the magnitude of the work and of the character of the men for whose good I was to labor. I feared that I was not equal to the task and that I would utterly fail to get their attention, but my trust was in Him who hath said, "I will never leave thee," and I entered earnestly into the work, and now at the close of the year I think I am not mistaken when I say that I believe much good has been accomplished, and that very few have been discharged from these gates within the past six months who have not left with the resolution to live honest and, many of them, Christian lives.

THE PRAYER MEETING,

Which was organized by the Chaplain preceding me, and which I found with a membership of about eighteen, has steadily grown in interest until now we have more than twice that number on our list and others asking every day for membership. We deem it advisable, however, to put them on their good conduct, and when a man, by his record, proves himself sincere in his endeavors to reform, we admit him into prayer meeting, and endeavor, by precept and example, to teach him the religion of Christ. The same rule is observed in selecting men for the Sunday School.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL

Has also grown in interest. I find no difficulty in persuading the men to attend the Sunday school. Our school will average about ninety, and, if we could properly care for them, it would be an easy matter to double that number. Their deportment is uniformly good, and I have no cause to complain of misconduct in any one, since I have been connected with the school. Our lessons are necessarily brief, owing to the fact that one hour is as much time as we can devote to the Sunday school without its conflicting with other duties of the day. The exercises consist in Bible lessons, interspersed with lectures and blackboard illustrations and singing.

For aid in the Sunday school I am under many obligations to John R. Snyder, H. V. Hitchcock and T. E. Fultz, all of Michigan City, without whose help we could not have made the school a success.

MEN WHO CAN NOT READ AND WRITE.

Of these there are quite a number, as you will observe from the Warden's report. In the absence of a suitable school room, we have been sorely puzzled to know what method to adopt for their instruction. The present crowded state of the cell house compelling the Warden to lodge two in a cell, we have tried the experiment of having the more advanced teach the beginner, by celling them together, and so far I am happy to say that the result has surpassed our most sanguine expectations. Many who, when they came here, could neither read nor write, can now read quite well, and write a fair business hand.

THE LIBRARY.

Of this I cannot say much that is very encouraging. I found it in a bad condition—the books many of them old, torn and worn-out. The five hundred dollars appropriated by the last Legislature to buy books was judiciously expended, and the books purchased are of a kind well suited to the wants of this class of men. But a thousand dollar library for the use of over five hundred men is not in my judgment sufficient, and ought to be THREE THOUSAND instead of ONE, for the following reasons: First, in consequence of their separation from the outside world, the men seek companionship in the books of the library; and, secondly, men who never would come down to study (outside) will study here, and if we put into their hands a good class of books, it must necessarily result in good; and, third, it gives them employment in their otherwise idle hours.

There is nothing more true than the old adage, "an idle mind is the devil's workshop." Give them no reading matter, no employment of any kind, while locked in their cells, and all kinds of mischief will be concocted, and they will find some means of communicating with each other, and presently insubordination and a refusal to comply with the laws of the institution will be the result. But keep them employed both in and out of the cell, when not at work give them good, interesting reading matter, and in my judgment the officers would find it an easy matter to maintain perfect discipline at all times. To give them all the reading matter they need, we must have books in abundance. I would respectfully suggest to your honorable board that you ask of the next Legislature an appropriation of at least one thousand dollars, to be used in purchasing books, and that they also pass a law setting forth that the money paid as an admittance fee by visitors shall in future be used to replenish the library from year to year. At present the supply of Bibles is sufficient.

THE RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Of the prison are conducted similar to all meetings for religious worship outside. No sectarianism is preached from the pulpit, but the plain unvarnished word of God and nothing more. In my preaching to the men I endeavor to make scripture illustrate scripture, and teach a code of morals in strict accordance with the Gospel of Christ.

In conclusion allow me to thank you, gentlemen, for the uniform courteous treatment, and many kind words of encouragement that I have received from you during our official relationship. Also allow me to make honorable mention of Mr. Chas. Mayne, Warden ; Mr. A. C. Hall, Deputy ; Mr. John H. Bowes, Clerk ; and Mr. John Clarkston, and, in fact, all in charge or connected with the institution. They have all cheerfully seconded and aided me in my labors among the prisoners. And I would also further remark that even the convicts themselves, without a single exception, have shown me the most profound respect in all my labors among them.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

M. S. RAGSDALE,

Moral Instructor.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,

WARDEN'S OFFICE, December 15, 1875.

To the Board of Directors.

GENTLEMEN:—Having succeeded L. S. Shuler Esq., in the office of Warden, on the 15th day of June, 1875, it becomes my duty to account for the latter half of the fiscal year ending this date.

On the 15th day of June the Southwestern Car Company, lessee of all the convict labor, was indebted on account of such labor, as shown on the Clerk's books received from my predecessor, $22,728.85, but denied owing any part thereof, alleging that by reason of breaches of the several contracts, made and suffered by my predecessor in office and his subordinates, damages had been sustained largely in excess of said amount, and that therefore payment thereof would not be made. Under your instructions proceedings were instituted, and are now pending in the Clark Circuit Court, to settle the matter in controversy, the attorneys for the State believing that judgment will be obtained for the whole amount of the claim. From the best attainable information, the Southwestern Car Company is insolvent. Payment of the November labor account has not been, and doubtless will not be made; suspension within a few days is inevitable. Within the ensuing month you will be called upon to find employment for the convicts by the re-leasing of their labor.

By reference to the inventories taken at the time of my assuming charge of the prison, and at this date, it will be seen that upon the same scale of valuations there is an increase in the personal effects of $4,563.69; add increase in book accounts, $650.35; net gain of $5,214.04.

This statement is based on the actual business transactions of the prison, and not upon the cash receipts and disbursements, and shows that if the labor employed were paid for, the institution would be self-sustaining.

The discipline has been very good. Especially during the last four months the convicts have been orderly and cheerful, yielding readily to the restraints imposed upon them, and working with a hearty good will at whatever labor was given them to do. All who manifest the disposition to conform to the rules for their government, receive none but the kindest treatment, but the punishments are swift and certain upon those who can not otherwise be induced to obey the laws of the prison. All have been well clothed, and made as comfortable as was possible in the overcrowded condition of the prison. They have been provided with an abundance of good, wholesome food, cooked and served with great care and due regard to the laws of health.

The Hospital Department has been admirably managed, under the general directions of the prison physician, Dr. W. F. Sherrod. With good nurses and his prompt and skillful treatment, he has in a remarkable degree succeeded in reducing the death rate, and preserving the general good health.

For information in regard to the financial and statistical operations of the prison, I would refer you to the report of the Clerk.

Capt. John Craig, Deputy Warden, H. T. Sage Esq., Clerk, and D. M. Allen Esq., storekeeper, are deserving of special mention as having rendered me very valuable assistance in the general management of the business of the prison.

A. J. HOWARD,

Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT¹

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
JEFFERSONVILLE, December 15th, 1875.

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit for your consideration my annual report of the sanitary condition of the Indiana State Prison South for the year ending December 15th, 1875.

On taking charge of the medical department June 4th, 1875, I found said department in a dilapidated condition. The dispensary was deficient in the essential medicines. The enclosed grounds, and especially those surrounding the cell houses, were a cesspool of filth, owing to the bad condition of the sidewalks, passways, and a want of proper drainage. I am under many obligations to the Warden for the prompt manner in which these evils have been removed. The dispensary has been furnished with every article necessary for the health of the prisoners. The grounds have been greatly improved by metaling and graveling, also the sidewalks and drainage. These changes and improvements are of great sanitary importance as well as convenience to all.

The prevailing diseases during the heated term were intermittents, remittents, and typhoid fevers, some of the latter of a malignant type. My mortuary list is remarkably small, considering the number of cases treated. I have to report four deaths: J. D. Simpson, inflammation of stomach and bowels, July 18th; J. D. Coats, typhoid fever, September 2d; Charles Keller, typhoid fever, October 15th; William Wood, typhoid fever, October 21st.

You will find a tabular statement appended of the diseases treated and the number of prescriptions dispensed. We have at this time five patients in the hospital, all chronic cases.

The health of the prison is good, considering the fact that we have a larger number of convicts than ever before—far exceeding accommodations, consequently they are crowded together in a small space, which must engender an impure atmosphere. No pains, however, have been spared to secure as good ventilation as the cells will admit of. Disinfectants have been used freely, and the most scrupulous cleanliness in both person and clothing. I am pleased to state that the officers of the prison, and especially the Warden, have been ever ready to render me all necessary aid, as well as supply me with every article needed in my department.

Respectfully,

W. F. SHERROD,

Physician.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

The undersigned, unexpectedly to himself and without solicitation on his part, found himself, during the first week in June last, appointed Moral Instructor in the Indiana State Prison South. He entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office on the 15th of that month. Since that time he has, in his humble way, endeavored to discharge his duties to the best of his ability. He has been in his place on every Sunday, save one, when he found a substitute, both in the Sunday School and in the public service in the Chapel. As the Warden has thought best to admit only about one-half of those desiring to attend the Sunday School on any one Sunday, it has seemed small; but still this has its advantages, as there is less noise, greater security and devotion to the duties of the hour.

The public service, which is limited to one hour, is generally attended by all, indeed, except a few who are detailed for hospital, cell-house, and kitchen duty; and the attention to the duties and privileges of this service is remarkably good on the part of the convicts. The old organ has been repaired, an organist and a few tune books picked up, and a company of twenty of the convicts enrolled and drilled as a choir. Their singing is hearty and devout, as also are their responses in the service. In fact it has been remarked by intelligent visitors that no congregation in the land excels this of the prison in heartiness, earnestness, propriety and decorum. The singing, especially, is much noticed and commended. A new and better organ is much needed. So, also, are more tune books.

For the Sunday School at least three hundred more Bibles and Testaments are needed immediately. Lesson leaves, of the international series, are used and much liked. We need a greater supply of them.

For the library at least five hundred volumes of suitable books should be provided at an early day. All the miscellaneous books and those much sought after are old and dirty, and many of them going to pieces, notwithstanding much time and labor has been given to covering them and patching them up. A fresh supply of Spellers and First Readers was ordered a few weeks ago. More are still needed. So also are arithmetics and slates and pencils. These articles, with suitable instruction books it is suggested, should be granted to the prisoners to take to and keep in their cells, or at the head of their bunks, with a Bible or a Testament. These should form part of the furniture of every cell or bunk, and should be scrupulously kept in their proper places by those who have charge of the cell-houses.

The Chapel walls and ceiling, and floor and windows are to be thoroughly cleaned and brightened up. And the stairs leading to the Chapel are to be reconstructed and made easier of ascent. A railing has been placed around the old platform, and the space within will be carpeted, while a lecturn, holding the Holy Bible, and a communion table, have been set up. Some very beautiful scriptural mottoes adorn the walls. Thus the Chapel is being made an attractive and pleasant place of worship, as becomes its holy uses and associations.

The undersigned has visited the hospital once every day, and when there was serious sickness within it, twice or thrice a day. Four have died. The bodies of three of these have been buried in the little graveyard attached to the prison, while one was taken away by the friends of the deceased.

There is a good religious influence pervading the minds and hearts of many of the convicts. May this influence deepen and spread as time goes on. Fourteen have made a profession of the faith of Christ and been received into the congregation of Christ's flock. Messrs. Small and Eddy, and Mrs. Martin and Miss Kemp still kindly assist us in the Sunday School.

Respectfully submitted,

J. L. GAY.
